State Probe Focuses on Criminals

Waterfront Infiltration Given Study by Crime Group — Warwick Is Witness

Woman Is Heard

Miss Kennedy Testifies on Gratuities Paid by Company

New York, Dec. 4 (AP) — The New York State Crime Commission sought to show today how known criminals infiltrate the big shipping industry of New York's enormous waterfront.

The commission has lifted the lid on crime and racketeering which reportedly milks the city's seven-billion-dollar-a-year shipping industry of 350 millions annually.

On the witness stand it placed Andrew D. Warwick, president of T. Hogan and Sons, contracting stevedores. Partially from testimony he gave the commission in closed session earlier and partially from questioning today the commission learned from Warwick:

Two of his firm's hiring supervisors had issued letters "to whom it may concern" under letterheads of the United States lines that criminals in jail at the time would be reemployed "by the above company" when they got out of prison.

Losses Are Huge

It has been estimated the industry's annual losses run to 350 millions because of such things as pilfering, smuggling, and pay kickbacks by longshoremen to their union bosses.

An opening day's witness was white-haired Ruth M. Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the stevedoring firm of Daniels and Kennedy, Inc. Miss Kennedy testified that gratuities are "an established practice in the business."

The witness said her firm, in five years, paid $7,500 to Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association.

In 1948, Miss Kennedy testified, checks were drawn to fictitious persons and the money was turned over to dock union officials.

"In 1948," she said, "we had some labor trouble and we thought it would be easier for the people getting the money to hide their identity."

'Gratuities Only'

Miss Kennedy's nephew, James C. Kennedy, president of her firm, also testified the payments were "gratuities only."

He was asked: "Were they to influence union officials and to prevent quickie strikes and other troubles?"

"If they prevented strikes, that

Congress Is Reviewing Allegation

Subcommittee Requests Information Based on Grand Jury Charges of Interference

Coe Has No Report

Fired Monetary Aide Is Silent at His Home in Virginia

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—A congressional inquiry was under way today into alleged efforts by the State and Justice Departments to delay or tone down a federal grand jury charge of communism in the United Nations.

The investigation was launched by a House judiciary subcommittee less than 24 hours after juror Max Zimmerman accused the government agencies of teaming up to interfere with its sharply-worded presentment.

Chairman Chelf (D.-Ky.) and Rep. Keating (R.-N. Y.) said "serious charges of delay, interference and hampering" had been leveled against the Justice and State Departments.

"Allegations indicate that, two months ago, a 'certain faction' within the Justice Department attempted to have the grand jury drop its inquiry into Communist activities in the United Nations," the lawmakers announced, adding:

Will Check Charges

"These charges will be thoroughly and completely explored by the subcommittee staff and investigation is presently under way, both in New York and Washington, to determine the full facts.

The State Department denied that it had anything to do with any such attempts.

And U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane was quoted by the New York Herald-Tribune as saying he had checked the presentment at the request of the grand jury. He said Att.-Gen. McGranery wanted "to satisfy himself on the legal points."

The International Monetary Fund, meanwhile, disclosed that its secretary has been fired after refusing to tell a Senate internal securities subcommittee whether he was ever a Communist or a wartime spy.

Coe Has No Comment

The secretary, Frank Coe, said at his Arlington, Va., home that he did not "care to comment." He denied that he was a Communist in sworn testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee in 1948.

Coe has been secretary of the fund, which has contractual arrangements with the UN, but is not a part of it, since it was set up in 1946 to stabilize currencies

Taft Senate Chances As Leader Seen Ruined

Couple Returned To Face Charges of Abandoning Child

Walter Galley, Woman Are Arrested After Finishing Term in Chicago

Walter Galley, 30, and Barbara Jolin, 23, were returned to Ulster county on Wednesday afternoon to face charges that they abandoned their six-months-old child, Shirley, in the town of Gardiner more than a year and a half ago.

Arrested in Chicago as they were discharged from the house of correction after serving a year for abandoning another baby, the two will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Fred C. Woolsey on charges of violation of Section 481 of the Penal Law, abandonment of a child.

They were brought here by Under Sheriff Clayton W. Vredenburgh, Sgt. Lynn Baker of Highland state police BCI, and Matron Mabel O'Reilly, after they had waived extradition.

Began in 1951

Investigation began about May 21, 1951, when a six-month-old baby girl was found on the lawn behind a fence at a residence near Gardiner.

State police and the sheriff's office announced shortly afterward that the girl had been identified as Shirley Jolin. The girl, apparently healthy, has been in charge of the Ulster County Welfare Department since that time.

The couple, then using the names Mr. and Mrs. David Jolin, sold their automobile and authorities retracing their route said they boarded a bus, first for Newburgh. Their whereabouts then remained unknown until late in December, 1951, when they were located in Chicago and were arrested by police of that city.

Used Name of Johnson

Police said they used the name Johnson in Chicago, and had abandoned a three-day-old child in that

Draft of Bridges Viewed Likely for Another Term

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Two Senate Republicans were in disagreement today on whether Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio ruined his chances for GOP Senate floor leader by his attack on President-elect Eisenhower's choice for secretary of labor.

One Republican lawmaker, a staunch Taft backer who asked not to be quoted by name, foresaw as a result the "draft" of Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, the present floor leader, for another term.

But another Taft supporter, also requesting anonymity, said an organized effort would be made to elect Taft to the post. He would not predict the outcome, but said the drive would be stopped only if Taft removed himself from consideration.

Word Is Spread

Bridges spread word soon after the Nov. 4 election that he wanted to pass the leadership job to other hands and take over the less burdensome duties of temporary president of the Senate. This would give him more time for the powerful appropriations committee, which he is slated to head under the new Congress.

In a case of a dispute over his successor, however, Bridges has been regarded as available for another term as floor leader.

The New York Herald Tribune reported today that "Sen. Bridges has now changed his mind and is now known to be willing to continue in this post to promote party harmony."

Available for Post

Taft has declared he is available for the post. His only avowed rival is Sen. William Knowland of California, who has said he is in the race against anybody except Bridges.

Too few senators were here—and too chary of commenting—to give a clear picture of the likely upshot of Taft's denunciation of Eisenhower's selection of Martin P. Durkin of Chicago to the labor post in the new cabinet.

Taft himself, in a telephone interview yesterday, said the effects of his action on the Republican Party as a whole air "matters that haven't arisen yet."

In Touch With Senators

He said he has been in touch with some GOP senators but declined to say whether they indicated support for his position. He said he is getting reaction from all over the country, but parried questions about whether it was favorable or critical reaction.

Taft also said he has been in contact with Eisenhower's headquarters since his Tuesday statement, but did not say with whom he spoke or what was said.

He made one thing clear: His criticism was no sudden outburst. He said he "took great care" in writing his statement, and believes "it speaks for itself."

His Recommendations

Taft, disclosing he first heard of Durkin's appointment in a news broadcast, said his own recommendations for the post had been Clarence E. Manion, dean of the law school of Notre Dame University, and John A. Danaher, former senator from Connecticut.

Police Turn Back March on Parliament

Bonn, Germany, Dec. 4 (AP) — Reinforced police today stopped and turned back a march on the federal parliament by several hundred organized Communist demonstrators who sought to invade the House to disrupt final debate on Bonn's treaties to rearm in alliance with the West.

The marchers had reached the entrance to the Parliament office building when police rushed up to push them back.

However, some of the demonstrators got into the building with passes given them by Communist members of Parliament. Plainclothes police began a hunt for these to prevent them entering the legislative chamber.

Helicopter System Including Kingston Possibility in 1955

Prediction Is Made at Luncheon for Writers on Aviation

The helicopter age, once talked of as an early post-World War 2 possibility, may be with us in 1955, with Kingston listed as a port on the first inter-city system, a New York source said yesterday.

Fred M. Glass, director of aviation of the Port of New York Authority, predicted the service at a luncheon meeting of the Aviation Writers Association at the Biltmore Hotel, New York.

The service would link with New York city its suburban sections and area communities extending upstate as far as Ithaca, according to maps published in the New York Times today.

Will Carry Cargo

The service, Glass said, will fly more than 6,000,000 passengers, 40,500,000 pounds of mail and 6,500,000 pounds of cargo in and out of Manhattan annually by 1975.

Glass said his estimates are based on a $70,000 study made for the authority by transportation consultants.

The plan also calls for a type of service that would shuttle passengers from one to another of New York's three major commercial airports. This, called Aerocab, may start in 1953 or in 1954, Glass said.

The second type, intercity, flights, it is expected, will start between 1955 and 1958, and should grow steadily until 1970.

Kingston Included

This is the one that would reach Kingston. One leg as currently mapped extends up the Hudson Valley, with a first stop at Poughkeepsie. This city is next, with Albany third, Troy next and the other two are Schenectady and Saratoga.

Other legs extend out through Connecticut, Long Island and New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and as far south as Washington, D. C. A

Cox Has No Statement On Decision

Truman Said He Gave Wage Boost as Help to Eisenhower; Assure Year of Peace

Miners Are Joyous

One District President Says Men Were 'Itchy' Over Delays

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—President Truman's wage board chairman quit his job today in protest over the President's approval of an extra wage boost for coal miners above and beyond the recommendations of all top defense officials.

Archibald Cox, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board, waited only overnight to resign. He made no formal statement, but told a reporter the White House might have something to say this afternoon. The Truman action, while counter to recommendations of his stabilization lieutenants, did assure a year of peace in the coal mines.

The President yesterday approved the full $1.90 daily wage increase for John L. Lewis' 375,000 soft coal miners because, he said, he does not want President-elect Eisenhower to have a coal strike crisis on his hands when he takes office.

Averted Strike

The move averted an almost certain strike, but it opened the door to a boost in coal prices to consumers and touched off unrest among public members of the Wage Stabilization Board.

WSB Chairman Cox, a 40-year-old Harvard law professor, has been in office for four months. He succeeded Nathan P. Feinsinger, whose actions in the steel case last summer resulted in Congress passing a law restricting the powers of the WSB.

Industry members of the WSB said through a spokesman they would boycott all board meetings until they have conferred on the questions raised by Truman's action. Herbert Kelley, executive assistant to the seven industry members told newsmen they would get together as soon as possible, possibly tomorrow.

The WSB had scheduled a full board meeting today.

One WSB member said Truman's decision would have a "terrific and disappointing effect" on unions which in the past have accepted WSB reductions and now have wage cases pending before the board.

Miners are Jubilant

Coal miners themselves—whose basic minimum daily wage is boosted to $18.25—were reportedly jubilant. One top United Mine Worker official at Pittsburgh said the move "undoubtedly averted a strike." John Busarello, president of UMW District No. 5, said his men had been getting "itchy" over delays.

Lewis had negotiated the $1.90 increase with industry, but the WSB had cut this to $1.50 on the grounds that any more would "irreparably damage" the stabilization program.

Lewis and Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, appealed the WSB decision to Economic Stablizer Roger Putnam.

Refuses to Overrule

But Putnam refused to overrule his board. And Defense Mobilizer Henry H. Fowler also refused to change the WSB decision. That left it up to the President—and his inner circle of advisers.

Truman's decision to grant the full $1.90, announced in the form of a letter to Putnam, said the "probable consequences" of a

Cafeteria Near Completion; Field House Work Lagging

Free Parking Lot Set for Weekend

North Front Street Area Will Hold 1,500 Autos for All-Day Places

The new 1,500 car parking area off North Front street which has been under construction by the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association for the convenience and free use of the shopping public, is completed and will be ready this weekend.

Lights have been erected and there will be an attendant at the parking area.

Entrance to the area is either through Converse street, off North Front street, opposite Green street or by way of Fair street extension. In order to make the area more accessible Converse street has been widened and paved.

County to Keep Lot

The association has given up the idea of taking over the present John street parking area for the trial period ending January first because of the short period which the association would have the lot under control from the county. Difficulties in taking over the area from the county were so numerous that the association decided not to attempt it at this time and the county will continue to operate the parking area off John street at the rear of the court house.

James J. Abernethy, attorney for the association, found the necessary arrangements which would be required by the association were too great to make the short period of operation feasible and the three weeks trial period has been abandoned.

Appeal to Parkers

However, the local merchants have issued an appeal to all-day parkers, store employes and others to use the new area off North Front street and grant the use of the nearby John street parking lot to short time parking and Christmas shoppers who can limit their parking to shorter periods.

Would Lead Again

Concord, N. H., Dec. 4 (AP)—A source close to Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.) today said bridges has "never closed the door" on serving another term as floor leader of the Senate. The source said that although Bridges, New Hampshire's senior senator, desired to pass up the floor leadership in the next session, he would be willing to take it in the interest of "party harmony and unity in the Senate."

Lack of Manpower One of Reasons, Weather Also Is Factor, Is Report

Work on the new high school cafeteria has progressed to the point where it will be available for use next Monday and the K.H.S. Athletic Association banquet, at which Walter N. (Red) Barber will be the speaker, will be held in the new cafeteria next Thursday evening, December 11, at 6 o'clock.

However, work on the new field house is not progressing favorably and when the building will be entirely enclosed remains to be seen. Trustee Herzog for the Building committee told the board at its meeting Wednesday evening, that work was being done on the roof but it has been slowed down due to lack of manpower and the weather and it was difficult to predict any opening date.

Would Use Building

Members of the Kingston Mendelssohn Club are more optimistic over the prospects and asked permission for use of the new field house for a mass concert by clubs of the Mohawk and Hudson river valleys next May 23. It is anticipated there will be a mass chorus of some 300 voices. The request was granted and also permission was granted for use of the high school cafeteria that evening by the club.

For some time there has been under consideration the re-organization of safety patrols in the vicinity of schools whereby designated pupils would act as patrol guides to assist in accident prevention adjacent to schools. The board voted authority to principals of the schools to organize safety patrols where they felt such a service might be effective and aid in greater safety to pupils.

The board voted to continue the $3 an hour rate of pay to teachers serving in Adult Education. This action was taken after a survey had been made of 58 schools in the state and it was found that 29 of them were paying $3 an hour. Some schools pay as low as $2 an hour and one pays up to $5 an hour. Many of them operate only two hours an evening while Kingston operated for three hours with a resulting pay of $9.

A communication was received from the State Education Department, Bureau of Industrial Education, relative to the fine coop-

Town of Ulster Groups Asks City Annex School District

A delegation from Town of Ulster School District No. 8 met with the Kingston Board of Education Wednesday evening prior to the business meeting and asked the board to consider annexation of the town of Ulster school district to the city school system.

Present from the town of Ulster school district was Supervisor Percy Bush, Trustee Arthur Vernooy, Lloyd R. LeFever, William Havig, Daniel Morehouse, who is president of the Town of Ulster Board of Cooperative Services, and District Superintendent Clarence Johnston.

The committee presented their problem of mounting school taxes and asked the Kingston board to consider some plan which would relieve them of increasing school costs.

One suggestion was that the city annex the No. 8 town district to the city's school system or give some other possible relief. The matter of extending the Kingston school system to District No. 8, town of Ulster, through annexation was advanced several months ago.

The committee asked the board to study the feasibility of annexing their district and suggested that the matter be further discussed at some future date. If the proposal to annex the district could not be worked out the committee asked some other solution of the problem.

It was suggested that in case the city could not include District No. 8 into the city's school system, then it might be necessary to either seek a plan of consolidation or possibly erect a school building of their own for the district. The three plans have been under advisement for some time, a spokesman said.

The costs of building a district school has been given consideration and the committee has made a study of consolidation.

After some discussion the matter was left open with the idea further discussion and consideration being given the matter at a later meeting with the Kingston Board of Education.

At present there are 327 pupils from District No. 8, town of Ulster attending the city's schools from kindergarten through eighth grade and there are 97 pupils attending high school.

'But First a Word About...'

And in Introducing Preacher It Was About Beer

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Congress has been told that beer and cigarette commercials are so numerous on radio and television they even appear at times on church programs.

Paul C. Mitchell, a science teacher who heads the Committee for Peace and Social Action at the First Methodist Church in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., told a House Commerce subcommittee yesterday the commercials come "at all hours, day and night, including the Sabbath, regardless of the audience, and without respite."

"The other morning in New York," Mitchell said, "Bill Leonard in introducing Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, the famous preacher and Christian author, stopped to say, " 'But first a word about Knickerbocker Beer.' "

Mitchell said he thinks a "children's hour" should be set aside each day on radio and television from which all beer and cigarette advertising would be barred.

The House group, which is looking into so-called offensive matter on the air waves, was also told by a radio station operator that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) should exercise more control over the content of network programs.

Gordon P. Brown, owner of WSAY in Rochester, N. Y., said the FCC now enforces its rules by refusing to renew a station's license, although most of the material objected to appeared on network programs.

Frederick F. Clair, manager of WHYU, Newport News, Va., sent a letter to the committee saying the public—and not congressional legislators—should be the judge of what should be deleted from programs.

Averted Strike

The move averted an almost certain strike, but it opened the door to a boost in coal prices to consumers and touched off unrest among public members of the Wage Stabilization Board.

WSB Chairman Cox, a 40-year-old Harvard law professor, has been in office for four months. He succeeded Nathan P. Feinsinger, whose actions in the steel case last summer resulted in Congress passing a law restricting the powers of the WSB.

Industry members of the WSB said through a spokesman they would boycott all board meetings until they have conferred on the questions raised by Truman's action. Herbert Kelley, executive assistant to the seven industry members told newsmen they would get together as soon as possible, possibly tomorrow.

The WSB had scheduled a full board meeting today.

One WSB member said Truman's decision would have a "terrific and disappointing effect" on unions which in the past have accepted WSB reductions and now have wage cases pending before the board.

Miners are Jubilant

Coal miners themselves—whose basic minimum daily wage is boosted to $18.25—were reportedly jubilant. One top United Mine Worker official at Pittsburgh said the move "undoubtedly averted a strike." John Busarello, president of UMW District No. 5, said his men had been getting "itchy" over delays.

Lewis had negotiated the $1.90 increase with industry, but the WSB had cut this to $1.50 on the grounds that any more would "irreparably damage" the stabilization program.

Lewis and Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, appealed the WSB decision to Economic Stablizer Roger Putnam.

Refuses to Overrule

But Putnam refused to overrule his board. And Defense Mobilizer Henry H. Fowler also refused to change the WSB decision. That left it up to the President—and his inner circle of advisers.

Truman's decision to grant the full $1.90, announced in the form of a letter to Putnam, said the "probable consequences" of a

North Front Street Area Will Hold 1,500 Autos for All-Day Places

The new 1,500 car parking area off North Front street which has been under construction by the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association for the convenience and free use of the shopping public, is completed and will be ready this weekend.

Lights have been erected and there will be an attendant at the parking area.

Entrance to the area is either through Converse street, off North Front street, opposite Green street or by way of Fair street extension. In order to make the area more accessible Converse street has been widened and paved.

County to Keep Lot

The association has given up the idea of taking over the present John street parking area for the trial period ending January first because of the short period which the association would have the lot under control from the county. Difficulties in taking over the area from the county were so numerous that the association decided not to attempt it at this time and the county will continue to operate the parking area off John street at the rear of the court house.

James J. Abernethy, attorney for the association, found the necessary arrangements which would be required by the association were too great to make the short period of operation feasible and the three weeks trial period has been abandoned.

Appeal to Parkers

However, the local merchants have issued an appeal to all-day parkers, store employes and others to use the new area off North Front street and grant the use of the nearby John street parking lot to short time parking and Christmas shoppers who can limit their parking to shorter periods.

Would Lead Again

Concord, N. H., Dec. 4 (AP)—A source close to Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.) today said bridges has "never closed the door" on serving another term as floor leader of the Senate. The source said that although Bridges, New Hampshire's senior senator, desired to pass up the floor leadership in the next session, he would be willing to take it in the interest of "party harmony and unity in the Senate."

Lack of Manpower One of Reasons, Weather Also Is Factor, Is Report

Work on the new high school cafeteria has progressed to the point where it will be available for use next Monday and the K.H.S. Athletic Association banquet, at which Walter N. (Red) Barber will be the speaker, will be held in the new cafeteria next Thursday evening, December 11, at 6 o'clock.

However, work on the new field house is not progressing favorably and when the building will be entirely enclosed remains to be seen. Trustee Herzog for the Building committee told the board at its meeting Wednesday evening, that work was being done on the roof but it has been slowed down due to lack of manpower and the weather and it was difficult to predict any opening date.

Would Use Building

Members of the Kingston Mendelssohn Club are more optimistic over the prospects and asked permission for use of the new field house for a mass concert by clubs of the Mohawk and Hudson river valleys next May 23. It is anticipated there will be a mass chorus of some 300 voices. The request was granted and also permission was granted for use of the high school cafeteria that evening by the club.

For some time there has been under consideration the re-organization of safety patrols in the vicinity of schools whereby designated pupils would act as patrol guides to assist in accident prevention adjacent to schools. The board voted authority to principals of the schools to organize safety patrols where they felt such a service might be effective and aid in greater safety to pupils.

The board voted to continue the $3 an hour rate of pay to teachers serving in Adult Education. This action was taken after a survey had been made of 58 schools in the state and it was found that 29 of them were paying $3 an hour. Some schools pay as low as $2 an hour and one pays up to $5 an hour. Many of them operate only two hours an evening while Kingston operated for three hours with a resulting pay of $9.

A communication was received from the State Education Department, Bureau of Industrial Education, relative to the fine coop-

Town of Ulster Groups Asks City Annex School District

A delegation from Town of Ulster School District No. 8 met with the Kingston Board of Education Wednesday evening prior to the business meeting and asked the board to consider annexation of the town of Ulster school district to the city school system.

Present from the town of Ulster school district was Supervisor Percy Bush, Trustee Arthur Vernooy, Lloyd R. LeFever, William Havig, Daniel Morehouse, who is president of the Town of Ulster Board of Cooperative Services, and District Superintendent Clarence Johnston.

The committee presented their problem of mounting school taxes and asked the Kingston board to consider some plan which would relieve them of increasing school costs.

One suggestion was that the city annex the No. 8 town district to the city's school system or give some other possible relief. The matter of extending the Kingston school system to District No. 8, town of Ulster, through annexation was advanced several months ago.

The committee asked the board to study the feasibility of annexing their district and suggested that the matter be further discussed at some future date. If the proposal to annex the district could not be worked out the committee asked some other solution of the problem.

It was suggested that in case the city could not include District No. 8 into the city's school system, then it might be necessary to either seek a plan of consolidation or possibly erect a school building of their own for the district. The three plans have been under advisement for some time, a spokesman said.

The costs of building a district school has been given consideration and the committee has made a study of consolidation.

After some discussion the matter was left open with the idea further discussion and consideration being given the matter at a later meeting with the Kingston Board of Education.

At present there are 327 pupils from District No. 8, town of Ulster attending the city's schools from kindergarten through eighth grade and there are 97 pupils attending high school.

Kids Are Same World Over

Four small Korean youngsters look through an aperture in a wall surrounding the South Korean capitol grounds to watch the preparations being made within for the expected visit of President-elect Eisenhower. Note Ike welcome sign posted on wall. Only police, soldiers and government officials were permitted to move freely around inside.

'But First a Word About...'

And in Introducing Preacher It Was About Beer

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Congress has been told that beer and cigarette commercials are so numerous on radio and television they even appear at times on church programs.

Paul C. Mitchell, a science teacher who heads the Committee for Peace and Social Action at the First Methodist Church in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., told a House Commerce subcommittee yesterday the commercials come "at all hours, day and night, including the Sabbath, regardless of the audience, and without respite."

"The other morning in New York," Mitchell said, "Bill Leonard in introducing Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, the famous preacher and Christian author, stopped to say, "'But first a word about Knickerbocker Beer.'"

Mitchell said he thinks a "children's hour" should be set aside each day on radio and television from which all beer and cigarette advertising would be barred.

The House group, which is looking into so-called offensive matter on the air waves, was also told by a radio station operator that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) should exercise more control over the content of network programs.

Gordon P. Brown, owner of WSAY in Rochester, N. Y., said the FCC now enforces its rules by refusing to renew a station's license, although most of the material objected to appeared on network programs.

Frederick F. Clair, manager of WHYU, Newport News, Va., sent a letter to the committee saying the public—and not congressional legislators—should be the judge of what should be deleted from programs.

Will Marry in New York

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—A 60-year-old widow arrived from Europe today to marry the man she met in a Shanghai ghetto when both were war refugees. Mrs. Jetti Feldstein was tearfully happy when she was greeted aboard the liner Gripsholm by Richard David, 63, a German refugee who now is a bookmaker in Baltimore, Md. David proposed by mail last August while Mrs. Feldstein was in a Stockholm refugee camp. They plan to be married after next February. Meantime, Mrs. Feldstein will visit with a cousin, Muni Diringer, of Mount Vernon. David lives at 2323 Callow avenue, Baltimore.

Rotary Advances Peace in World, Governor Reports

Rotary Clubs throughout the world with its program for development of fellowship and understanding in the community and the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace are promoting the cause of peace today, Samuel J. Hickman of Carmel, governor of the 255th District of Rotary International, reported to the local service club Wednesday.

Today there are Rotary Clubs in 70 different countries and geographical regions throughout the world with a membership of some 300,000 business and professional men in 6,000 clubs. These Rotarians of diverse nationalities and races are working together through correspondence, personal contacts at Rotary International Conventions and in their travels and through study of the history, economy and culture of other countries for the securing of peace in the world, he asserted.

The district governor paid tribute to Paul P. Harris, who organized the first club in Chicago shortly after the turn of the century.

Preceding the luncheon-meeting, the district governor met with chairmen of the various local committees.

Among the guests was Thomas C. Perry, retired superintendent of schools in the first supervisory district of Greene county, who recently was honored by the Catskill Rotary Club on completion of 25 years in the club. A native of Ulster county, he was born Jan. 18, 1867 in Olive Bridge.

31 Building Permits Issued in November

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy issued 31 building permits last month at a total estimated cost of $86,465.

This was $28,214 less than the total of $114,679 in October when 82 permits were issued.

Seven permits for dwellings were issued last month at an estimated cost of $60,800. Three permits were issued for private garages at $1,185 and one for a garage and breezeway at $1,500.

Four permits were issued for residential alterations, additions and repairs at $6,500, and two for the same purposes on non-residential structures at $7,000. The chief issued 14 permits for oil tanks and burners at $9,480.

Social Security Law Provisions

George J. Johnson, manager of the Kingston, New York, Social Security Office, submits the following article on the provisions of the new Social Security Law:

One of the questions most often asked me as I travel about Ulster county is, "How do I determine the amount of my Social Security Benefit?"

The 1952 Amendments to the Social Security Act change the "New Method" and the "Old Method" for estimating your own and your family's monthly benefits (in case of retirement or death) as described on pages 15 through 17 of Booklet 35, "Your New Social Security." These changes became effective in September 1952.

Revised 'New Method'

Add your wages and self-employment income covered by the law after 1950 (not over $3600 for any one year).

Divide by the number of months after 1950. The average cannot be more than $300 per month.

Take 55 per cent of the first $100 or your average monthly wage.

Add 15 per cent of the remainder up to $200.

The total is your old-age insurance amount.

Note: This revised "New Method" provides increases up to $5 per person above the level of benefits established in the 1950 amendments.

Revised 'Old Method'

Add your earnings covered by Social Security after 1936 (not over $3000 for any one year through 1950; not over $3600 for any year after 1950).

Divide by the number of months after 1936. The average cannot be more than $250 per month.

Take 40 per cent of the first $50 of the average earnings.

Add 10 per cent of the remainder to get the basic amount.

This basic amount is increased by 1 per cent for each year before 1951 in which earnings were $200 or more.

This gives your primary insurance benefit under the old law.

Old Retirement Payment	New Retirement Payment
$10.00	$25.00
15.00	35.00
20.00	42.00
25.00	52.40
30.00	60.80
35.00	66.60
40.00	72.00
45.00	77.10

This new table provides an increase of 12½ per cent but not less than $5 above the level of benefits contained in a similar table in the 1950 amendments to the law.

The lowest payment to be made after September 1952 to any retired worker will be $25 a month and retirement payments will range up to $85 a month. The old maximum family payments of $150 a month have been increased to $168.75. The total family benefits, however, cannot exceed 80 per cent of the worker's average monthly wage. For further information, write or call at your local Social Security Office, Room 206, Central Post Office Building, Broadway, Kingston.

She'll Solve Problem

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 3 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Giles Chumney are the parents of twins—born on different days. The little girl greeted the world at 11:47 Monday night. Her brother lagged along until 12:02 yesterday morning. You can see right off what a problem that presents when they celebrate their birthdays. But Mrs. Chumney quickly solved it; "I'll start their birthday party a little before midnight, to get my daughter in, and continue through for my boy."

Washington, D. C., has one street named Fighting Alley and another called Donnybrook Lane.

Indian Movie in Arabic

Bombay (AP) — The first Indian talking picture to be produced in Arabic will soon go on the sets at India's "Little Hollywood" here. The film will portray a poignant incident in the colorful court life of Akbar, whose 16th century empire extended from Kabul to the Deccan area of South India.

Social Security Law Provisions

George J. Johnson, manager of the Kingston, New York, Social Security Office, submits the following article on the provisions of the new Social Security Law:

One of the questions most often asked me as I travel about Ulster county is, "How do I determine the amount of my Social Security Benefit?"

The 1952 Amendments to the Social Security Act change the "New Method" and the "Old Method" for estimating your own and your family's monthly benefits (in case of retirement or death) as described on pages 15 through 17 of Booklet 35, "Your New Social Security." These changes became effective in September 1952.

Revised 'New Method'

Add your wages and self-employment income covered by the law after 1950 (not over $3600 for any one year).

Divide by the number of months after 1950. The average cannot be more than $300 per month.

Take 55 per cent of the first $100 or your average monthly wage.

Add 15 per cent of the remainder up to $200.

The total is your old-age insurance amount.

Revised 'Old Method'

Add your earnings covered by Social Security after 1936 (not over $3000 for any one year through 1950; not over $3600 for any year after 1950).

Divide by the number of months after 1936. The average cannot be more than $250 per month.

Take 40 per cent of the first $50 of the average earnings.

Add 10 per cent of the remainder to get the basic amount.

This basic amount is increased by 1 per cent for each year before 1951 in which earnings were $200 or more.

This gives your primary insurance benefit under the old law.

Old Retirement Payment	New Retirement Payment
$10.00	$25.00
15.00	35.00
20.00	42.00
25.00	52.40
30.00	60.80
35.00	66.60
40.00	72.00
45.00	77.10

This new table provides an increase of 12½ per cent but not less than $5 above the level of benefits contained in a similar table in the 1950 amendments to the law.

The lowest payment to be made after September 1952 to any retired worker will be $25 a month and retirement payments will range up to $85 a month. The old maximum family payments of $150 a month have been increased to $168.75. The total family benefits, however, cannot exceed 80 per cent of the worker's average monthly wage. NOT ENOUGH RICH PEOPLE

If you're still gullible enough to believe that we can pay most or even a substantial part of the incredible cost of government by "soaking the rich," some facts that Senator Walter George presented in a Look magazine article will come as a rude awakener.

If Congress confiscated all taxable income over $100,000, by imposing a flat 100 per cent at that level, the amount of additional revenue would be sufficient to operate the Federal government for four hours.

If all taxable income over $26,000 were confiscated, the yield would run the government for three days.

If everything above $10,000 was taken in toto by the tax collector, it would pay the government's bills for 16 days.

Finally, if Congress shot the works by imposing a 100 per cent tax on all income above $8,000, the additional revenue would keep the government going for 22 days.

This being true, who must pay the great bulk of the government's spending—and who must pay almost all of future tax increases if they come? The answer is, people of small and moderate means—the people who work for wages and modest salaries, the people who have little businesses, the people who represent the majority of America's population and are the backbone of America's strength.

They must pay it for the simple reason that no one else can. There just aren't enough "rich" to make a dent in the spending!

SCAPEGOATS FOR HIRE

From long experience with Communist doings, we no longer look at espionage and treason trials and ask, "What has this latest batch of spies been up to?" We know the spies are manufactured to fit the occasion, and the only question worth pressing is what the occasion is.

In other words, what is it that the Reds are trying to excuse? What do they need a fresh crop of scapegoats for?

The current Czech treason trials, progressing very nicely through a series of neat, orderly, automatic confessions, apparently have their root in the failure of Prime Minister Gottwald's Red government to fulfill promised war orders for the Soviet Union, and in acute food and fuel shortages. Since failures of this kind simply don't happen in well-regulated Communist families, it is obvious that some very wicked people, spurred on by foreign spies, must be responsible for the whole mess.

In Communist territory, the wicked persons are always found, or rather, manufactured. By processes of torture we now understand well, men of either high or low station are actually altered in personality until they fit the desired psychological pattern and are willing to utter the exact words of the Communist script.

Want a scapegoat? Just knock on any Red headquarters door from Bucharest to Moscow, and inquire within.

FITTING AND PROPER ACTION

The federal parole board which denied a parole to Alger Hiss, the former State Department official convicted of lying about his Communist associations, presumably felt that the gravity of his offense precluded serious consideration of his plea.

The board chairman announced that the unanimous board action followed a careful study of the official record of the Hiss case. This included a report written by the chairman after a personal hearing he granted to Hiss some days ago.

The board might well have concluded that Hiss should serve as an example to other men of similar background and training who might be tempted, as he apparently was, to play with the fate of nations by giving away his country's secrets. This is no matter to be tossed off lightly with a brief two years in prison.

Hiss, of course, still maintains his innocence and declares he will be vindicated. There is always that remote chance. But as the official record so plainly shows, a good part of his behavior before and during his two trials does not fit the pattern of an innocent man. He has a great deal of explaining to do.

Meanwhile, it is proper that he should have been denied parole. The element of doubt in his case is not so great that he ought to have its benefits.

'These Days'

AN UNWANTED DIPLOMAT

Dr. Emil Weil is the Hungarian Minister to the United States. He lives in our country with extra-territorial privileges. He is entitled to travel anywhere he chooses; he can observe conditions and report back to his government in a secret diplomatic pouch. He is not subject to the restrictions of our law. These are the rights of every diplomat in all countries.

However, before any envoy comes to the United States, his government must have asked the State Department whether he is acceptable to our country; the State Department must have approved Weil or he would not have come.

This Dr. Emil Weil was in charge of the X-ray department of a hospital maintained in Budapest by a large industrial firm. Before World War II he was sentenced to seven years imprisonment for underground Communist activities. After the siege of Budapest and the Russian occupation he was entrusted by the Russians with a Communist propaganda campaign among the doctors and the medical staff of hospitals in Hungary. He became head of the "Medical Council," an organization of almost unlimited power, and used this organization to spread Marxism and a pro-Russian attitude among the Hungarian doctors. Intimidation and threats were his chief weapons. He prevented physicians of whom he disapproved from being given higher positions in hospitals or the government service, summoning the political police to arrest or intern the doctor. He was Secretary-General of the Hungarian Sanitary Workers Trade Union. He created such an atmosphere of terror that the intimidated doctors were compelled to give in to him unless they wanted to lose their jobs.

All non-Communist experts were dismissed from the Ministry of Public Welfare—an organization under complete Communist control—and their places were filled with inexperienced Communists recommended by Weil. There were no drugs, bandages or instruments in Hungary, because the Russians seized all that was left behind by the Germans. When a donation of drugs and medical instruments finally arrived from America, the Ministry of Public Welfare was induced by Weil to demand participation in their distribution, diverting the gift to Communist propaganda.

Weil has been accused of getting the Minister of Public Welfare, Mrs. Anna Ratko, who used to be a textile worker, and who was appointed a cabinet minister with his assistance, to say: "The Hungarian doctors will have to detach themselves from Western medical science which is falsified and does not serve the public interest, but only the enemies of the people." In the meanwhile hundreds of Hungarians were dying for the lack of penicillin, streptomycin, aureomycin, etc., and for the lack of an iron lung, which were available only in the West. The Western charitable organizations, however, seeing that their help was misused for Communist propaganda, discontinued their aid. Dr. Weil's mission was fulfilled by April, 1948, when all important medical positions were finally in the hands of the Communists.

Various accusations have been made against Dr. Weil in relation to Cardinal Mindszenty, who had been drugged or medically "treated" in order to obtain a confession. There has been no statement in denial of the participation of the Hungarian Minister to the United States in this outrage. However, the record has been established that he was the one who appointed the "experts" who carried out the criminal treatment, which was an operation on the Cardinal's brain. An Hungarian journalist who since then escaped to the West declared in a newspaper article shortly after his escape that it was Dr. Weil who handled the electric device used in the course of the brain operation performed on the victims of the various political trials, among them Cardinal Mindszenty. There has been no confirmation or denial of this report.

It is impossible to ignore the repetition of Dr. Weil's name in connection with the Mindszenty outrage, and it is up to him to prove them untrue. He was awarded the "Kossuth Prize," which is the highest award of the Communist regime. Why Dr. Emil Weil, who has never been in the diplomatic service, should have been appointed Minister to the United States, is not clear; yet, he has been here about two years.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

TREATMENT IN POISON OAK

While thousands of arthritis patients waited for ACTH and cortisone to be available for them, research workers were testing out these new "miracle" drugs on various diseases, including diseases of the skin.

In the Journal of Investigative Dermatology, Drs. M. S. Falk, M. F. Allende and J. H. Bennett report that inflammation of the skin due to poison oak is very common in the Oakland-Berkeley area and is often of such a severe type that it prevents patients from working. These physicians put many of these patients in hospital to ensure proper care.

Until recently treatment consisted mostly of application of cool compresses (with potassium permanganate or boric acid), anti-itching lotions antibiotics (germ-killing drugs), quieting drugs, pain-killing drugs and antihistamines (for allergy).

Since July, 1951, patients with poison oak have been treated with ACTH or cortisone if there were no contra-indications present such as peptic ulcer, diabetes or tuberculosis. The dosage schedules used were as follows: ACTH was given in doses of 25 mg. every six hours the first day, 20 mg. every six hours the second day, and 15 mg. every six hours the third day. Cortisone was given in doses of 200 mg. the first day, 150 mg. the second day, and 100 mg. the third day.

In 10 patients, selected at random, placed in hospital prior to the use of ACTH and cortisone, the average period spent in hospital was 6.6 days and the average time of disability was 11.4 days. In 9 patients treated with ACTH and cortisone, the average period spent in hospital was 3.3 days (half the time) and the disability was a shorter time.

Eight of the nine patients were relieved of the severe pruritis (itching) within 12 to 36 hours and the swelling and weeping disappeared overnight. All but one of the patients were discharged after three days of the miracle drug treatment with instructions to continue the treatment at home. The one failure may have been due to insufficient dosage of ACTH.

Drs. Falk, Allende and Bennett feel that ACTH or cortisone is the treatment of choice in severe acute contact inflammation of the skin when there is no contra-indication to their use.

The fact that these miracle drugs can shorten the duration of skin ailments and decrease the severity of the symptoms gives us an idea of their all around value in the treatment of various illnesses. We are likely to hear more of their help in the days to come.

"Hi You-All, Neighbor!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note—This is the second of Drew Pearson's series of columns on the problems facing Gen. Eisenhower in Korea.)

Washington — Politics is not supposed to be on the agenda of General Eisenhower's Korean trip. But the first person he will meet in Korea is gnarled, cantankerous President Syngman Rhee, hero to millions, despot to a few, and the man who has kept the light of Korean independence burning for half a century.

And President Syngman Rhee has seen to it, well in advance of the President-elect's visit, that he is put on the political hot spot. For Rhee has told the people of Korea that Eisenhower has come to liberate their country.

Thus any compromise Eisenhower may propose, or anything he does short of a drive into North Korea up to the banks of the Yalu river, leaves disappointment and a serious morale problem in his wake.

The man who will greet Eisenhower in Korea is one of the most extraordinary heads of government in the world.

He has spent seven years in prison, seven months under constant torture, 41 years in exile, has had a $300,000 price on his head, and has probably fought longer to bring self-government to at least one rocky, isolated portion of the Orient than any other man living today.

Rhee in Exile

I knew Rhee when he lived in Washington, president of the so-called "Korean Republic," then under the Emperor of Japan, and which no one thought ever could be free again—no one, that is, except Rhee.

The president in exile, gnarled, aged even then, had come to this country at the age of 27 during the Portsmouth Conference which settled the war between Russia and Japan. And, though he was received personally by President Theodore Roosevelt, the Russo-Japanese Treaty, when it emerged, contained, as Article I, a provision for turning Korea over to Japan. At that time, we did not consider the rights of small nations important.

Rhee, however, battled on. He had become a Christian, had written a book, "The Spirit of Independence," while in jail. Now he studied at Harvard, got to know Woodrow Wilson at Princeton, attended the Versailles Conference, once again with a plea that the great powers recognize Korea, once again to be disappointed by his friend Wilson.

Back in Washington during the early days of the F. D. Roosevelt administration, Rhee tried to get the State Department to issue a passport to an Austrian lady he had met at Geneva, Franziska Donner. The State Department gave him the usual run-around.

Finally I called his plight to the attention of Cordell Hull, who cut red tape, let Fraulein Donner enter this country. She and Dr. Rhee were married. She has been beside him through the heartaches and headaches of Korea ever since, and no matter how discouraging the news in Korea, I never fail to hear from them at Christmas.

Modern-Day Saviour

When Syngman Rhee returned to Korea after the Japanese surrender in 1945, he was received as a modern-day saviour. Every political party welcomed him, offered him support, asked him to become president—even the Communists.

It is not unnatural that a 77-year-old battler for liberty should find himself in frequent opposition with U. S. military and diplomatic authorities, and Rhee's first tangle was with Gen. John Hodge, U. S. commander in Korea, who wanted to compromise between the Communists and right-wing parties. Rhee refused, started a battle against the Communists from the start.

More recently he has had differences with General Van Fleet over martial law, over closing down the Voice of America by Rhee, and over taking ROK troops out of the front line to "stabilize" Korea during last summer's elections. Some of Rhee's political opponents were even arrested by him and thrown in jail when they opposed him in the constituent assembly.

In the final popular vote, however, Rhee was backed by the overwhelming majority of the South Korean people — 5,000,000 against 1,800,000 polled by his three opponents.

Rhee has been criticized because there is graft and inefficiency around him. But unlike Chiang Kai-shek he has moved to clean it up. And unlike Chiang Kai-shek, Rhee has been poor all his life, and is still poor. He has fired a total of 30 cabinet officers in an effort to attain more efficiency in government in a country which has not governed itself for more than half a century.

Tortured Rhee

But the thing to remember about Rhee is that, though he is wilful and stubborn, he has never ceased fighting for the best interests of his country. He has been rebuffed. He has been disheartened. He has been beaten with bamboo rods every day for seven months. He has had oiled paper wrapped round his wrists and then set on fire. He has had his fingers so horribly mashed that even today he blows on them to keep them warm. He has had to wear a 20-pound wooden cangue around his neck and sit with his feet and hands locked in stocks.

But through it all he has not wavered from the goal of Korean independence.

This is the man who will sit down with General Eisenhower in Korea as the representative of a valiant though divided people, a man who is certain to demand the complete purge of communism from his country before he stops fighting.

Clumsy Maneuvering Is Noted in Eisenhower Appointments; Ike Must Learn Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 4—There's a bit of clumsiness, if not political amateurishness, in the way the Eisenhower appointments to the cabinet have been handled. While a good cabinet has been selected, the process by which the decisions were arrived at may rise to plague the new administration unless it faces some realities about Washington habits and manners as well as traditions.

Senator Taft should not have been provoked into expressing displeasure about the way the cabinet appointments were arranged. Yet to say this is not to imply that any other men should have been selected for the cabinet posts. There is a right way and a wrong way to play ball on a team, and the evidence thus far indicates that the Eisenhower staff are going to have to learn their "inside baseball" the hard way. This is regrettable because, when a "rift" starts between a new president and the man on whom he must depend for legislative cooperation in Congress, it doesn't mean merely that a difference has arisen between two individuals. It means that a cleavage of factionalism begins, and this tends to cause legislators to line up on one side or the other. Obviously the Eisenhower staff doesn't want to develop that kind of problem to add to the many other problems that will confront the new administration anyhow in the matter of appointments.

Every new president has a tremendouse power with Congress because he has so many favors to dispense. A president need not appoint incompetent persons just because a senator or representative recommends them. But, more often, when a dozen names are available and they are all good men, the balance can turn in favor of a friend or a member of Congress. The making of such an appointment tends more to enhance the prestige of the senator or representative with his constituents than it does to create any real obligation as between the appointee and the member of Congress. In every state and district a senator or representative who appears to be powerful enough to "get things done" in Washington for his home area thereby adds to his political strength with the electorate.

On the matter of cabinet appointments, it has been stated that Senator Taft feels that General Eisenhower should have cleared them with the senators whose constituents were being selected for these high offices, and that this is a Republican tradition. This is sometimes called a gesture of "courtesy." But it is a tradition often broken in the past. If, moreover, General Eisenhower had asked Senator Dirksen of Illinois whether or not to appoint Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor, the chances are the Illinois senator would have given a negative answer, and this would have gotten into the headlines as a "rift" between the President-elect and the Illinois senator.

Sometimes the President tells a senator of his intention to appoint a man from his state, but does not ask for his opinion. There is really no rule about it and no necessity to clear cabinet appointments with senators and representatives. There is, however, in the present situation as between Senator Taft and General Eisenhower a peculiar set of circumstances. One man beat the other for the presidential nomination, and then the loser turned around and did the traditional thing by supporting wholeheartedly the nominee of the convention, hence it would have been tactful and politically wise if General Eisenhower had sat down with Senator Taft and told him why he planned to make certain appointments. It was a courtesy to which the Ohio senator was entitled, and Mr. Taft would have been the first to say that the President-elect had a right to make his own decisions.

What will tend to produce friction and difficulty for the future is a tendency on the part of General Eisenhower to deal with certain problems on a so-called "staff command" basis. He certainly cannot delegate to any member of his cabinet or to any assistant president or to anybody else the job of personal relations with Senator Taft or any of the other leaders. Unless there is a constant and free interchange of views at first hand, the Eisenhower administration is in for trouble.

In the Eisenhower entourage are men who may think they are familiar with national problems from what they have read in the papers, but not one of them seem to have had any experience in the delicate matter of relationship between the executive and the legislative branches of the government on political questions. There is no substitute for experience in this domain. Other administrations have had the same handicap at the start, and yet it need not become serious if the newcomers really grasp the fundamental point, which is that party harmony is as essential after a campaign as it was during the campaign.

When the general designated Herbert Brownell, the new attorney general, to "screen" cabinet appointments, he was turning over to a Dewey man something that anybody would have told him could mean friction. Mr. Brownell should have been warned by the President-elect to be careful to consult Senator Taft all along the line. He isn't likely to make the same mistake again.

Errors like these are not unnatural with the President-elect virtually forced by events and his trip to Korea to appoint his cabinet within the first few weeks after election. When the President-elect gets back from Korea, he will find he will have to do a repair job of no small importance to the success of his legislative program in Congress.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Last April 15 I began to receive telephone calls and visits from a little man named Mario Buzzi who was employed for years as a secret agent by the non-sectarian anti-Nazi League, which I have described to you before. Buzzi is crippled by a paralytic stroke and he tells me, with a great show of bitterness, that he now hates Isidore Lipschutz, the secretary-treasurer of this conspiracy against the privacy of law-abiding Americans, and others who are associated and implicated with him in the league and in Lipschutz's other strange bund, the Society for the Prevention of World War 3. The others who are included in Buzzi's hatred are James H. Sheldon, the "administrative chairman" of the league. Sheldon's title, like the rosters of officers and directors of both the league and the society, changes from time to time.

Buzzi first called me up soon after a man calling himself Richard Rollins, who wrote a book on his own adventures as a spy for the Lipschutz league, had filed a libel suit against me and other defendants demanding the standard sum of $1,000,000. In that book, Rollins boasted that he had stolen property from citizens who had employed him in positions of trust in collusion with other agents of the league. Rollins is now engaged in the chewing-gum business in Boston, where he served as an OPA agent during the war with authority over allotments of sugar to the candy and gum trade.

I was in Boston on business in April and made some telephone calls to current and past officials of the Roosevelt-Truman bureaucracy regarding Rollins' activities in the OPA. I was interested in the process by which he got control of this chewing gum business so soon after his successful career in OPA. Rollins got wind of this inquiry of mine and telephoned, threatening to sue me for a million. He got his complaint into court the same day. In due course the suit was thrown out. He said I had charged him with stealing and lying. That issue went untried because the complaint was dismissed on other grounds. I do not know why he was so touchy about inquiries into his work with OPA and his abrupt success in the gum business. After all, as I told him that day, he had made a career of spying on law-abiding citizens.

I had heard of Buzzi in many odd matters over some years but had never met him or spoken with him by phone until he telephoned that he had important information for me. Accordingly, I met him within an hour and he told me that Rollins, with whom he had worked as an agent of Sheldon and Lipschutz, had phoned him from Boston urging him to file another lawsuit against me. Buzzi said the purpose was to make publishers afraid of publishing my continuing revelations of the activities of Lipschutz, his associates and his two political societies.

Buzzi said he told Rollins he had no ground for a lawsuit but that Rollins urged him to file one nevertheless. Buzzi did not ask me for any money and I offered him nothing. He said that he hated the whole outfit individually and as organizations because he

NOT ENOUGH RICH PEOPLE

If you're still gullible enough to believe that we can pay most or even a substantial part of the incredible cost of government by "soaking the rich," some facts that Senator Walter George presented in a Look magazine article will come as a rude awakener.

If Congress confiscated all taxable income over $100,000, by imposing a flat 100 per cent at that level, the amount of additional revenue would be sufficient to operate the Federal government for four hours.

If all taxable income over $26,000 were confiscated, the yield would run the government for three days.

If everything above $10,000 was taken in toto by the tax collector, it would pay the government's bills for 16 days.

Finally, if Congress shot the works by imposing a 100 per cent tax on all income above $8,000, the additional revenue would keep the government going for 22 days.

This being true, who must pay the great bulk of the government's spending—and who must pay almost all of future tax increases if they come? The answer is, people of small and moderate means—the people who work for wages and modest salaries, the people who have little businesses, the people who represent the majority of America's population and are the backbone of America's strength.

They must pay it for the simple reason that no one else can. There just aren't enough "rich" to make a dent in the spending!

SCAPEGOATS FOR HIRE

From long experience with Communist doings, we no longer look at espionage and treason trials and ask, "What has this latest batch of spies been up to?" We know the spies are manufactured to fit the occasion, and the only question worth pressing is what the occasion is.

In other words, what is it that the Reds are trying to excuse? What do they need a fresh crop of scapegoats for?

The current Czech treason trials, progressing very nicely through a series of neat, orderly, automatic confessions, apparently have their root in the failure of Prime Minister Gottwald's Red government to fulfill promised war orders for the Soviet Union, and in acute food and fuel shortages. Since failures of this kind simply don't happen in well-regulated Communist families, it is obvious that some very wicked people, spurred on by foreign spies, must be responsible for the whole mess.

In Communist territory, the wicked persons are always found, or rather, manufactured. By processes of torture we now understand well, men of either high or low station are actually altered in personality until they fit the desired psychological pattern and are willing to utter the exact words of the Communist script.

Want a scapegoat? Just knock on any Red headquarters door from Bucharest to Moscow, and inquire within.

FITTING AND PROPER ACTION

The federal parole board which denied a parole to Alger Hiss, the former State Department official convicted of lying about his Communist associations, presumably felt that the gravity of his offense precluded serious consideration of his plea.

The board chairman announced that the unanimous board action followed a careful study of the official record of the Hiss case. This included a report written by the chairman after a personal hearing he granted to Hiss some days ago.

The board might well have concluded that Hiss should serve as an example to other men of similar background and training who might be tempted, as he apparently was, to play with the fate of nations by giving away his country's secrets. This is no matter to be tossed off lightly with a brief two years in prison.

Hiss, of course, still maintains his innocence and declares he will be vindicated. There is always that remote chance. But as the official record so plainly shows, a good part of his behavior before and during his two trials does not fit the pattern of an innocent man. He has a great deal of explaining to do.

Meanwhile, it is proper that he should have been denied parole. The element of doubt in his case is not so great that he ought to have its benefits.

'These Days'

AN UNWANTED DIPLOMAT

Dr. Emil Weil is the Hungarian Minister to the United States. He lives in our country with extra-territorial privileges. He is entitled to travel anywhere he chooses; he can observe conditions and report back to his government in a secret diplomatic pouch. He is not subject to the restrictions of our law. These are the rights of every diplomat in all countries.

However, before any envoy comes to the United States, his government must have asked the State Department whether he is acceptable to our country; the State Department must have approved Weil or he would not have come.

This Dr. Emil Weil was in charge of the X-ray department of a hospital maintained in Budapest by a large industrial firm. Before World War II he was sentenced to seven years imprisonment for underground Communist activities. After the siege of Budapest and the Russian occupation he was entrusted by the Russians with a Communist propaganda campaign among the doctors and the medical staff of hospitals in Hungary. He became head of the "Medical Council," an organization of almost unlimited power, and used this organization to spread Marxism and a pro-Russian attitude among the Hungarian doctors. Intimidation and threats were his chief weapons. He prevented physicians of whom he disapproved from being given higher positions in hospitals or the government service, summoning the political police to arrest or intern the doctor. He was Secretary-General of the Hungarian Sanitary Workers Trade Union. He created such an atmosphere of terror that the intimidated doctors were compelled to give in to him unless they wanted to lose their jobs.

All non-Communist experts were dismissed from the Ministry of Public Welfare—an organization under complete Communist control—and their places were filled with inexperienced Communists recommended by Weil. There were no drugs, bandages or instruments in Hungary, because the Russians seized all that was left behind by the Germans. When a donation of drugs and medical instruments finally arrived from America, the Ministry of Public Welfare was induced by Weil to demand participation in their distribution, diverting the gift to Communist propaganda.

Weil has been accused of getting the Minister of Public Welfare, Mrs. Anna Ratko, who used to be a textile worker, and who was appointed a cabinet minister with his assistance, to say: "The Hungarian doctors will have to detach themselves from Western medical science which is falsified and does not serve the public interest, but only the enemies of the people." In the meanwhile hundreds of Hungarians were dying for the lack of penicillin, streptomycin, aureomycin, etc., and for the lack of an iron lung, which were available only in the West. The Western charitable organizations, however, seeing that their help was misused for Communist propaganda, discontinued their aid. Dr. Weil's mission was fulfilled by April, 1948, when all important medical positions were finally in the hands of the Communists.

Various accusations have been made against Dr. Weil in relation to Cardinal Mindszenty, who had been drugged or medically "treated" in order to obtain a confession. There has been no statement in denial of the participation of the Hungarian Minister to the United States in this outrage. However, the record has been established that he was the one who appointed the "experts" who carried out the criminal treatment, which was an operation on the Cardinal's brain. An Hungarian journalist who since then escaped to the West declared in a newspaper article shortly after his escape that it was Dr. Weil who handled the electric device used in the course of the brain operation performed on the victims of the various political trials, among them Cardinal Mindszenty. There has been no confirmation or denial of this report.

It is impossible to ignore the repetition of Dr. Weil's name in connection with the Mindszenty outrage, and it is up to him to prove them untrue. He was awarded the "Kossuth Prize," which is the highest award of the Communist regime. Why Dr. Emil Weil, who has never been in the diplomatic service, should have been appointed Minister to the United States, is not clear; yet, he has been here about two years.

TREATMENT IN POISON OAK

While thousands of arthritis patients waited for ACTH and cortisone to be available for them, research workers were testing out these new "miracle" drugs on various diseases, including diseases of the skin.

In the Journal of Investigative Dermatology, Drs. M. S. Falk, M. F. Allende and J. H. Bennett report that inflammation of the skin due to poison oak is very common in the Oakland-Berkeley area and is often of such a severe type that it prevents patients from working. These physicians put many of these patients in hospital to ensure proper care.

Until recently treatment consisted mostly of application of cool compresses (with potassium permanganate or boric acid), anti-itching lotions antibiotics (germ-killing drugs), quieting drugs, pain-killing drugs and antihistamines (for allergy).

Since July, 1951, patients with poison oak have been treated with ACTH or cortisone if there were no contra-indications present such as peptic ulcer, diabetes or tuberculosis. The dosage schedules used were as follows: ACTH was given in doses of 25 mg. every six hours the first day, 20 mg. every six hours the second day, and 15 mg. every six hours the third day. Cortisone was given in doses of 200 mg. the first day, 150 mg. the second day, and 100 mg. the third day.

In 10 patients, selected at random, placed in hospital prior to the use of ACTH and cortisone, the average period spent in hospital was 6.6 days and the average time of disability was 11.4 days. In 9 patients treated with ACTH and cortisone, the average period spent in hospital was 3.3 days (half the time) and the disability was a shorter time.

Eight of the nine patients were relieved of the severe pruritis (itching) within 12 to 36 hours and the swelling and weeping disappeared overnight. All but one of the patients were discharged after three days of the miracle drug treatment with instructions to continue the treatment at home. The one failure may have been due to insufficient dosage of ACTH.

Drs. Falk, Allende and Bennett feel that ACTH or cortisone is the treatment of choice in severe acute contact inflammation of the skin when there is no contra-indication to their use.

The fact that these miracle drugs can shorten the duration of skin ailments and decrease the severity of the symptoms gives us an idea of their all around value in the treatment of various illnesses. We are likely to hear more of their help in the days to come.

"Hi You-All, Neighbor!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note—This is the second of Drew Pearson's series of columns on the problems facing Gen. Eisenhower in Korea.)

Washington — Politics is not supposed to be on the agenda of General Eisenhower's Korean trip. But the first person he will meet in Korea is gnarled, cantankerous President Syngman Rhee, hero to millions, despot to a few, and the man who has kept the light of Korean independence burning for half a century.

And President Syngman Rhee has seen to it, well in advance of the President-elect's visit, that he is put on the political hot spot. For Rhee has told the people of Korea that Eisenhower has come to liberate their country.

Thus any compromise Eisenhower may propose, or anything he does short of a drive into North Korea up to the banks of the Yalu river, leaves disappointment and a serious morale problem in his wake.

The man who will greet Eisenhower in Korea is one of the most extraordinary heads of government in the world.

He has spent seven years in prison, seven months under constant torture, 41 years in exile, has had a $300,000 price on his head, and has probably fought longer to bring self-government to at least one rocky, isolated portion of the Orient than any other man living today.

Rhee in Exile

I knew Rhee when he lived in Washington, president of the so-called "Korean Republic," then under the Emperor of Japan, and which no one thought ever could be free again—no one, that is, except Rhee.

The president in exile, gnarled, aged even then, had come to this country at the age of 27 during the Portsmouth Conference which settled the war between Russia and Japan. And, though he was received personally by President Theodore Roosevelt, the Russo-Japanese Treaty, when it emerged, contained, as Article I, a provision for turning Korea over to Japan. At that time, we did not consider the rights of small nations important.

Rhee, however, battled on. He had become a Christian, had written a book, "The Spirit of Independence," while in jail. Now he studied at Harvard, got to know Woodrow Wilson at Princeton, attended the Versailles Conference, once again with a plea that the great powers recognize Korea, once again to be disappointed by his friend Wilson.

Back in Washington during the early days of the F. D. Roosevelt administration, Rhee tried to get the State Department to issue a passport to an Austrian lady he had met at Geneva, Franziska Donner. The State Department gave him the usual run-around.

Finally I called his plight to the attention of Cordell Hull, who cut red tape, let Fraulein Donner enter this country. She and Dr. Rhee were married. She has been beside him through the heartaches and headaches of Korea ever since, and no matter how discouraging the news in Korea, I never fail to hear from them at Christmas.

Modern-Day Saviour

When Syngman Rhee returned to Korea after the Japanese surrender in 1945, he was received as a modern-day saviour. Every political party welcomed him, offered him support, asked him to become president—even the Communists.

It is not unnatural that a 77-year-old battler for liberty should find himself in frequent opposition with U. S. military and diplomatic authorities, and Rhee's first tangle was with Gen. John Hodge, U. S. commander in Korea, who wanted to compromise between the Communists and right-wing parties. Rhee refused, started a battle against the Communists from the start.

More recently he has had differences with General Van Fleet over martial law, over closing down the Voice of America by Rhee, and over taking ROK troops out of the front line to "stabilize" Korea during last summer's elections. Some of Rhee's political opponents were even arrested by him and thrown in jail when they opposed him in the constituent assembly.

In the final popular vote, however, Rhee was backed by the overwhelming majority of the South Korean people — 5,000,000 against 1,800,000 polled by his three opponents.

Rhee has been criticized because there is graft and inefficiency around him. But unlike Chiang Kai-shek he has moved to clean it up. And unlike Chiang Kai-shek, Rhee has been poor all his life, and is still poor. He has fired a total of 30 cabinet officers in an effort to attain more efficiency in government in a country which has not governed itself for more than half a century.

But the thing to remember about Rhee is that, though he is wilful and stubborn, he has never ceased fighting for the best interests of his country. He has been rebuffed. He has been disheartened. He has been beaten with bamboo rods every day for seven months. He has had oiled paper wrapped round his wrists and then set on fire. He has had his fingers so horribly mashed that even today he blows on them to keep them warm. He has had to wear a 20-pound wooden cangue around his neck and sit with his feet and hands locked in stocks.

But through it all he has not wavered from the goal of Korean independence.

This is the man who will sit down with General Eisenhower in Korea as the representative of a valiant though divided people, a man who is certain to demand the complete purge of communism from his country before he stops fighting.

Clumsy Maneuvering Is Noted in Eisenhower Appointments; Ike Must Learn Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 4—There's a bit of clumsiness, if not political amateurishness, in the way the Eisenhower appointments to the cabinet have been handled. While a good cabinet has been selected, the process by which the decisions were arrived at may rise to plague the new administration unless it faces some realities about Washington habits and manners as well as traditions.

Senator Taft should not have been provoked into expressing displeasure about the way the cabinet appointments were arranged. Yet to say this is not to imply that any other men should have been selected for the cabinet posts. There is a right way and a wrong way to play ball on a team, and the evidence thus far indicates that the Eisenhower staff are going to have to learn their "inside baseball" the hard way. This is regrettable because, when a "rift" starts between a new president and the man on whom he must depend for legislative cooperation in Congress, it doesn't mean merely that a difference has arisen between two individuals. It means that a cleavage of factionalism begins, and this tends to cause legislators to line up on one side or the other. Obviously the Eisenhower staff doesn't want to develop that kind of problem to add to the many other problems that will confront the new administration anyhow in the matter of appointments.

Every new president has a tremendous power with Congress because he has so many favors to dispense. A president need not appoint incompetent persons just because a senator or representative recommends them. But, more often, when a dozen names are available and they are all good men, the balance can turn in favor of a friend or a member of Congress. The making of such an appointment tends more to enhance the prestige of the senator or representative with his constituents than it does to create any real obligation as between the appointee and the member of Congress. In every state and district a senator or representative who appears to be powerful enough to "get things done" in Washington for his home area thereby adds to his political strength with the electorate.

On the matter of cabinet appointments, it has been stated that Senator Taft feels that General Eisenhower should have cleared them with the senators whose constituents were being selected for these high offices, and that this is a Republican tradition. This is sometimes called a gesture of "courtesy." But it is a tradition often broken in the past. If, moreover, General Eisenhower had asked Senator Dirksen of Illinois whether or not to appoint Martin P. Durkin as secretary of labor, the chances are the Illinois senator would have given a negative answer, and this would have gotten into the headlines as a "rift" between the President-elect and the Illinois senator.

Sometimes the President tells a senator of his intention to appoint a man from his state, but does not ask for his opinion. There is really no rule about it and no necessity to clear cabinet appointments with senators and representatives. There is, however, in the present situation as between Senator Taft and General Eisenhower a peculiar set of circumstances. One man beat the other for the presidential nomination, and then the loser turned around and did the traditional thing by supporting wholeheartedly the nominee of the convention, hence it would have been tactful and politically wise if General Eisenhower had sat down with Senator Taft and told him why he planned to make certain appointments. It was a courtesy to which the Ohio senator was entitled, and Mr. Taft would have been the first to say that the President-elect had a right to make his own decisions.

What will tend to produce friction and difficulty for the future is a tendency on the part of General Eisenhower to deal with certain problems on a so-called "staff command" basis. He certainly cannot delegate to any member of his cabinet or to any assistant president or to anybody else the job of personal relations with Senator Taft or any of the other leaders. Unless there is a constant and free interchange of views at first hand, the Eisenhower administration is in for trouble.

In the Eisenhower entourage are men who may think they are familiar with national problems from what they have read in the papers, but not one of them seem to have had any experience in the delicate matter of relationship between the executive and the legislative branches of the government on political questions. There is no substitute for experience in this domain. Other administrations have had the same handicap at the start, and yet it need not become serious if the newcomers really grasp the fundamental point, which is that party harmony is as essential after a campaign as it was during the campaign.

When the general designated Herbert Brownell, the new attorney general, to "screen" cabinet appointments, he was turning over to a Dewey man something that anybody would have told him could mean friction. Mr. Brownell should have been warned by the President-elect to be careful to consult Senator Taft all along the line. He isn't likely to make the same mistake again.

Errors like these are not unnatural with the President-elect virtually forced by events and his trip to Korea to appoint his cabinet within the first few weeks after election. When the President-elect gets back from Korea, he will find he will have to do a repair job of no small importance to the success of his legislative program in Congress.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Last April 15 I began to receive telephone calls and visits from a little man named Mario Buzzi who was employed for years as a secret agent by the non-sectarian anti-Nazi League, which I have described to you before. Buzzi is crippled by a paralytic stroke and he tells me, with a great show of bitterness, that he now hates Isidore Lipschutz, the secretary-treasurer of this conspiracy against the privacy of law-abiding Americans, and others who are associated and implicated with him in the league and in Lipschutz's other strange bund, the Society for the Prevention of World War 3. The others who are included in Buzzi's hatred are James H. Sheldon, the "administrative chairman" of the league. Sheldon's title, like the rosters of officers and directors of both the league and the society, changes from time to time.

Buzzi first called me up soon after a man calling himself Richard Rollins, who wrote a book on his own adventures as a spy for the Lipschutz league, had filed a libel suit against me and other defendants demanding the standard sum of $1,000,000. In that book, Rollins boasted that he had stolen property from citizens who had employed him in positions of trust in collusion with other agents of the league. Rollins is now engaged in the chewing-gum business in Boston, where he served as an OPA agent during the war with authority over allotments of sugar to the candy and gum trade.

I was in Boston on business in April and made some telephone calls to current and past officials of the Roosevelt-Truman bureaucracy regarding Rollins' activities in the OPA. I was interested in the process by which he got control of this chewing gum business so soon after his successful career in OPA. Rollins got wind of this inquiry of mine and telephoned, threatening to sue me for a million. He got his complaint into court the same day. In due course the suit was thrown out. He said I had charged him with stealing and lying. That issue went untried because the complaint was dismissed on other grounds. I do not know why he was so touchy about inquiries into his work with OPA and his abrupt success in the gum business. After all, as I told him that day, he had made a career of spying on law-abiding citizens.

I had heard of Buzzi in many odd matters over some years but had never met him or spoken with him by phone until he telephoned that he had important information for me. Accordingly, I met him within an hour and he told me that Rollins, with whom he had worked as an agent of Sheldon and Lipschutz, had phoned him from Boston urging him to file another lawsuit against me. Buzzi said the purpose was to make publishers afraid of publishing my continuing revelations of the activities of Lipschutz, his associates and his two political societies.

Buzzi said he told Rollins he had no ground for a lawsuit but that Rollins urged him to file one nevertheless. Buzzi did not ask me for any money and I offered him nothing. He said that he hated the whole outfit individually and as organizations because he

Examiner Would Dismiss Teachers On Red Silence

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—A special trial examiner of the city board of education has recommended dismissal of four men and three women teachers on the ground they refused to answer school officials' questions about Communist party membership.

Two of the teachers denied being members of the Communist party at present, but declined to discuss whether they were former members. The five others refused to answer any questions on the issue.

An eighth teacher resigned rather than face a departmental trial.

The recommendation for dismissal was made yesterday by Arthur Levitt, board of education member who presided at departmental trials of the accused.

Were Suspended

The eight teachers were suspended without pay last Jan. 31 pending trial. Superintendent of Schools William Jansen ordered the suspensions on grounds of insubordination and unbecoming conduct.

Eight teachers who refused to answer Communist questions were tried and dismissed a year ago.

The board of education is scheduled to meet late today, but is not expected to act on the dismissal recommendation at that time.

New York State Board of Regents, which is considering whether members of the Communist party should be banned from public school jobs in this state, has scheduled a hearing on the issue here today (2 p. m., EST). A three-member Regents subcommittee will conduct the hearing.

Names of Teachers

The teachers recommended to the city board of education for dismissal are:

Denied present Communist membership but refused to answer questions about possible past membership:

Miss Dorothy Bloch, 40, English teacher, George Westinghouse Vocational High School, Brooklyn.

Julius Lemansky, 42, history teacher, Boys High School, Brooklyn.

Declined to answer any questions about Communist membership:

Mrs. Mildred Flacks, 42, grade teacher, Junior High School 35, Brooklyn.

Cyril Graze, 41, mathematics, Forest Hills High School, Queens.

Arthur Newman, 42, English, Samuel Compers Vocational and Technical High School, the Bronx.

Mrs. Dorothy Rand, 44, grade teacher, Public School 170, Manhattan.

Samuel Wallach, 43, economics, Franklin K. Lane High School, Brooklyn.

Morgan Is First Avowed Candidate

Syracuse, Dec. 4 (AP)—William H. Morgan of Cortland, a Democratic state committeeman, is the first avowed candidate for the chairmanship of the State Committee.

Morgan, a former chairman of the Cortland County Democratic Committee, announced his candidacy yesterday.

A successor to Chairman Paul E. FitzPatrick of Buffalo announced shortly after the Nov. 4 election that he was resigning, for reasons of health.

Morgan, 44, is a consultant to Dairy Co-operatives. He was in Syracuse on business yesterday.

Democratic leaders who have been mentioned for the top state post include Averell Harriman, outgoing mutual security director; Richard Balch, Utica businessman, and William B. Mahoney, lawyer and Democratic city leader in Buffalo.

Elected Secretary

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Dr. Earl S. Erb, of (115 West Mt. Airy avenue) Philadelphia, has been elected executive secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America's board of foreign missions. The church group announced yesterday the selection of Erb, secretary of the ministerium of Pennsylvania and its secretary of benevolence. Erb succeeds Dr. Luther Agotwald, of New Rochelle, who resigned.

Mild Quake Recorded

Taipeh, Formosa, Dec. 4 (AP)—Mild earthquake shocks extending over 13 minutes were felt in Taipeh today. There were no casualties or damage.

Local Polio Heads Hear Plea for '53

Orange, Ulster, Dutchess, Rockland and Putnam counties were represented at a recent sectional March of Dimes meeting at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie.

Thomas McEnaney of Albany, vice chairman of the New York State March of Dimes, said that with the increased incidence of polio, which exceeds any previous year, the need for a successful March of Dimes Campaign in New York state is greater than ever before.

Guest speaker of the meeting was Ernest Frost, regional director for the northeast. Frost pointed out that 1952 has been an ironic year as far as polio incidence is concerned, considering the encouraging advances in research. The incidence is expected to go as high as 55,000, which is 13,000 more than any previous year. Frost said that though research was encouraging there is as yet no sure-fire preventive, and that the March of Dimes must meet the challenge of 55,000 cases which will run the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis into a deficit of approximately $7,000,000 by late December. Although $41,000,000 was raised in 1952, $50,000,000 must be realized in 1953 to meet the increased incidence of polio.

Representatives from Ulster county at this meeting included William A. Kelly, chairman of the Ulster County Chapter, U. Parker Decker, town chairman, town of Lloyd; Meyer Kaplan, Francis J. O'Neill, treasurer; and Addison Jones, campaign director for the 1953 March of Dimes Campaign, who was also one of the featured speakers at this meeting.

A movie was shown following the meeting which graphically depicted the Mothers March on Polio as it was conducted in both large and small communities. It is expected that this Mothers March will be incorporated into the present plans for the 1953 March of Dimes here in Ulster county.

As Pegler Sees It

was cast aside and on relief in his crippled condition. He said he still had entree to the league's office, however, and went there often so that he could use the phone without paying. I led Buzzi on but eventually told him that I had no reason to alter my firm conviction that he was still a sneak, liar and thief. I said I believed he was still working of Lipschutz, et al. Several months later, Buzzi pursued the matter and we have had a number of interviews. In one of which he said an attorney for the league asked him, "Why don't you sue Pegler?"

Buzzi said he replied: "I don't sue anyone." Continuing, he said he told them he would sue.

"Then they didn't want me to sue. They said an effort would be made to make you say things that we don't want you to say." Buzzi further said: "When Rollins was suing, he wanted me to sue also. Sheldon handed me the phone. Dick (Rollins) said three or four suits would be better. I told Goldstein and then Hoffman, Goldstein, Sheldon and Lipschutz decided it is better not for me to sue."

He referred to Julius L. Goldstein, general counsel for the league, who demanded an apology after a firm expose of Lipschutz's activities several years ago and got a firm negative answer, and to Herman Hoffman, who was "chairman of the board of directors" of the league. Hoffman was appointed to the New York municipal bench after he had served as campaign manager for Mayor Impellitteri. In the closing hours of that campaign Hoffman's name was carried on a shocking false religious and racial hatred in favor of Impellitteri and against Judge Ferdinand Pecora, who was defeated.

The Anti-Nazi League thrives by whipping up fears of conspiracies to persecute Jews. The League circulates some "appeals" by mail and others by means of professional solicitors who go among prosperous citizens and exhibit photostats of contributors by co-religionists who have been induced to give up money for "educational" activities. The solicitors get 30% of their collections. However, Buzzi was not an "educator" but a privte detective who sometimes resorted to theft as he freely admitted to me. His identification card bearing his phtotograph and signed "James H. Sheldon, administrative chairman," says: "This is to certify that Mario Buzzi, whose photograph and signature appear hereon, is an officially designated SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR of the above-named organization."

Joseph Brandt, a renegade private detective who was associated with the same Rollins in the operation of a fake cancer fund, and a woman who called herself Dorothy Waring and boasted of her work as a spy for Lipschutz, all were members of this gum-shoe staff operated by a refugee diamond merchant whose business background is confidential. Brandt was convicted but won a reversal and is due to go on trial again soon in the Federal Court.

Buzzi said in his latest communication to me that last Saturday night a conference was held at the league's headquarters with Lipschutz and Sheldon present, together with two lawyers from a big downtown firm not hitherto identified with these machinations. He said Lipschutz urged his associates to bring another suit to silence Pegler's revelations. Buzzi said he was allowed to sit in a room adjoining the conference and that he heard Lipschutz say repeatedly that he did not want to recover any money but did want to make me apologize and retract.

On the contrary, I will continue to expose the conspiracy in detail and to reveal an interesting, novel method of invoking the courts to achieve ends not necessarily apparent in the pleadings. Inevitably there will be a full disclosure by a congressional committee which will implicate many prominent Democratic members.

The Internal Revenue permits contributors to deduct these amounts from their taxable income on the ground that the money is used for "education." But private espionage is not included in the normal understanding of the term "education" and a protest has been made against the deduction of gifts to the league. The fact that Lipschutz is treasurer adds interest to the financial affairs of the league.

The head waiter watched the traffic officer enter the cafe and give his order. Seeking revenge for a bawling out the officer had given him a few days previously, the waiter growled out in a loud voice so everyone in the place could hear: "Say, Yokel, can't you ever learn which fork to use?"

Old Lady (at seashore)—Can't something be done for that ship in distress?

Coast Guard — It's all right, mum, we have sent a line to the crew to come ashore.

Old Lady—Good gracious! Must they have a formal invitation in a time like this?

A fond mother went to the furniture store and bought a perambulator for her new baby. Of necessity, she secured it on the installment plan. When she called to make the final payment, the patient merchant asked how her baby was getting on? To which she responded: "Oh, he's getting on just fine—he was graduated from high school last week."

Wolf — What's your name, honey?

Lamb—Marcia Jones, 521 South street. Now don't you dare follow me.

In Detroit, a woman won a prompt divorce, after telling hizzoner that her husband "would kiss the DOG goodbye and give ME a pat before going to work each morning!"

Reporter—Now that you are wealthy, are you ever bothered by the friends you had when you were poor?

Man of Wealth—I never had any friends when I was poor.

Some cause happiness wherever they go, others whenever they go.

May we never be influenced by jealousy nor governed by interest.

ROSENDALE

Rosendale, Dec. 4—A miscellaneous bake sale was held for the benefit of the village library fund. It was reported a financial success and the proceeds will be presented to Mrs. Auchmoody, village librarian, at the annual Christmas party at Spindler's Resort Dec. 13.

Plans are now being made for the annual Christmas party for the children of the town of Rosendale. Mayor Vaughan has made an appeal for funds to the various organizations and merchants who in previous years have furnished refreshments for the party. Anthony Cacchio, owner of the Rosendale Theatre, again has offered the theatre for a free performance for the kiddies, a suitable film for the kiddies will be shown Dec. 23. Arrangements are in the making to have Santa Claus visit the theatre and distribute gifts of ice cream and candy. The Sportsmen's Association and Women's Club of Rosendale already have contributed $5 to the fund. Contributions may be made by contacting Mayor Vaughn.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Advertising was sure in full swing back in 1876, according to The Daily Freeman of July 5, 1876 printed right here in Kingston (at Rondout.) I always like to read the old drug advertisements. Perhaps because I have seen so many of the old patent medicines on my father's shelves and perhaps the way they were allowed to be written up years ago. They cured about everything, according to their advertisement and had a fine way of saying it. For instance, Brigg's Corn and Bunion Remedies have promoted peace and happiness — sold by Deyo . . . Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies have enabled sufferers to observe religious exercises . . . Headache and neuralgia, misery hard to endure, cured with Briggs Allevantor. Those are the mild writeups but for various other diseases of lungs and otherwise. Briggs had quite a "speel" like the old medicine man.

Some of the advertisements amaze me like "A. H. Baylor, Ulster County Dye Works, Wilbur road, Garments dyed and cleaned. Decker, Radcliff and Wood and Myer Weil, Agents." To think that 100 years after the Revolution, our little community was well set up to even have their garments dyed and cleaned, professionally. I wonder what their methods were, what types of dyes did they use, and also cleaning fluids? Perhaps some of the experiences of the above dye works has been handed down by a local family still living here. I would like to hear more about it.

John D. Sleight of 21 Wall street, Kingston, was advertising "Furniture of all Kinds." I wonder was he making it himself. His advertisement also advises: "Reduction in prices," so he must have been in business a while. When it came to watches, many Kingstonians owned watches and jewelry back in 1876 for three jewelers are listed on the front page in large print. One is George W. Dunn, "Dealer in fine jewelry, clocks, watches, etc., Union avenue (now Broadway.)", "John T. Bond, Jr., Watchmaker and Jeweler at Winter's news store, The Strand, Rondout." As I remember reading somewhere, Bond used to set the watches for the local railroad companies. Then there was "H. I. Gorta, watchmaker and jeweler, tobacco, segars and gent's furnishing goods," he was at Union avenue, opposite Sampson Hall. (For those who do not 'remember' or know where Union avenue and Sampson Hall was. It was down at the corner of Broadway and Strand. The Freeman office is now in the former Sampson Hall building. It was then also known as the Sampson Opera House, one of the most impressive buildings in Kingston.)

One of the girls in the Kerley store on the Strand once showed me an old sign which no doubt was in front of their store long ago. I don't remember exactly what it said. But now quoting from this 1876 Freeman: "James Kerley, dealer in foreign, domestic and fancy dry goods, ladies' and gents' furnishing goods, shirts made to order. 177 The Strand, nearly opposite Post Office, Rondout, N. Y." shows that store has been here at least three quarters of a century. At the time, it was one of the larger advertisements. As I remember Keith's and Fowler's hardware store on the Strand still have some of the old wooden counters which allowed room at the bottom for hoop skirts, so perhaps Kerley's have a counter like that too. I must ask next time.

New Ship Uses Wood

New York (AP)—Nearly three million board feet of lumber and wood was used in connection with the construction of the new passenger liner SS United States, reports the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. More wood was used in the construction of the liner, considered an all-metal ship, than is normally used in the construction of large all-wood vessels. The wood was used for patterns, crates, scaffolds and launching eqiupment. The United States is an all-metal ship.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail food prices showed little change this week.

Eggs were marked down 2 to 6 cents a dozen in numerous stores. Various roasting cuts of pork were reduced a few cents a pound in some places, but otherwise there was little uniformity in items being specially priced by the leading chains and independent markets to attract customers. Small advances in some fresh fruits and vegetables were about offset by declines in others.

So this looked like a good week to do some careful shopping around if you're watching those food budget pennies.

The cheaper pork reflected heavy slaughtering in recent weeks plus the overwhelming competition other meats got last week when the emphasis was on Thanksgiving feast turkeys.

In addition to pork roasts, other popular meat cuts which stores picked as "specials" this week included beef chuck roasts, sirloin and porterhouse steaks, legs of lamb, hams and, in a few places, frying chickens. Many markets also stressed fresh and frozen fish.

Turkey Still Good Buy

Turkey continued to be a good buy in most stores but few butchers were talking much about turkey so soon after Thanksgiving.

Agriculture Department market news men recommended that shoppers check veal rib chops, stewing veal and breast of veal for possible bargains—they've been low priced at wholesale.

Heavier shipments of snap beans, cucumbers and eggplant from the south tipped their prices lower in distant city markets this week. Also lower as a rule: Beets, Brussels sprouts, endive, escarole, squash and sweet potatoes.

But cauliflower, celery, best lettuce, peppers, good quality tomatoes, and spinach moved higher.

In the fruit bins, most citrus fruits (except lemons) were lower, along with pears—mostly of the Bosc variety now—and apples. Oranges, grapefruit and red emperor grapes were fruit) specials in many places. Tangerines were declining pricewise as bigger supplies arrived from Florida, and were expected to reach the good buy class by next week.

The first California navel oranges of the season showed up in retail markets all the way to the east coast this week.

Butter Unchanged

Retail butter prices were generally unchanged but the wholesale quotation edged below the government support level and for the first time in about 19 months the Agriculture Department bought butter under the mandatory price support program.

A butter department authority in New York said "we simply have more butter on hand right now than we know what to do with. Production is running far ahead of last year and use of storage stocks is only about half the year-ago rate. We're starting December with about 82 million pounds in warehouses—over 20 million more than at this time last year."

The Agriculture Department stressed oranges and pork as most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week. The early and mid-season orange crop (which includes winter oranges) is expected to total nearly 62 million boxes, which would be 8 per cent above last year's and 29 per cent above average.

Coffee Tops Exports

New York (AP)—Dependence of Brazils' economy on a one-crop export-coffee is illustrated by figures for the first half of 1952, reported by the Brazilian Government Trade Bureau here. During the first six months, coffee accounted for 69.4 per cent of total export volume with a value of $487,820,833. The next highest single export item was raw cotton which accounted for only 3.6 per cent of total export trade with a value of $25,204,725.

Coffee Tops Exports

New York (AP)—Dependence of Brazils' economy on a one-crop export-coffee is illustrated by figures for the first half of 1952, reported by the Brazilian Government Trade Bureau here. During the first six months, coffee accounted for 69.4 per cent of total export volume with a value of $487,820,833. The next highest single export item was raw cotton which accounted for only 3.6 per cent of total export trade with a value of $25,204,725.

Adlai and HST Discuss Future of Democratic Party

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—President Truman, Adlai Stevenson and other Democratic party leaders meet in the privacy of the White House today to dig for a way out of a landslide political defeat.

Nobody was talking in advance of their conference (10 a. m.), although Truman may have some news when he receives reporters afterward (4 p. m.).

But there seemed no doubt that number one of the agenda was the question: How can the Democrats, voted out of office last Nov. 4 for their first presidential defeat since 1928, regain their winning ways?

The number two question appeared to be: Who will play what roles in the comeback try?

A crowd of some 200, mostly women and children, met Stevenson at Washington's National Airport last night and shouted and waved one reply to that last question.

Some chanted "We want Adlai" and others "Stevenson in '56." There were banners that read "Retrieve With Steve."

Won't Be Back

The Illinois governor and defeated Democratic presidential nominee was noncommittal. He told the welcoming group, "I have only this to say aside from my gratitude—I'm not coming back for four years."

To inquiring reporters Stevenson said, "I came at the invitation of President Truman. I suppose we're going to discuss the Democratic party and have a little farewell dinner."

There was no elaboration. It was not clear whether Stevenson's "Not coming back for years" expressed a hint he might run again in 1956, chagrin at losing the last election, a plan to take a back seat in national party affairs for that long, or something else.

The "farewell dinner" was a reference to tonight's final dinner gathering of President and Mrs. Truman, Stevenson, cabinet officers and "some former members" of the cabinet (8 p. m.).

Stevenson dined at the White House with President and Mrs. Truman last night. He arrived at about 6:30 p. m., after flying from Atlantic City, N. J., where he attended memorial services for the late CIO President Philip Murray, a staunch Stevenson backer in the presidential campaign.

Grass Grows in Streets

Annapolis, Md. (AP) — Grass grows in the streets of old Annapolis. The city engineer said so in his annual report on conditions in Maryland's capital. "Residents have allowed weeds and grass to grow in gutters in front of their homes," the report said.

Skelton, Second Wife Find It Hard to Agree

Hollywood, Dec. 4 (AP)—The marital status of comedian Red Skelton and his second wife, the former, photographer's model Georgia Maureen Davis, was obscured today in a maze of conflicting statements.

Skelton said yesterday that he and his red-haired wife were getting a divorce, although "I'm so much in love it's pitiful."

Georgia, Freeman Keyes, Red's business partner, and Bo Roos, his business manager, later issued a statement saying the comic's announcement about the divorce was issued "in haste, and there will be no divorce, at the moment."

Mrs. Skelton said, on her own, that she doesn't want a divorce, although she admitted that she doesn't get along with Red "and he doesn't get along with me."

Jury Panel Will Get Data on Surplus Ships

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Long-investigated deals in surplus U. S. tankers came to the top of the heap today as Atty.-Gen. McGranery continued to clean up old cases at the Justice Department.

McGranery announced last night that a federal jury panel here next week will be given all of the evidence in the surplus vessel sales after World War 2. The deals are reputed to have netted millions in profits for those who picked up the ships at bargain prices and re-sold them.

Involved in the transactions were many prominent figures. These included former Rep. Joseph E. Casey (D.-Mass.); Gen. Lucius C. Holmes, one-time U. S. minister to London; retired Fleet Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey; E. Stanley Klein, New York businessman; the late Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., a former secretary of state, and Newbold Morris, Republican former president of the New York City Council.

Dr. March Dies

Schenectady, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—Dr. John Lewis March, professor emeritus of psychology at Union College, died last night in Ellis Hospital. He was 79.

Joins With Federation

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Dairymen's League Cooperative Association is joining with a federation of 94 other milk cooperatives to oppose possible continuation of price controls by the next Congress. Leon A. Chapin, president of the association, announced the move yesterday and said: "There is no need for price controls, and we shall oppose any legislation presented to the next Congress that would continue such controls on either an active or standby basis."

Scrap steel provides roughly half of each ton of new steel in modern steel production plants.

White Makes Appeal

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—An eastern railroad president asked American industry today for aid in ridding the railroads of "restrictive over-regulation" which he blamed for "depression-size" profits. William White of the New York Central made the appeal in a prepared address before the annual Congress of American Industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers. He told the more than 3,000 industrialists that he believed freight rates would be lower today had the railroads been permitted by law to increase their rates within 30 days of incurring substantial increases in costs.

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Long-investigated deals in surplus U. S. tankers came to the top of the heap today as Atty.-Gen. McGranery continued to clean up old cases at the Justice Department.

McGranery announced last night that a federal jury panel here next week will be given all of the evidence in the surplus vessel sales after World War 2. The deals are reputed to have netted millions in profits for those who picked up the ships at bargain prices and re-sold them.

Involved in the transactions were many prominent figures. These included former Rep. Joseph E. Casey (D.-Mass.); Gen. Lucius C. Holmes, one-time U. S. minister to London; retired Fleet Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey; E. Stanley Klein, New York businessman; the late Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., a former secretary of state, and Newbold Morris, Republican former president of the New York City Council.

Joins With Federation

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Dairymen's League Cooperative Association is joining with a federation of 94 other milk cooperatives to oppose possible continuation of price controls by the next Congress. Leon A. Chapin, president of the association, announced the move yesterday and said: "There is no need for price controls, and we shall oppose any legislation presented to the next Congress that would continue such controls on either an active or standby basis."

White Makes Appeal

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—An eastern railroad president asked American industry today for aid in ridding the railroads of "restrictive over-regulation" which he blamed for "depression-size" profits. William White of the New York Central made the appeal in a prepared address before the annual Congress of American Industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers. He told the more than 3,000 industrialists that he believed freight rates would be lower today had the railroads been permitted by law to increase their rates within 30 days of incurring substantial increases in costs.

Can You Spot Error That Lost Contract?

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When today's hand was played, South found an easy way to lose his game contract. It was so easy, in fact, that South still doesn't know that he could (and should) have made the game.

Just for the fun of it see if you can discover where South went wrong in the play of today's hand. Who can tell—you might hold this type of hand the next time you play bridge.

South won the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades and drew three rounds of trumps. He then led a low club from his hand and ducked completely in the dummy.

East won with the nine of clubs and was unkind enough to return the jack of diamonds. The defenders therefore took three diamonds, a club, and a spade, defeating the contract before South could get well started.

Have you spotted South's error? If not, look at the hand closely to find the correct line of play before you read on.

Opening lead—♠ K

South was on the right track until he played the first card from dummy. Then, unfortunately, he went wrong.

The correct play is to let West hold the first trick with the king of spades. If West shifts to clubs, (the best defense) dummy wins with the king of clubs, and South enters his hand with the ace of hearts in order to lead the jack of spades. West naturally plays the queen of spades, and dummy plays low again!

West leads another club, still trying to get the lead to his partner, and dummy rises to take the trick with the ace of clubs. The ace of spades is now cashed, and South discards his last club. Now declarer can ruff a club with a high trump, draw trumps ending in the dummy, and run two established clubs to discard two low diamonds from his own hand.

The whole idea of the hand is to establish dummy's clubs without allowing East to gain the lead. The method is to give West an undeserved spade trick in order to rob East of a "natural" club trick. Fair exchange is no robbery.

MT. TREMPER

Mt. Tremper, Dec. 3—The deer and bear hunting season, which closed Sunday, was one of the best ever. More deer were killed in this area than in the past several seasons. Among the local residents who shot a deer during the season were Roger Winne, Buster Brinks, Ralph Chase, Richard Byron, Clyde Smith and Kenneth Umhey.

The Rev. Daniel York Brink and Mrs. Brink of Scotia visited their aunt, Mrs. Charles Gustafson, recently. The Brinks were on their way to Woodburne, where his father was minister at one time. Woodburne is celebrating its 150th anniversary and the Rev. Mr. Brink was a guest speaker at the celebration.

Mt. Tremper Grange will hold a Christmas party for its members Monday, Dec. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Mellevold, owners of Mt. Tremper Lodge, spent the weekend here and then returned to their winter home at Port Washington, L. I. The Mellevolds plan to spend the Christmas holidays at their daughter's home in Florida.

A combined birthday and Thanksgiving party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Umhey Thursday. The birthday celebrant was Mrs. Henry Maben of Allaben, who is Mrs. Umhey's mother. The other guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Umhey, Henry Maben, Henry Maben, Jr., Miss Shirley Maben, Mr. and Mrs. John Callaghan, Miss Rosalia Callaghan, Arthur Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Umhey, the Misses Patricia and Shelia Umhey and Master Kenneth Umhey.

A group of 22 local residents met in the former Mt. Tremper school Monday night to form a volunteer fire company for the Mt. Tremper-Mt. Pleasant area. If the application is approved by the Board of fire commissioners, the new company will be part of the Phoenicia Fire District and will probably be known as Hose Company No. 3. The men present at the meeting included: Reginald Every, Sr., Bernard Brinks, Otto Umhey, Alex Schoen, Richard Klein, Richard Kahil, Joseph O'Donnell, Joseph Haver, Herbert Epstein, Burton Lane, Clyde Smith, Thomas McCrosson, Chester Janick, Harry Carle, Frank Carle, Howard Umhey, Reginald Every, Jr., Reese Smith, Richard Byron, Kenneth Umhey, Clyde Smith was elected temporary president.

New York's Deputy Mayor to Eulogize Deceased Elks

The eulogy at memorial services for deceased members of Kingston Lodge, 550, BPO Elks, Sunday will be delivered by Charles Horowitz, deputy mayor of New York, affiliated with No. 1 Lodge of the metropolitan city.

An invitation is extended by Exalted Ruler Francis J. McCardle to the public to attend the services in the local lodge, 264 Fair street, starting at 8 p. m.

Sixteen Elks from Kingston Lodge died during the year. They were Benjamin Ungar, Dr. A. L. Hill, past exalted ruler; Jacob A. Bernstein, Morris Samter, Harold E. O'Brien, Thomas Linden, Jay O'Neil, George J. Gorsline, Frank Fabiano, Samuel Lovy, Irving Meyer, M. J. Cunningham, Andrew Magaldino, John W. Bradley, Albert H. Kaufman, Peter Donald.

Memorial Program

The program of services: Opening session, Francis J. McCardle, exalted ruler, presiding; invocation, the Rev. Stanley Dean, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, chaplain of the lodge; vocal selection, Jerusalem, by Parry, Kingston Mendelssohn Club; sacred session, officers of Kingston Lodge, 550; vocal selection, Grant Us to Do With Zeal, by Bach, Mendelssohn Club; eulogy by Deputy Mayor Horowitz of New York; selection, Thy Day Is Done, by Spross, Mendelssohn Club; closing ode, Auld Lang Syne, lodge and audience; benediction, the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Opening lead—♠ K

South was on the right track until he played the first card from dummy. Then, unfortunately, he went wrong.

The correct play is to let West hold the first trick with the king of spades. If West shifts to clubs, (the best defense) dummy wins with the king of clubs, and South enters his hand with the ace of hearts in order to lead the jack of spades. West naturally plays the queen of spades, and dummy plays low again!

West leads another club, still trying to get the lead to his partner, and dummy rises to take the trick with the ace of clubs. The ace of spades is now cashed, and South discards his last club. Now declarer can ruff a club with a high trump, draw trumps ending in the dummy, and run two established clubs to discard two low diamonds from his own hand.

The whole idea of the hand is to establish dummy's clubs without allowing East to gain the lead. The method is to give West an undeserved spade trick in order to rob East of a "natural" club trick. Fair exchange is no robbery.

MT. TREMPER

Mt. Tremper, Dec. 3—The deer and bear hunting season, which closed Sunday, was one of the best ever. More deer were killed in this area than in the past several seasons. Among the local residents who shot a deer during the season were Roger Winne, Buster Brinks, Ralph Chase, Richard Byron, Clyde Smith and Kenneth Umhey.

The Rev. Daniel York Brink and Mrs. Brink of Scotia visited their aunt, Mrs. Charles Gustafson, recently. The Brinks were on their way to Woodburne, where his father was minister at one time. Woodburne is celebrating its 150th anniversary and the Rev. Mr. Brink was a guest speaker at the celebration.

Mt. Tremper Grange will hold a Christmas party for its members Monday, Dec. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Mellevold, owners of Mt. Tremper Lodge, spent the weekend here and then returned to their winter home at Port Washington, L. I. The Mellevolds plan to spend the Christmas holidays at their daughter's home in Florida.

A combined birthday and Thanksgiving party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Umhey Thursday. The birthday celebrant was Mrs. Henry Maben of Allaben, who is Mrs. Umhey's mother. The other guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Umhey, Henry Maben, Henry Maben, Jr., Miss Shirley Maben, Mr. and Mrs. John Callaghan, Miss Rosalia Callaghan, Arthur Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Umhey, the Misses Patricia and Shelia Umhey and Master Kenneth Umhey.

A group of 22 local residents met in the former Mt. Tremper school Monday night to form a volunteer fire company for the Mt. Tremper-Mt. Pleasant area. If the application is approved by the Board of fire commissioners, the new company will be part of the Phoenicia Fire District and will probably be known as Hose Company No. 3. The men present at the meeting included: Reginald Every, Sr., Bernard Brinks, Otto Umhey, Alex Schoen, Richard Klein, Richard Kahil, Joseph O'Donnell, Joseph Haver, Herbert Epstein, Burton Lane, Clyde Smith, Thomas McCrosson, Chester Janick, Harry Carle, Frank Carle, Howard Umhey, Reginald Every, Jr., Reese Smith, Richard Byron, Kenneth Umhey, Clyde Smith was elected temporary president.

New York's Deputy Mayor to Eulogize Deceased Elks

The eulogy at memorial services for deceased members of Kingston Lodge, 550, BPO Elks, Sunday will be delivered by Charles Horowitz, deputy mayor of New York, affiliated with No. 1 Lodge of the metropolitan city.

An invitation is extended by Exalted Ruler Francis J. McCardle to the public to attend the services in the local lodge, 264 Fair street, starting at 8 p. m.

Sixteen Elks from Kingston Lodge died during the year. They were Benjamin Ungar, Dr. A. L. Hill, past exalted ruler; Jacob A. Bernstein, Morris Samter, Harold E. O'Brien, Thomas Linden, Jay O'Neil, George J. Gorsline, Frank Fabiano, Samuel Lovy, Irving Meyer, M. J. Cunningham, Andrew Magaldino, John W. Bradley, Albert H. Kaufman, Peter Donald.

Memorial Program

The program of services: Opening session, Francis J. McCardle, exalted ruler, presiding; invocation, the Rev. Stanley Dean, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, chaplain of the lodge; vocal selection, Jerusalem, by Parry, Kingston Mendelssohn Club; sacred session, officers of Kingston Lodge, 550; vocal selection, Grant Us to Do With Zeal, by Bach, Mendelssohn Club; eulogy by Deputy Mayor Horowitz of New York; selection, Thy Day Is Done, by Spross, Mendelssohn Club; closing ode, Auld Lang Syne, lodge and audience; benediction, the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Elizabeth Flynn Begins Jail Term

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, one of the 13 defendants in the Communist conspiracy trial, was in jail today serving a 30-day sentence for contempt of court.

Trial of the 13 second-string American Red leaders is in recess until next Wednesday, when motions will be heard by Federal Judge Edward Dimock without the jury present.

The jury was excused yesterday, "subject to call," after the defense rested its case. The prosecution rested Sept. 23.

The 13 Reds have been in trial since March 21 on Smith Act charges of conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Judge Refuses Stay

The judge refused yesterday to stay the serving of two concurrent 30-day sentences he imposed on Miss Flynn, a member of the Communist national committee, on Nov. 20. The sentences had been postponed on the ground her freedom was necessary in presenting the defense. Miss Flynn was sentenced for refusing to answer questions on the witness stand about persons not on trial.

Miss Flynn was taken to the New York City Women's House of Detention in Greenwich Village.

Graney Is Dead Of Heart Attack

John Thomas Graney, 44, of 35 Rock street, was found dead at the former city home, Flatbush avenue, today.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said death was due to "coronary occlusion."

Information obtained by the coroner and police indicated that Graney slumped and fell on a chair as he was walking through a room.

Isaac Beatty, custodian of the building, which has not been in use for some time, found him there, and notified police headquarters, the report said.

Sgt. Robert Murphy dispatched Officers Edward Leonard and Leonard Ellsworth to the scene. They reported the man apparently dead and the coroner was called.

Authorities indicated that Graney had visited Beatty occasionally.

The body was turned over to James M. Murphy. The funeral will be held from the Murphy Funeral Home at 9:30 a. m., Saturday and a solemn high Mass will be offered at St. Mary's Church at 10 a. m. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. He is survived by his parents, John and Ann Costella Graney, and a sister, Mrs. Kenneth Van Etten.

Sinatra Jewels Gone

Los Angeles, Dec. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Sinatra, divorced wife of singer Frank Sinatra, has reported approximately $30,000 worth of her jewels are missing from her home. Although she has insurance coverage, Mrs. Sinatra said many of the pieces have sentimental value. The first check showed the missing jewels included a diamond ring, necklace and bracelet.

Rapids to Meet

Funeral services for John H. Quinlan of 80 Marius street, formerly of Newburgh, were held Tuesday morning with the Rev. Allen Tongue of St. George's Episcopal Church, Newburgh, officiating. Burial was in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Newburgh.

Miss Marian Herbert

Miss Marian Herbert, former librarian of Kingston Library, died Wednesday night at Kingston Hospital following a brief illness. She would have been 77 years of age Dec. 12. Miss Herbert was born in New York and later lived a number of years in Kingston with her mother, the late Mrs. Gilbert I. Herbert. After leaving Kingston during the 1920's, she served as librarian in several other cities including Philadelphia, Pa., Oneonta, Lansford and Wilkes-Barre, Pa. She was librarian in the latter city more than 20 years and retired from that post a few years ago. She returned to Kingston where she had many friends shortly before her final illness. Miss Hebrert is survived by two nephews, Dr. Henry H. Shultz, Albany and William Shultz, Wood's Hole, Mass., both formerly of this city; and several cousins, including Herbert L. Shultz, Kingston; Edwin D. Shultz, Altamont and Mrs. Kathryn Freeman, Cody, Wyo., also formerly of Kingston. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street. The Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Church will officiate. Burial will be in the Herbert plot, Woodlawn Cemetery, New York.

William Oakley

William Oakley, 56, a lifelong resident of Napanoch, died Tuesday at Ellenville Veterans Memorial Hospital following a heart attack. He was born in Stone Ridge, son of Abner and Emily Osterhoudt Oakley. Mr. Oakley was employed as a guard at the Institution for Male Defective Delinquents, Napanoch. He attended St. Mark's Methodist Church and was a charter member and immediate past commander of Cook-Taylor Post 111, American Legion. He was also a Girl Scout Camp committeeman and an alternate delegate to the Ulster County Committee of the American Legion and a member of the Legion color guard and Ulster County Voiture 381, 40 and 8. He is survived by his widow, Helen Brown Oakley; three daughters, Anne, Jane and Carol; a half-brother, Floyd Oakley, and a half-sister, Mrs. Lester Countryman of High Falls, also several aunts and uncles. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Pulling Funeral Home, Ellenville, with the Rev. Lawrence Garner, pastor of St. Mark's Church, officiating. Burial will be in Fantinekill Cemetery. Bearers will be Ray Crossman, Harry Wright, Leonard Quick, George Winsman, Howard Stewart and Stanley Lawrence. The uniformed color guard of the Legion will serve as honorary bearers. Guards will hold a memorial service at 7 p. m. Thursday at the funeral home, the Cook-Taylor Post at 8 p. m., led by Commander Lawrence O'Neill and Chaplain Charles Wesley Garrett (acting), and the Ulster County Voiture, 40 and 8, at 8:30 p. m., led by Commander Stanley Lawrence.

Congress Is . . .

and foster world trade relations.

Coe's refusal to answer questions about his past before the Senate subcommittee Monday was called "the sorriest spectacle I have ever witnessed" by Acting Chairman O'Conor (D.-Md.). The senator demanded Coe's ouster.

The subcommittee has also been investigating American employes of the UN, nearly a score of whom have refused to say whether they were ever Communists.

The federal grand jury in New York Tuesday completed an 18-month inquiry by handing up a 3,000-word presentment charging there is a "concentration of disloyal Americans" in the UN and its related agencies.

Given to Judge

The presentment was given Federal Judge David N. Edelstein after several hours delay during which jurors reported they were urged to delay it or "tone it down."

A State Department spokesman said it had nothing to do with any such attempt.

As investigators were speeded to New York late yesterday, the House Judiciary Subcommittee announced it had a promise of complete cooperation from Atty.-Gen. McGranery in its inquiry.

The presentment charged that in some of the "most flagrant and obvious cases of disloyalty" in the UN, the persons involved had been cleared by the State Department.

Further, the jurors charged, the State Department had blocked their "attempt to discover" the reason for "these misleading evaluations."

State Probe . . .

was all right," Kennedy replied.

"Yes," said Kennedy.

Kennedy said his firm, for years, gave Ryan $500 each spring and $1,000 each Christmas. Smaller payments went to other ILA men, he said, and also to representatives of the AFL Teamsters Union and the AFL Warehouse and Paper Handlers Union.

Yates Is Quoted

From private testimony, the commission quoted Capt. Douglas Yates, a vice president of the Jarka Corp., the city's largest stevedoring firm, as saying the company could not be sure of enough help to service ships without the aid of five certain ILA men.

The commission further quoted Yates as saying: "We wanted these people at our beck and call."

Also on the public record were the private testimony of Capt. Philip G. O'Reilly, another Jarka vice president.

O'Reilly was quoted as stating: "I say that if you can stop the loading racket in the Port of New York, you have stopped all other rackets in the Port of New York." If you get rid of the loaders * * * it would be a Godsend. The amount of business we have lost is out of this world because of the loaders."

O'Reilly said New York is the only east coast port where public loaders move cargoes onto or off the docks, with the longshoremen doing the loading or unloading of the ships.

Couple Returned

city. Arrested on that charge, each was sentenced to a year in the house of correction. The term expired Nov. 28 of this year. On their discharge, the two waived extradition and local authorities left on Monday afternoon for Chicago to return them to Ulster county.

Galley, a six-foot, 170 pound man, said he was a printer and was unemployed when he was booked at the Ulster County Court House on Wednesday. Barbara Jolin, who listed her occupation as housewife, stands five feet, one inch and weighs 120 pounds. Both gave their address as 553 Fullerton Parkway, Chicago. A second charge, alleging violation of parole, was also filed against Galley in Ulster county, the sheriff's office said.

Election Is Expected

Alantic City, N. J., Dec. 4 (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, young chief of the CIO's Auto Workers Union, was expected to be chosen as president of the CIO today at a convention finale. Voting was expected late this afternoon. Reuther, believed all along to have sufficient votes to become the late Philip Murray's successor as top man in the CIO, gained added strength as the voting stage neared.

Graney Is Dead Of Heart Attack

John Thomas Graney, 44, of 35 Rock street, was found dead at the former city home, Flatbush avenue, today.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said death was due to "coronary occlusion."

Information obtained by the coroner and police indicated that Graney slumped and fell on a chair as he was walking through a room.

Isaac Beatty, custodian of the building, which has not been in use for some time, found him there, and notified police headquarters, the report said.

Sgt. Robert Murphy dispatched Officers Edward Leonard and Leonard Ellsworth to the scene. They reported the man apparently dead and the coroner was called.

Authorities indicated that Graney had visited Beatty occasionally.

The body was turned over to James M. Murphy. The funeral will be held from the Murphy Funeral Home at 9:30 a. m., Saturday and a solemn high Mass will be offered at St. Mary's Church at 10 a. m. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. He is survived by his parents, John and Ann Costella Graney, and a sister, Mrs. Kenneth Van Etten.

Sinatra Jewels Gone

Los Angeles, Dec. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Sinatra, divorced wife of singer Frank Sinatra, has reported approximately $30,000 worth of her jewels are missing from her home. Although she has insurance coverage, Mrs. Sinatra said many of the pieces have sentimental value. The first check showed the missing jewels included a diamond ring, necklace and bracelet.

eration which had been given by Hubert Hoderath, director, of our Vocational Education program in connection with the local industry program. The board was congratulated on having such a high type director in charge of the program.

A communication was received from the New York State Employes' Retirement System authorizing the retirement of Mrs. Emma C. Craw, a cafeteria employe as of December 1.

VFW to Use Hall

Permission was granted the VFW for use of the George Washington auditorium for a minstrel show on December 10.

The P-TA of School No. 7 sent communication asking that a speech teacher be employed in the school system. Referred to the Teachers Committee.

A communication was received from the Ulster County Health Department relative to the discharge of kitchen waste in the brook which flows past the Washington school. The health department stated there was no danger to health from the present use. The communication was filed.

To Issue Bonds

At the last meeting of the board it was voted to issue bonds for payment of the final work on the Washington School in the sum of $52,000; $157,000 for the field house and $190,500 for the cafeteria work in the high school, and that necessary anticipation notes be issued pending sale of the bonds. Last evening it was moved by Trustee O'Reilly for the finance committee that tax anticipation notes in the sum of $52,000 for the Washington School be issued, that $100,000 in notes be issued for work on the field house which will be needed prior to the first of the year and $150,000 would be needed by the end of the year for the cafeteria work.

The payroll for November amounting to $198,809.86; warrants in payment of FDA School lunch program for November in the sum of $5,770.07 and warrants in payment of Veterans Institutional on the Farm Training Program payroll for November in the sum of $630 authorized.

Warren Russell was granted permission to attend a Visual Education Conference in Syracuse on December 5 and 6, and Principal John H. Martin was granted permission to attend the New York State Secondary School Principal's Conference in Syracuse on December 14-16.

Regulation Amended

The board amended the regulation regarding teachers' absences as adopted in October. Teachers who are absent one, two or three days because of personal illness will not be required to supply a physician's certificate but may present as evidence a written statement to the principal, who, if satisfied with the evidence presented will file a statement of approval with the Board of Education. If absence is for more than three days a physician's certificate will be required. To claim credit for illness in the family the teacher shall present evidence as required in (a) (1) and (a) (2).

This change of the rule was made because it was considered a hardship to require a teacher to supply a physician's certificate when absence had been from a simple cold or minor illness where a physician was not called in.

No Action Taken

No action was taken by the board toward filling the vacancy which will be present when Principal John Henry Martin's resignation becames effective at the close of the present semester. The Teachers' committee has held no meeting on the matter of securing a principal for the high school job because of the almost impossible task of securing anyone at the mid-term period. Trustee Kalish inquired whether the committee was giving the matter consideration and was advised the committee had not met yet to begin action. It probably will be necessary to complete the present school year with an acting principal.

A contract to supply magazines to the schools was awarded Anna S. Newkirk for the sum of $655.50.

Because of the wide use of the Washington school facilities as a civic center, the board voted to engage an extra janitor there.

A report of the AA finances for the year was submitted by G. Warren Kias. Receipts were $4,937.46 to November 11 and expenses were $4,533.72, leaving a balance of $403.74 with outstanding bills amounting to $838.45.

Receipts from the Vocational School submitted by Director Hubert Hoderath showed a total of $770.95 to November 21.

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Lt. Gen. C. R. Huebner, director of the state Civil Defense Commission, recommended yesterday the immediate integration of the personnel and equipment of the Civil Air Patrol into local Civil Defense organizations throughout the state. Mostly, he said, the air patrol units should have the status of an essential service to cooperate locally with the medical, police and other Civil Defense groups. The exception would be personnel and equipment reserved for assignment with the U. S. Air Force.

To Boost Some Prices

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—The government is getting ready to boost ceiling prices on aluminum pots and pans. An Office of Price Stabilization official said yesterday an order will be issued before the end of the week granting manufacturers a 7 per cent increase in ceilings for pots and pans made of sheet aluminum and 8.5 per cent for utensils made of cast aluminum. The official said wholesalers and retailers will be permitted to pass the increase on to consumers.

The pansy is one of the oldest garden flowers in current use.

Food Production Cited

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—Foods valued at $3,514,472 were produced at 43 state farms, hospitals, prisons and other institutions in the year ended Oct. 31, the state Agriculture Department reports. The department said yesterday that the figure included 13,540,370 quarts of milk, 81,697 bushels of potatoes, 10,020 tons of other vegetables, 1,049 tons of meat and 598,175 dozens of eggs.

Hanstein Outlines Emergency Plans in Case of Bomb Attack

Ulster county's part in the simulated A-bomb explosion exercises to be held in New York city on Saturday, September 13, will be of a theoretical nature. No actual movement of men, equipment or materials will take place but the test will be observed by key Civil Defense personnel who will be in New York to witness the test.

Col. Allan L. Hanstein, Ulster county director, Major H. Edgar Timmerman, Sheriff Cluett Schantz, Major Roland Green, Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave and a representative of the Ulster county Welfare Department and other key personnel from Ulster county will be in New York during the test.

In New York city public and civil defense organizations from the metropolitan area will participate in the city's biggest A-bomb exercise held thus far, Herbert R. O'Brien, director of the New York office of Civil Defense, has announced.

These exercises will begin on December 11 when various divisions of the New York Civil Defense organizations will submit written solutions to problems concerned with the simulated air raid. The exercise will come to a conclusion on December 13 when a full scale participation in an early morning air raid alert.

Activities to Halt

This simulated A-bomb explosion is scheduled to take place between 8:30 a. m. and 9:30 a. m., 2,500 feet in the air over the intersection of Boston Post Road and Southern Boulevard, the Bronx.

The public is expected to take shelter when the "red alert" is sounded. Movement of usual traffic will halt and during the expected 15 minutes of the "red alert" activities in the city will be at a halt as Civil Defense workers go about their duties which they would be expected to perform in case of an actual raid.

Ulster county's participation in the exercises is purely a theoretical one and none of the local Civil Defense measures will be actually put into practice.

Col. Hanstein as director of the Ulster County Civil Defense program, has worked out a very thorough plan for participation in an actual emergency by Ulster county units. This plan for participation by Ulster county units in the event of an actual emergency is contained in an outline which covers some 20 pages of instruction to the various Civil Defense units and is the result of many days of study of the problems involved.

Kingston's Part

Ulster county and the city of Kingston, lying close to the metropolitan area, would be expected to take care of thousands of evacuees in the event of an actual bombing of New York city. This would entail numerous transportation problems, housing and feeding of these people as well as medical care of evacuees and many injured persons.

In the solution which has been prepared by Col. Hanstein and which would be put into effect in case of an actual bombing, these problems have been worked out.

The housing potentials of Ulster county and the city of Kingston, as shown by surveys, is over 50,000. Food, shelter, transportation and medical care for such a large number of persons has been anticipated in the "solution" and details have been worked out for putting the program into effect in case of need.

Key personnel has been briefed, all Civil Defense units would be called on to assist in the program and emergencies which would be bound to arise have been taken into consideration and worked out.

Would Handle 25,000

The study anticipates that at least 25,000 evacuees would be received in Ulster county, two thirds within 36 hours. Of that number it is anticipated 30 per cent of the evacuees received at the Reception Center would be walking wounded. Plans call for handling 15,000 evacuees by way of road transportation. This would create a traffic problem over routes 9-W, 32 and 209. Civil defense units have been assigned to this task and could move on short notice. An additional 7,500 evacuees would come by rail using the New York Central, West Shore Division, Wallkill Valley and O & W railroads. An additional 2,500 are anticipated by river transportation.

Buses, trucks and cars would be pressed into use and medical and housing units have been designated to go to key positions to aid. The matter of feeding this sudden influx of evacuees has been worked out and plans have been made to keep records of every evacuee at reception centers and distribution points. The city of Kingston would be expected to care for 4,000 evacuees.

Under the plan 10,000 evacuees would go by Route 209 and the O. & W. to the Ellenville area. Kingston, acting as a reception center for the county townships, would handle 7,500 coming by 9W, the West Shore Railroad and the river; Saugerties quota is 4,000 coming by 9W, the West Shore and the river; New Paltz has been given a quota of 4,000 by way of Route 32 and the Wallkill Valley Railroad.

Transportation

Plans to have buses and trucks meet the evacuees near the Orange county line have been made and even the possibility of the George Washington bridge being out of commission has been anticipated and the Bear Mountain bridge and the Mid-Hudson bridge at Poughkeepsie has been designated as alternates. Police, using mobile telephones, would direct traffic.

Food, clothing and shelter problems have been worked out and this plan will be in the hands of New York City Civil Defense authorities. Fire apparatus as well as emergency units, medical, and message centers to control the movement are all anticipated in the plan which has been worked out by Col. Hanstein and is being submitted to the Civil Defense authorities.

While all of these plans have been worked out and will be available on December 13 during the New York city simulated A-bomb test, none of them will be actually put into effect at that time and no Civil Defense unit will be actually called into service.

The plan developed in Ulster county appears to be one of the most comprehensive and complete in the state and could be put into effect within a very short time following an actual alert.

In submitting his plan, Col. Hanstein said he sincerely hoped the plan never would have to be actually put to the test.

Conquest of TB Being Helped by Yule Seal Drive

"The day when tuberculosis will be completely wiped out is being brought ever closer by research to which the people of Ulster county contribute when they buy Christmas Seals," Dr. F. W. Holcomb, Sr., vice-president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association said today.

The association is holding open house all this month to give folks an opportunity to inspect the association's facilities such as films, leaflets, records, exhibits and to learn about the health program.

Dr. Holcomb declared himself "Wholeheartedly behind the 1952 Christmas Seal Sale which is being conducted to raise money to support this tuberculosis control program of promotion of the community chest X-rays; special services to patients in the Ulster County TB Hospital; promotion and education in mental health; and cooperation with other health and welfare agencies. Of the total received, six per cent will be sent to the National Tuberculosis Association, Dr. Holcomb said, part of which is used for tuberculosis research.

Research Essential

"Research is leading to a better understanding of tuberculosis, the No. 1 killer among infectious diseases," Dr. Holcomb said, "and is essential to the total conquest of the disease.

Discovery of the tubercle bacillus—the germ which causes TB—knowledge that the disease is communicable, not inherited, development of tools for diagnosis such as the X-ray, and the contribution of drugs to the treatment of the disease, are all the result of research, he pointed out.

In the 30 years that the National Tuberculosis Association has been making grants for research from Christmas Seal Sale funds, 400 grants, totalling a million and a quarter dollars, have aided research projects. In the first year only four grants were made, while today 35 investigations are being aided by the NTA. Dr. Holcomb explained that this exansion was made possible by the growth of the Christmas Seal Sale.

Public Must Cooperate

He pointed to the studies on the chemistry of the tubercle bacillus, continuous since 1925, which have been of fundamental importance to other research. Studies in the nutrition of the germ led to the development of PPD, a substance for tuberculosis skin sensitivity tests, an example of a practical tool discovered as a result of basic research.

"No one need fear any longer to find out whether or not he has TB. The only danger lies in having it and not knowing it," he said. "research is providing us with the means to cure TB and to prevent it, but to use these tools effectively requires the cooperation of every citizen.

"Research is basic to every phase of the fight against tuberculosis and to whatever progress one can expect in the future," he said. "When we buy Christmas Seals, we share in this important work."

Japan Gets TV Job

Tokyo, (AP)—Japan will start turning out 2,000 television and radar tubes for an American company, starting in February. A $500000 contract to mass-produce electronic tubes was signed by the Tokyo Shibaura Electric Co. and the Eimo Co. of the United States.

Pentagon Changes 'Casualties' Rule

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Because people apparently think a casualty is a fatality, the Defense Department says it no longer is listing all men killed, wounded or missing in Korea as "casualties."

The Pentagon announcement yesterday said its weekly battle report will continue to show totals for dead, wounded and missing but will not total them up and list them as casualties.

Most reporters, however, continued to use the old form in tabulating latest Korean losses, announced yesterday.

Through last Friday, next of kin have been notified of 127,383 American casualties in Korean, an increase of 386 in a week. This total includes 20,004 killed, 94,367 wounded and 13,012 missing.

The Defense Department statement said the new policy is designed, not to minimize the number of casualties, but rather to "provide accurate and complete information."

Defense officials reportedly grew concerned about the word "casualty" during the recent presidential campaign, when Republicans began using the Korean war and the mounting casualty list as an issue. They waited until the campaign was over, however, to change the casualty reporting system.

UN Changes Are Expected

United Nations, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower is expected by sources here to make quick and sweeping changes in the United States delegation to the United Nations soon after he takes office Jan. 20. American sources familiar with the law said that Eisenhower, after he is inaugurated, will have the authority to remove all the American delegates to the seventh general assembly if they do not tender resignations.

Choose Rib Roast for Holiday

KING OF ALL MEATS is the succulent and tender standing rib roast of beef—a perfect Christmas treat if wisely chosen.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

The famed "roast beef of Merrie Old England" served at Christmas time, was a handsome standing rib roast, the king of all meats. So if your budget can stand the strain, choose this wonderful meat for your Christmas feast at home.

Talk over with your meat man the selection of your holiday roast. Demand a roast starting from the twelfth rib, known in many markets as a "first cut." This is the first cut next to the loin or steak section and contains the largest portion of the tender, large "eye" muscle.

Your dealer probably sells rib roasts at three different prices due to the difference in tenderness and ease of slicing.

The "first" cut is the finest roast. Larger rib roasts, called sixth and seventh ribs, are cut from the section near the shoulder pot roasts and are less tender and usually lower priced. The center ribs often are priced between the choice first cut and that of the sixth and seventh rib.

Make certain you get top-quality meat, well streaked with white or creamy fat. Ask for a roast that has been aged for added tenderness and flavor. Have the short ribs removed for a "short cut" roast. Save for a later meal for the family. Purchase at least a two-rib roast or 4 pounds of meat for a roast.

Plan on 1/3- to ½-pound of meat per serving after the removal of the short ribs. Unwrap roast at once and cover loosely with waxed paper or the inner wrapper in which it was wrapped. Keep the roast in the refrigerator and use it within 5 to 8 days.

Standing rib of beef roasts are easy to prepare. Wipe the roast with a damp cloth or paper towel, place it fat side up in a shallow, open pan and roast in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees F.) until the thermometer indicates the degree of doneness you desire. Do not add water and do not cover the roast during cooking.

Use a roast thermometer. An internal temperature of 140 degrees F. indicates a rare roast, 160 degrees F., medium, and 170 degrees F., a well-done roast. An 8-pound standing rib roast will require about 3 hours to reach the rare stage, 3½ hours to medium and 4½ to the well-done stage.

If yours is a very large roast (over 10 pounds) and you wish it to be rare, remove it from the oven just before it reaches 140 degrees F., for it will continue cooking a bit after its removal from the oven.

Traditional accompaniment for roast beef is Yorkshire pudding. Since this pudding cooks at a very high temperature, plan to remove the roast from the oven about 30 minutes before you plan to serve dinner. This permits the meat juices to "set" and makes carving easier. Mix the Yorkshire pudding, turn up the oven to 400 degrees F. and put the pudding in for a 30-minute baking.

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast: Prune juice, ready-to-eat cereal, fruited coffee cake, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Creamed, flaked fish on toast, buttered carrots, enriched bread, butter or margarine, sliced oranges and bananas, tea, milk.

Protest Teacher Transfer

Tel Aviv (AP) — When their eighth grade teacher was transferred to another class recently, his 30 pupils, all about 14, started a minor revolution that lasted four days before peace was restored. The pupils left their class, marched through corridors, upset tables and finally organized a demonstration aided by their parents. Protests were made to educational authorities who relented and restored their teacher, Ben Moshe. "You see, he was so good to us," one boy said. "He never went on with a lesson as long as one of us didn't understand properly."

Birthday of the Christmas Seal

Next week is the birthday of the Christmas Seal. The anniversary date is December 7. It was on that date, in 1907, that a great American tradition was born. Today in millions of American homes the Christmas Seal with the red Double-Barred Cross is as much a part of the holiday scene as the Christmas tree or Santa Claus. It carries a message of hope and good cheer, that tuberculosis can be defeated, if all of us work together.

It was on December 7, 1907, just three years after the formation of the National Tuberculosis Association, that Miss Emily P. Bissell, a welfare worker in Delaware, offered for sale the first Christmas Seal in this country to pay for continued treatment for eight tuberculosis patients. Her goal was $300, but she raised $3,000.

Ever since, the annual Christmas Seal Sale has been nationwide. It is conducted by the 3,000 voluntary associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association in every part of the United States and its territories. The Christmas Seal Sale is the sole source of support for their programs aimed at controlling, preventing, and eventually eliminating tuberculosis.

In the 46 years since the first Christmas Seal Sale, tuberculosis has been forced down from first to sixth place among the causes of death in this country. Despite this progress, however, tuberculosis today kills more people than all other infectious diseases combined. It attacks 115,000 Americans every year.

Those who buy and use Christmas Seals are helping to protect themselves and their neighbors from this killer, which attacks without obvious symptoms. They are helping the voluntary tuberculosis associations acquaint more and more people with the basic facts about TB, with the need for chest X-rays in an effort to find TB early, when it is easiest to cure. They are supporting medical research in the development of better ways of treating and preventing tuberculosis.

This is part of the personal contribution millions of Americans are making during the Christmas season. By buying and using Christmas Seals they are helping to save lives and to reduce the suffering of their less fortunate neighbors. December 7 is a birthday worth remembering.

Choose Rib Roast for Holiday

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

The famed "roast beef of Merrie Old England" served at Christmas time, was a handsome standing rib roast, the king of all meats. So if your budget can stand the strain, choose this wonderful meat for your Christmas feast at home.

Talk over with your meat man the selection of your holiday roast. Demand a roast starting from the twelfth rib, known in many markets as a "first cut." This is the first cut next to the loin or steak section and contains the largest portion of the tender, large "eye" muscle.

Your dealer probably sells rib roasts at three different prices due to the difference in tenderness and ease of slicing.

The "first" cut is the finest roast. Larger rib roasts, called sixth and seventh ribs, are cut from the section near the shoulder pot roasts and are less tender and usually lower priced. The center ribs often are priced between the choice first cut and that of the sixth and seventh rib.

Make certain you get top-quality meat, well streaked with white or creamy fat. Ask for a roast that has been aged for added tenderness and flavor. Have the short ribs removed for a "short cut" roast. Save for a later meal for the family. Purchase at least a two-rib roast or 4 pounds of meat for a roast.

Plan on 1/3- to ½-pound of meat per serving after the removal of the short ribs. Unwrap roast at once and cover loosely with waxed paper or the inner wrapper in which it was wrapped. Keep the roast in the refrigerator and use it within 5 to 8 days.

Standing rib of beef roasts are easy to prepare. Wipe the roast with a damp cloth or paper towel, place it fat side up in a shallow, open pan and roast in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees F.) until the thermometer indicates the degree of doneness you desire. Do not add water and do not cover the roast during cooking.

Use a roast thermometer. An internal temperature of 140 degrees F. indicates a rare roast, 160 degrees F., medium, and 170 degrees F., a well-done roast. An 8-pound standing rib roast will require about 3 hours to reach the rare stage, 3½ hours to medium and 4½ to the well-done stage.

If yours is a very large roast (over 10 pounds) and you wish it to be rare, remove it from the oven just before it reaches 140 degrees F., for it will continue cooking a bit after its removal from the oven.

Traditional accompaniment for roast beef is Yorkshire pudding. Since this pudding cooks at a very high temperature, plan to remove the roast from the oven about 30 minutes before you plan to serve dinner. This permits the meat juices to "set" and makes carving easier. Mix the Yorkshire pudding, turn up the oven to 400 degrees F. and put the pudding in for a 30-minute baking.

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast: Prune juice, ready-to-eat cereal, fruited coffee cake, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Creamed, flaked fish on toast, buttered carrots, enriched bread, butter or margarine, sliced oranges and bananas, tea, milk.

Protest Teacher Transfer

Tel Aviv (AP) — When their eighth grade teacher was transferred to another class recently, his 30 pupils, all about 14, started a minor revolution that lasted four days before peace was restored. The pupils left their class, marched through corridors, upset tables and finally organized a demonstration aided by their parents. Protests were made to educational authorities who relented and restored their teacher, Ben Moshe. "You see, he was so good to us," one boy said. "He never went on with a lesson as long as one of us didn't understand properly."

At a recent meeting of the teachers and officers of the Wallkill Reformed Church Sunday school at the parsonage, Superintendent Edmund C. Cooper presided. Plans were made for the annual Christmas party for the children in the Sunday school and the committee named was: Mrs. Joseph Morris, Mrs. Jack Kessler, and Mrs. Jack Ross, Jr. A lengthy discussion was held on the condition of the Sunday school rooms and the possible organization of a nursery for young children during regular worship service for the convenience of mothers. A property committee of Mrs. Jesse McHugh, Miss Mary DuBois and Howard C. Terwilliger was named to work with the committee from the young adults to obtain estimates to bring before the consistory. It was also decided to hold again this year on the Sunday before Christmas, Dec. 20, a white Christmas offering which will be sent to a Home Mission of the Reformed Churches of America. The meeting was closed with The Lord's Prayer.

Wallkill Central School students will compete again in the annual School Press project which is sponsored by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association. Purposes and aims of the project is to stimulate student interest in what is being done and what can be done in Ulster county to combat tuberculosis; secondly, to promote journalism by providing students with an opportunity to conduct an editorial campaign on a subject of primary importance to young people. Papers submitted will be reviewed by a committee of Ulster county residents. Outstanding entries selected by the state association will be forwarded to the National Tuberculosis Association for review by a national committee. Outstanding entries will receive certificates of honor.

WALLKILL NEWS

Wallkill, Dec. 3—Walter Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roberts, is home from Korea on a 40-day leave. On Wednesday, Nov. 24, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Terwilliger and son, Robert of Poughkeepsie celebrated with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Terwilliger.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Sloan spent Thanksgiving Day with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. David Siesholts of Youngstown, Pa. From there they motored to Harrisburgh, Pa., and spent the weekend with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Branning. Their son, John B., a student at East Stroudsburg, Pa., accompanied them on the trip.

Petty Officer 3/c Alfred L. Van Wyck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Van Wyck returned to the USS Iowa after a two-week leave. He has been an electronic technician connected with radar on the battleship for a period of 7½ months in Korean waters. Mr. and Mrs. Van Wyck held a pre-Thanksgiving dinner before his return to his ship at Norfolk, Va. Those present were Second Lieutenant and Mrs. Van Wyck of Hartford, Conn., Miss Elizabeth Sutton of Highland, Alfred, Richard, Mary Lou and Louisa Van Wyck and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Van Wyck.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vogel were hosts to her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grecewich and children, Nan, Sharon and Jill on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Palen were hosts at a party at their home held in honor of Frank Palen and his bride, the former Gladys Doering. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palen, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. James Palen and children of New Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vogel, and children, Judy and Joey, Mrs. Frank Greceiwch and children, Nan and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ross, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. David Scanlon of Poughkeepsie.

Miss Kay and Miss Florence Mower of Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie, spent the holiday weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mower.

Chauncey A. Morehouse, of Periomen School, Pennsburgh, Pa., spent the Thanksgiving weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Morehouse.

Mrs. George Sohn, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Caswell, Blair and Clifford Caswell, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bellarosa of Wallkill and Mrs. Aidah Billings of Pine Bush were Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Conklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Quick entertained Mrs. Eli H. Van Wagenen and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Van Wagenen and daughter, Carole, of Kingston Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Viola Jansen, Mrs. Louisa Parliman, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Christ, and Ned Sophin of Long Island were holiday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Parliman.

Mr. and Mrs. David Scanlon of Poughkeepsie entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palen, Sr. on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Morehouse entertained on the holiday for Harold Van Wyck of Wilmington, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Palen and children, Donna and Douglas of New Hurley, Chauncey A. Morehouse of Pennsburgh, Pa., Mrs. Jane R. Van Wyck, Miss Helen M. Van Wyck, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morris and sons, Jeffrey and Charles. Also callers at the Morehouse home Thanksgiving Day were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Behrens and sons, Edward and Ernest of Jacksonville, Vt.

Dr. and Mrs. Victor Van Wagenen and daughters of Fonda spent the holiday last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Macey E. Van Wagenen.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Terwilliger and children, Linda and Paul, Mrs. Robert Terwilliger, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terwilliger and sons, Edward and Robert were holiday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Terwilliger.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Masten were holiday guests of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. Ellis Masten.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Schrade and children, Lois and James, and Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Walden were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Sr. Thanksgiving Day.

At a recent meeting of the teachers and officers of the Wallkill Reformed Church Sunday school at the parsonage, Superintendent Edmund C. Cooper presided. Plans were made for the annual Christmas party for the children in the Sunday school and the committee named was: Mrs. Joseph Morris, Mrs. Jack Kessler, and Mrs. Jack Ross, Jr. A lengthy discussion was held on the condition of the Sunday school rooms and the possible organization of a nursery for young children during regular worship service for the convenience of mothers. A property committee of Mrs. Jesse McHugh, Miss Mary DuBois and Howard C. Terwilliger was named to work with the committee from the young adults to obtain estimates to bring before the consistory. It was also decided to hold again this year on the Sunday before Christmas, Dec. 20, a white Christmas offering which will be sent to a Home Mission of the Reformed Churches of America. The meeting was closed with The Lord's Prayer.

Wallkill Central School students will compete again in the annual School Press project which is sponsored by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association. Purposes and aims of the project is to stimulate student interest in what is being done and what can be done in Ulster county to combat tuberculosis; secondly, to promote journalism by providing students with an opportunity to conduct an editorial campaign on a subject of primary importance to young people. Papers submitted will be reviewed by a committee of Ulster county residents. Outstanding entries selected by the state association will be forwarded to the National Tuberculosis Association for review by a national committee. Outstanding entries will receive certificates of honor.

Trying to Retire

Waukon, La. (AP)—John C. Opfer, a druggist for 52 years, has been trying to retire for eight years and hasn't been able to yet. Opfer, still active at 75, sold his business in 1944 to Francis Sullivan, who had been a clerk in Opfer's drug store for 22 years. But because of a shortage of pharmacists during the war, Opfer stayed on—as an employe of Sullivan. Now Sullivan has a graduate pharmacist working in the store. But state law requires that he spend a year's internship under a registered pharmacist, so Opfer is still at work.

Huge Racing Take Reported by State; Two Cities Benefit

Albany, Dec. 4 (AP) — Two cities and three counties in New York state reaped more than 16½ million dollars this year in local taxes on horse racing.

The lion's share of the levies—$11,338,376 — went to New York city, Yonkers received $201,814.

Nassau county collected $3,997,559; Saratoga county, $960,555, and Genesee county, $40,142.

The revenues came from a 4 per cent local tax on pari-mutuel betting on the state's four flat tracks and a local levy of 15 per cent on general admissions at certain flat and harness tracks.

The local taxes are distinct from state levies on pari-mutuel betting and admissions at both flat and harness tracks. These sources netted state coffers a record $40,513,198 this year— a jump of 5½ millions over the old record set in 1951.

For General Expenses

Nearly all of the local revenues go into the general tax fund of the city or county and are earmarked for general governmental expenses. This helps reduce property taxes.

The local admissions levies were applied this year for the first time, after the 1952 Legislature had approved permissive legislation.

New York city's tax included $10,747,070 from its pari-mutuel levy and $591,306 from the admissions tax. Both taxes covered flat tracks. Aqueduct, Jamaica and part of Belmont Park are located within the city.

Nassau county got $3,576,074 from its pari-mutuel betting levy and $192,924 from an admissions tax at Belmont. It also collected $228,601 from harness track admissions at Roosevelt Raceway.

No local taxes on pari-mutuel betting at harness races have been authorized by the state.

Saratoga Revenue

Saratoga county got its revenue from a 4 per cent levy on pari-mutuel betting at its flat track. It is not authorized to tax admissions at either the thoroughbred races or at Saratoga Raceway, its harness track.

Genesee county collected its $40,142 from a tax on admissions at Batavia Downs, a harness track.

The city of Yonkers received its revenue from a tax on admissions at Yonkers Raceway, also a sulky track.

The local admissions taxes, authorized by the Legislature this year, in effect applied only to flat races in New York city and Nassau county and harness meets in the city of Yonkers and in Nassau, Erie, Orange and Genesee counties.

Erie and Orange counties did not impose the tax.

The local tax on flat-race betting, which originally was 5 per cent, is scheduled to expire in 1955. A 1950 state law provided for a progressive cut of 1 per cent a year in the tax, until 1955, when the tax will be 1 per cent.

The Legislature acted on the ground that the state constitution gave the state exclusive rights to pari-mutuel betting revenues.

Biblical Site Resettled

The Aviv, (AP)—A new agricultural settlement has been established on a famed Biblical site of the Holy Land—at Tsiklang, which is mentioned in the Book of Samuel as a place given by Ashish, King of Gath, to David after he had fled from Saul. Esiklag, now named Kibuz Lahaw, is on a hill in Southern Israel. The settlers say the soil is good for barley planting.

Births

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

Nov. 20—Emil Adam John to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert John Scheringer, Olive Bridge, and Wayne Allan to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anthony Mecca, 192 O'Neil street.

Nov. 21—Teri Lee to Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Buckley, Sunset Park, town of Ulster; Mary Jane to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Hallenbeck, Phoenicia, and John Wallace to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jack Mallon, Esopus.

Nov. 22—Susan Lee to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Charles Latz, Port Ewen, and David Joseph to Mr. and Mrs. John Frank Pugliese, 207 Smith avenue.

Nov. 23—Elizabeth Ann to Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert John Bahruth, Saugerties; William Francis, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mackesey, 112 East Chester street; Helene to Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaRocca, East Kingston; Audrey Jo to Mr. and Mrs. John Jesse Carro, Hurley, and Donald August to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Joseph Sauter, Bloomington.

Nov. 25—Kathy Ann to Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph Golgoski, Forest Glen Park, town of Ulster, and Steven Joel to Mr. and Mrs. Eli Zwick, High Falls.

Nov. 27—Robert Michael to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanley Porter, East Kingston.

In the Middle Ages when churchmen went into battle they often carried warclubs with heavy, sometimes spiked heads because canonical rules denied them the sword as a weapon of bloodshed.

Condition Good After Fall From Pile Driver

Peter Wisneski, Sr., of 52 Clifton avenue, who broke his leg last Friday, was reported to be in "good" condition at Kingston Hospital today. Wisneski's physician reported that the left leg had been broken just above the knee in a fall from a pile driver. Wisneski is employed by Island Dock, Inc.

Trying to Retire

Waukon, La. (AP)—John C. Opfer, a druggist for 52 years, has been trying to retire for eight years and hasn't been able to yet. Opfer, still active at 75, sold his business in 1944 to Francis Sullivan, who had been a clerk in Opfer's drug store for 22 years. But because of a shortage of pharmacists during the war, Opfer stayed on—as an employe of Sullivan. Now Sullivan has a graduate pharmacist working in the store. But state law requires that he spend a year's internship under a registered pharmacist, so Opfer is still at work.

When a train from the suburbs of Paris is late, officials give out slips showing the exact time of arrival so commuters will have evidence to explain their tardiness to their employers.

Child Is Injured

Nancy Diane Magnino, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Magnino, 96 Johnston avenue, this city, was injured Wednesday while at play. The child fell on a toy snow shovel and cut the roof of her mouth. She was taken to Kingston Hospital where seven stitches were required to close the wound. She was released today.

Huge Racing Take Reported by State; Two Cities Benefit

Albany, Dec. 4 (AP) — Two cities and three counties in New York state reaped more than 16½ million dollars this year in local taxes on horse racing.

The lion's share of the levies—$11,338,376 — went to New York city, Yonkers received $201,814.

Nassau county collected $3,997,559; Saratoga county, $960,555, and Genesee county, $40,142.

The revenues came from a 4 per cent local tax on pari-mutuel betting on the state's four flat tracks and a local levy of 15 per cent on general admissions at certain flat and harness tracks.

The local taxes are distinct from state levies on pari-mutuel betting and admissions at both flat and harness tracks. These sources netted state coffers a record $40,513,198 this year— a jump of 5½ millions over the old record set in 1951.

For General Expenses

Nearly all of the local revenues go into the general tax fund of the city or county and are earmarked for general governmental expenses. This helps reduce property taxes.

The local admissions levies were applied this year for the first time, after the 1952 Legislature had approved permissive legislation.

New York city's tax included $10,747,070 from its pari-mutuel levy and $591,306 from the admissions tax. Both taxes covered flat fracks. Aqueduct, Jamaica and part of Belmont Park are located within the city.

Nassau county got $3,576,074 from its pari-mutuel betting levy and $192,924 from an admissions tax at Belmont. It also collected $228,601 from harness track admissions at Roosevelt Raceway.

No local taxes on pari-mutuel betting at harness races have been authorized by the state.

Saratoga Revenue

Saratoga county got its revenue from a 4 per cent levy on pari-mutuel betting at its flat track. It is not authorized to tax admissions at either the thoroughbred races or at Saratoga Raceway, its harness track.

Genesee county collected its $40,142 from a tax on admissions at Batavia Downs, a harness track.

The city of Yonkers received its revenue from a tax on admissions at Yonkers Raceway, also a sulky track.

The local admissions taxes, authorized by the Legislature this year, in effect applied only to flat races in New York city and Nassau county and harness meets in the city of Yonkers and in Nassau, Erie, Orange and Genesee counties.

Erie and Orange counties did not impose the tax.

The local tax on flat-race betting, which originally was 5 per cent, is scheduled to expire in 1955. A 1950 state law provided for a progressive cut of 1 per cent a year in the tax, until 1955, when the tax will be 1 per cent.

The Legislature acted on the ground that the state constitution gave the state exclusive rights to pari-mutuel betting revenues.

Biblical Site Resettled

The Aviv, (AP)—A new agricultural settlement has been established on a famed Biblical site of the Holy Land—at Tsiklang, which is mentioned in the Book of Samuel as a place given by Ashish, King of Gath, to David after he had fled from Saul. Esiklag, now named Kibuz Lahaw, is on a hill in Southern Israel. The settlers say the soil is good for barley planting.

Births

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

Nov. 20—Emil Adam John to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert John Scheringer, Olive Bridge, and Wayne Allan to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anthony Mecca, 192 O'Neil street.

Nov. 21—Teri Lee to Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Buckley, Sunset Park, town of Ulster; Mary Jane to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Hallenbeck, Phoenicia, and John Wallace to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jack Mallon, Esopus.

Nov. 22—Susan Lee to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Charles Latz, Port Ewen, and David Joseph to Mr. and Mrs. John Frank Pugliese, 207 Smith avenue.

Nov. 23—Elizabeth Ann to Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert John Bahruth, Saugerties; William Francis, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mackesey, 112 East Chester street; Helene to Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaRocca, East Kingston; Audrey Jo to Mr. and Mrs. John Jesse Carro, Hurley, and Donald August to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Joseph Sauter, Bloomington.

Nov. 25—Kathy Ann to Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph Golgoski, Forest Glen Park, town of Ulster, and Steven Joel to Mr. and Mrs. Eli Zwick, High Falls.

Nov. 27—Robert Michael to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanley Porter, East Kingston.

Asks Rededication For U. S. Defense By Buying Bonds

A proclamation issued today by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk for the anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack, asked that we "rededicate ourselves to our country's defense effort," by buying U. S. Defense Bonds.

The message said that on Dec. 7, 1941, Americans were "profoundly shocked when the news of treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor filtered through to us on our radios."

The day, 11 years later, he said, is still remembered as a "symbol of infamy." Now, with Korea, it serves as a reminder "that we must not become complacent again," and relax vigilance against forces that would destroy our way of life.

Keeping defenses strong is no part-time job, but the responsibility of all of us, he said, and a way to share in the nation's defense effort is to buy United States Defense Bonds.

"As your mayor," he said, "I urge you to join me in reaffirming our determination that Pearl Harbor will not happen again. I urge you to buy defense bonds regularly to protect your own and your country's future."

Swans Alight on Lake

Raymond, Canada (AP)—Hunters and others in the district were treated to a rare sight when they saw about 100 beautiful white swans alighting on Alkali Lake south of here. The area is about 350 miles south of Edmonton.

Thinks Two Weeks Will Finish Span

James F. Loughran, county highway superintendent, said today his department anticipates completion of the redecking of a bridge in the Lake Katrine area for Truway traffic within the next two weeks.

Lumber to be used for the project is en route from South Carolina, and if it arrives on schedule work on the bridge is expected to start early next week.

Heavier Flooring

Heavier bridge flooring is required on the structure to carry traffic to and from the completed strip of the New York State Thruway between Saugerties and Sawkill.

An access road has been built in the area, and when the Sawkill end of the thruway is opened, through travel will be possible between there and Catskill.

Heavy trucks and other weighty vehicles will not be allowed to use the Sawkill-Saugerties section of the super highway.

A. R. Erskine, State Thruway Authority engineer at Poughkeepsie, said the state is ready to remove signs as soon as the bridge project is completed.

Recommends Offensive

St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP) — Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) recommended last night that a limited offensive be launched in Korea and criticized what he called the failure of several UN nations to carry their share of the burden in Korean fighting. He was especially critical of Australia, New Zealand and Canada. Douglas suggested that a knockout blow in Korea might be brought about by a joint landing on the neck of the peninsula short of the Yalu river.

Community Group To Present Yule Concert Sunday

Woodstock, Dec. 3—As a part of its program to keep alive the heritage of Christmas carols from all nations, the Catskill-Hurson Community Chorus will present one of its series of programs Sunday, Dec. 7, at 4 p. m. in the Dutch Reformed Church of Woodstock. The program will be under the direction of Rolland E. Heermance, with Freeman D. Bell as accompanist. The Rev. Harvey I. Todd is minister of the church sponsoring the program.

This concert, one in a series being presented by the Chorus in this area, is a continuance of the age-old custom of singing Christmas carols. Each Christmas people return to the singing of carols regardless of wars, political or economic conditions. Carols are simple, popular songs, usually with a religious impulse, which give voice to the common emotions of healthy people in language and music that can be understood by everyone. Down through the ages they have always expressed the manner in which the ordinary man at his best understood the ideas of his age. The charm of the old carol lies precisely in its having been true to the age in which it was written. Those which are alive today have retained their vitality because of this sincerity and their universal human appeal.

Carols Announced

With the Christmas message to be given during the program by the Rev. M. E. Van Nostrand, the following carols will be sung Sunday afternoon: Now Sing We Now Rejoice (Sweden) 15th Century Melody; A Joyous Christmas Song (France) Gavaert Collection; Roun' de Glory Manger (Negro Jubilee) arranged by W. L. James; Congregational Hymn, O Come, All Ye Faithful (Adeste Fideles); Laudamus Te, Carl F. Mueller; solo by Frank Thomas, O Little Town of Bethlehem; Hallelujah from Mount of Olives by Beethoven; Old Polish Christmas Carol arranged by Liszniewski; Glory to God from The Messiah by G. F. Handel; Harken, Harken, Mother Dear! (Czechoslovakia) arranged by Bement; The Twelve Days of Christmas (England) arranged by Eric Siday; The Christ of the Snow (Hungary) arranged by Harvey Gaul; I Wonder as I Wander (Applachian Carol) arranged by John Jacob Miles; Let Carols Ring (Sweden) arranged by Charles Black.

Following the program refreshments will be served in the basement of the church, with a social hour. The public is invited and a small admission will be made.

Program Started For Village Green On Christmas Eve

Woodstock, Dec. 3—There are now only three and a half more weeks until Christmas Eve when Santa Claus will arrive on the Woodstock village green. Preparations are going ahead now, according to the Woodstock Square Club, for one of the best programs ever to be given and in anticipation of the largest attendance at this annual event.

Little by little more information concerning participation in the Christmas Eve program is being received. It is now understood that there will be three or four church choirs taking part, including the Katsbaan Dutch Reformed Church Choir. The Square Club has also heard that Rolland Heermance of the Catskill Glee Club will lead the carol singing.

Joseph Holdridge and Warren Hutty, co-chairmen of the Square Club committee, announce that they have received the following donations: The Woodstock Home Bureau $5; The Woodstock Riding Club $10; The Woodstock American Legion $15; The Agapae Rebekah Lodge $5; The Public Health Nursing Committee $5.

The Woodstock Square Club will, as they did last year, allot the committee $150 from the club treasury for candy, oranges and to meet any deficit that might occur. It is hoped that everyone will enter into the spirit of the Christmas celebration and will decorate their homes and places of business.

The program will be held Christmas Eve from 5 to 6 p. m. on the village green and children from out-of-town are also welcome.

Nursery School Plans Meeting Next Thursday

Woodstock, Dec. 3—The Social Development of the Child will be the subject of the film to be shown at the next meeting of the Tinker Nursery School Thursday, Dec. 11, at 8:15 p. m. in the school.

The film is being procured from the Tuberculosis and Health Association in Kingston. Mrs. Raymond Gilkey, teacher at the school, will be the moderator.

All interested parents in the community are invited to come to the meeting. For those mothers and fathers with nursery-school age children, this meeting will give them an opportunity to see a nursery school, and to meet other parents who have had children in such a school.

Sportsmen to Meet

Woodstock, Dec. 3—The regular monthly meeting of the Wittenberg Sportsmen's Club will be held at the club house tonight at 8 o'clock.

Girl Scout Leaders Hear New Constitution

Woodstock, Dec. 3—A meeting of the Girl Scout leaders and assistant leaders was held Monday night at the Woodstock Elementary School. Twelve leaders were present.

Mrs. Leo Herbert, chairman of the Woodstock committee, called upon the secretary for the reading of the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Helene Jackson gave the treasurer's report.

The constitution was read to the leaders for their corrections, approval or disapproval. A few minor changes were made and it was voted upon and approved unanimously. It is now being referred to the Girl Scout Council for their approval.

Wedding Plans Told For Phyllis Hoffman

New York, Dec. 4 (Special to the Freeman)—The Colony Club in New York will be the scene of the marriage on Saturday, Dec. 6, of Miss Phyllis Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hoffman of Zena Road, Woodstock, to Robert L. Taylor, in the army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Taylor. The Rev. Walden Pell, II, will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a reception.

The bride, attended by Mrs. Arthur Panero, will wear a bouffant gown of white satin with rosepoint lace at the neckline and a madonna style veil of rosepoint lace. Her cascade bouquet will be of white orchids, stephanotis and bouvardia. Mrs. Panero, dressed in aquatone iridescent taffeta, will carry yellow roses.

Alan Taylor is to serve as best man for his brother. The bride's brother, Lindley Hoffman, and John M. Thompson, Jr., will usher.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will live in Washington, D. C.

The bride was graduated from the Chapin School and attended Sarah Lawrence College. She was presented to society at the Junior Assembly in 1949 and is with the Republic of Indonesia in Washington. Mr. Taylor was graduated from Lehigh University and attended Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies.

Hiram Ulysses was the baptismal name of Ulysses Simpson Grant.

Benedictine Auxiliary Has Annual Christmas Tea

Superintendent Cites Women's Auxiliary Life Line of Voluntary Hospital, Commends Spirit

Addressing the Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary Wednesday afternoon in the nurses' home on the occasion of the annual meeting and Christmas tea, Sister Berenice, superintendent of the hospital commended the women for their enthusiastic and invaluable support given the institution during the past year. Mrs. John A. Cooke, Jr., president, presided.

"Many national organizations and other leaders today are most concerned with the formation and organization of women's auxiliaries," Sister Berenice said. Continuing, she told the members, "those at the top realize that this group of women so closely related to their hospitals are really the life-line of every voluntary hospital and most valuable in creating good public relations. All organizations are made up of active and passive members. There are many women today who, I am sure, if they realized the amount of good they could do by simply belonging to an auxiliary without taking a very active part, would be glad to enter the enrolled list of hospital auxiliaries."

Good-will Ambassadors

Acknowledging that the auxiliary has been "in no small measure responsible for the fine community spirit that exists toward the hospital", Sister Berenice likened the women to "ambassadors of good-will among the public, particularly when their various activities were held."

Mrs. Cooke, who was re-elected to head the organization for the ensuing year, was singled out by Sister Berenice when she said "Mrs. Cooke has received the enthusiastic support of the members, meetings were well attended, many new members received, and the monthly programs were interesting and instructive."

The highlight of 1952 for the hospital was described as the occasion of the dedication and blessing of the new additions by His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, on Saturday, April 26. "It was a day of achievement and will long be remembered by the friends and benefactors of the hospital. The Cardinal was attended by both the religious and civic leaders of Kingston and Ulster County, also many from out-of-town. The entire medical staff of the hospital, Knights of Columbus and other organizations as well as an immense crowd of citizens attended. The auxiliary had an important part in conducting the public through the new buildings."

Construction Status

And, concerning the status of the new wing today, Sister Berenice revealed that the northeast and southwest wings are not only completed but are completely occupied with the exception of the first floor in the south wing which has not yet been opened. Several alterations in the center and northeast wings are still in progress particularly that of the chapel which is expected to be finished for Christmas. "We are happy that we have accomplished our goal, but more particularly pleased in learning that the entire new modern Benedictine Hospital has met with the full approval of the citizens of Kingston and all Ulster county. They, too, have a right to be proud and glad for the splendid cooperation and help they have contributed toward the modern structure that has been erected to cure and restore to health themselves and their families through the years," said the Sister.

In concluding her address, Sister Berenice expressed the hope that the holiday season might bring many blessings and in particular, "the full realization of how grateful to God we should all be for the privilege of living in a country that is predominated by Christian principles."

Officers Elected

An election took place during the business session and those in office were unanimously reelected to serve during the ensuing year. They are Mrs. Cooke, president; Mrs. Allen A. Baker, Mrs. George F. Einterz, Mrs. Schuyler Schonger, Mrs. Edwin Phelan and Mrs. Vincent Amatrano, vice-presidents; Mrs. Louis R. Netter, recording secretary; Mrs. Guy Valeo, treasurer; and Mrs. Herbert Johnson, corresponding secretary.

The annual report of the secretary was presented by Mrs. Netter, who briefly viewed the year's activities and offered appreciation to "everyone who assisted the Auxiliary in attaining a successful year, and to The Freeman and WKNY for their graciousness and cooperation."

Has 87 New Members

Mrs. John Cordts, membership chairman, informed those present that 87 new members had joined the Auxiliary, bringing the total membership up to 300. She emphasized the need for many more new members and suggested that anyone in the community interested in the organization's work, get in touch with her or any member.

Comprehensive reports were submitted by chairmen of all committees. Mrs. Allen A. Baker who was in charge of a project which netted a considerable sum, was congratulated upon the splendid results her committe achieved. She announced that the special award had been made to Mrs. Mary Black Terwilliger, 26 West Chester street.

Mrs. John Olivet and Mrs. William Cranston were co-chairmen in charge of arrangements for the tea.

The Auxiliary will next meet in the nurses' residence on Wednesday, Jan. 7, at 8 p. m.

Junior DAR Group Has Supper Meeting, Christmas Program

The Junior Group, Wiltwyck Chapter DAR met Monday evening at a pot luck supper. After the supper, Christmas carols were sung by the group. To complete the musical part of the program, Mrs. J. James Soechting, accompanied by Mrs. Albert Roosa, sang Silent Night.

The business meeting started at 8 p. m. with Mrs. Soechting presiding. A letter from Gloria Pickens, the Tamassee child, was read. Christmas gifts for the 10-year-old girl were on display. The largest of these gifts was a 28-inch doll dressed in pink silk. Any member wishing to contribute a gift is asked to call Mrs. Ruth K. Friedell or Mrs. William Lawrence.

Mrs. Roosa, chairman of national defense, asked members to volunteer as air spotters and to donate blood for the armed forces. Members were asked to write to Governor Dewey supporting a state un-American activities committee.

The 1951-52 crippled children chairman, Mrs. Roger Billings, gave a report of the summer's activity of her committee. Three children were sent to day camp for a week and one child to summer camp for three weeks. She also stated that the wheelchair is in use.

Mrs. Hollis Burhans accepted chairmanship of the ways and means committee due to the resignation of Mrs. Joseph McCann.

After the meeting was adjourned, the Rev. Donald E. Brown of the First Baptist Church, Albany avenue, gave a Christmas talk.

Wedding Plans Told For Phyllis Hoffman

New York, Dec. 4 (Special to the Freeman)—The Colony Club in New York will be the scene of the marriage on Saturday, Dec. 6, of Miss Phyllis Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hoffman of Zena Road, Woodstock, to Robert L. Taylor, in the army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Taylor. The Rev. Walden Pell, II, will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a reception.

The bride, attended by Mrs. Arthur Panero, will wear a bouffant gown of white satin with rosepoint lace at the neckline and a madonna style veil of rosepoint lace. Her cascade bouquet will be of white orchids, stephanotis and bouvardia. Mrs. Panero, dressed in aquatone iridescent taffeta, will carry yellow roses.

Alan Taylor is to serve as best man for his brother. The bride's brother, Lindley Hoffman, and John M. Thompson, Jr., will usher.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will live in Washington, D. C.

The bride was graduated from the Chapin School and attended Sarah Lawrence College. She was presented to society at the Junior Assembly in 1949 and is with the Republic of Indonesia in Washington. Mr. Taylor was graduated from Lehigh University and attended Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies.

Hiram Ulysses was the baptismal name of Ulysses Simpson Grant.

Benedictine Auxiliary Has Annual Christmas Tea

Superintendent Cites Women's Auxiliary Life Line of Voluntary Hospital, Commends Spirit

Addressing the Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary Wednesday afternoon in the nurses' home on the occasion of the annual meeting and Christmas tea, Sister Berenice, superintendent of the hospital commended the women for their enthusiastic and invaluable support given the institution during the past year. Mrs. John A. Cooke, Jr., president, presided.

"Many national organizations and other leaders today are most concerned with the formation and organization of women's auxiliaries," Sister Berenice said. Continuing, she told the members, "those at the top realize that this group of women so closely related to their hospitals are really the life-line of every voluntary hospital and most valuable in creating good public relations. All organizations are made up of active and passive members. There are many women today who, I am sure, if they realized the amount of good they could do by simply belonging to an auxiliary without taking a very active part, would be glad to enter the enrolled list of hospital auxiliaries."

Good-will Ambassadors

Acknowledging that the auxiliary has been "in no small measure responsible for the fine community spirit that exists toward the hospital", Sister Berenice likened the women to "ambassadors of good-will among the public, particularly when their various activities were held."

Mrs. Cooke, who was re-elected to head the organization for the ensuing year, was singled out by Sister Berenice when she said "Mrs. Cooke has received the enthusiastic support of the members, meetings were well attended, many new members received, and the monthly programs were interesting and instructive."

The highlight of 1952 for the hospital was described as the occasion of the dedication and blessing of the new additions by His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, on Saturday, April 26. "It was a day of achievement and will long be remembered by the friends and benefactors of the hospital. The Cardinal was attended by both the religious and civic leaders of Kingston and Ulster County, also many from out-of-town. The entire medical staff of the hospital, Knights of Columbus and other organizations as well as an immense crowd of citizens attended. The auxiliary had an important part in conducting the public through the new buildings."

Construction Status

And, concerning the status of the new wing today, Sister Berenice revealed that the northeast and southwest wings are not only completed but are completely occupied with the exception of the first floor in the south wing which has not yet been opened. Several alterations in the center and northeast wings are still in progress particularly that of the chapel which is expected to be finished for Christmas. "We are happy that we have accomplished our goal, but more particularly pleased in learning that the entire new modern Benedictine Hospital has met with the full approval of the citizens of Kingston and all Ulster county. They, too, have a right to be proud and glad for the splendid cooperation and help they have contributed toward the modern structure that has been erected to cure and restore to health themselves and their families through the years," said the Sister.

In concluding her address, Sister Berenice expressed the hope that the holiday season might bring many blessings and in particular, "the full realization of how grateful to God we should all be for the privilege of living in a country that is predominated by Christian principles."

Officers Elected

An election took place during the business session and those in office were unanimously reelected to serve during the ensuing year. They are Mrs. Cooke, president; Mrs. Allen A. Baker, Mrs. George F. Einterz, Mrs. Schuyler Schonger, Mrs. Edwin Phelan and Mrs. Vincent Amatrano, vice-presidents; Mrs. Louis R. Netter, recording secretary; Mrs. Guy Valeo, treasurer; and Mrs. Herbert Johnson, corresponding secretary.

The annual report of the secretary was presented by Mrs. Netter, who briefly viewed the year's activities and offered appreciation to "everyone who assisted the Auxiliary in attaining a successful year, and to The Freeman and WKNY for their graciousness and cooperation."

Has 87 New Members

Mrs. John Cordts, membership chairman, informed those present that 87 new members had joined the Auxiliary, bringing the total membership up to 300. She emphasized the need for many more new members and suggested that anyone in the community interested in the organization's work, get in touch with her or any member.

Comprehensive reports were submitted by chairmen of all committees. Mrs. Allen A. Baker who was in charge of a project which netted a considerable sum, was congratulated upon the splendid results her committe achieved. She announced that the special award had been made to Mrs. Mary Black Terwilliger, 26 West Chester street.

The meeting room at the nurses' residence carried out the Christmas theme in decorations. The centerpiece on the beautifully appointed tea table combined red poinsettias with evergreens. Red and white carnations and huckleberry were used at the officers table, and the mantelpiece over the fireplace was flanked with red candles in brass candlesticks and an arrangement of red candles, Christmas greens and pine cones in a soft green ceramic oblong-type holder.

Mrs. John Olivet and Mrs. William Cranston were co-chairmen in charge of arrangements for the tea.

Becomes Bride in St. Mary's

MRS. JOHN GERARO BRANDOW

Emma Dellna Banks Weds John Brandow

Miss Emma Dellna Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Banks, 57 Chambers street, became the bride of John Geraro Brandow, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brandow, 26 Newkirk avenue, on Sunday, Nov. 30, at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. A reception for 100 guests was held at the Hofbrau.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Richard Banks, the bride wore a gown of white satin and lace. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Miss Margie Reilly, 37 Stuyvesant street, was the bride's only attendant. Attired in a pink satin gown, she carried a colonial type bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Serving as best man was Jacob Ennist Jr., 49 Newkirk avenue. The ushers were Louis Ellsworth, 48 Newkirk avenue and Otto A. Mayr, 20 Newkirk avenue.

Upon their return from a trip to New York, the couple will reside at 12 Newkirk avenue. For traveling, the bride chose a grey suit and pink accessories.

JCC Slates Jewish Book Month Program

The Jewish Community Center will conduct a Jewish Book Month Program on Sunday at 8 p. m. The celebration is one of a series of events taking place throughout the United States under the auspices of the Jewish Book Council of America which is sponsored by the National Jewish Welfare Board. The theme of the celebration is Books for the People of the Book.

Sunday's program will feature the observance of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Peretz.

Highlights of the program will be talks by Rabbi Herbert Bloom on the subject of Jewish books, Rabbi D. Kohn on the works of Peretz and Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport the life and times of Peretz with particular reference to the Chassidic movement which inspired Peretz's writings.

As a special added attraction there will be an extensive exhibit of large panels of photographs and paintings inspired by the stories of Peretz. This exhibit has been displayed at Harvard University and has made a great impression elsewhere throughout the country. There will also be a colorful film strip with a commentary on the subject of Peretz, his life and works.

The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charged.

Vauthier Called Serious at Hospital

The condition of Alfred Vauthier, 64, of Route 32, Kingston, was listed as "critical" at Kingston Hospital today.

Vauthier was injured Wednesday afternoon in an accident on Route 9W one and a half miles south of Port Ewen, according to a state police report.

Troopers of the Highland station said Vauthier suffered lacerations of the scalp and face and possible internal injuries after the Jeep he was driving skidded on "slippery roads" and swung into the rear wheels of a large milk tanker driven by Herbert Curtiss, 44, of Munnsville. There was no arrest.

Becomes Bride in St. Mary's

MRS. JOHN GERARO BRANDOW

Emma Dellna Banks Weds John Brandow

Miss Emma Dellna Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Banks, 57 Chambers street, became the bride of John Geraro Brandow, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brandow, 26 Newkirk avenue, on Sunday, Nov. 30, at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. A reception for 100 guests was held at the Hofbrau.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Richard Banks, the bride wore a gown of white satin and lace. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Miss Margie Reilly, 37 Stuyvesant street, was the bride's only attendant. Attired in a pink satin gown, she carried a colonial type bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Serving as best man was Jacob Ennist Jr., 49 Newkirk avenue. The ushers were Louis Ellsworth, 48 Newkirk avenue and Otto A. Mayr, 20 Newkirk avenue.

Upon their return from a trip to New York, the couple will reside at 12 Newkirk avenue. For traveling, the bride chose a grey suit and pink accessories.

JCC Slates Jewish Book Month Program

The Jewish Community Center will conduct a Jewish Book Month Program on Sunday at 8 p. m. The celebration is one of a series of events taking place throughout the United States under the auspices of the Jewish Book Council of America which is sponsored by the National Jewish Welfare Board. The theme of the celebration is Books for the People of the Book.

Sunday's program will feature the observance of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Peretz.

Highlights of the program will be talks by Rabbi Herbert Bloom on the subject of Jewish books, Rabbi D. Kohn on the works of Peretz and Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport the life and times of Peretz with particular reference to the Chassidic movement which inspired Peretz's writings.

As a special added attraction there will be an extensive exhibit of large panels of photographs and paintings inspired by the stories of Peretz. This exhibit has been displayed at Harvard University and has made a great impression elsewhere throughout the country. There will also be a colorful film strip with a commentary on the subject of Peretz, his life and works.

The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charged.

Vauthier Called Serious at Hospital

The condition of Alfred Vauthier, 64, of Route 32, Kingston, was listed as "critical" at Kingston Hospital today.

Vauthier was injured Wednesday afternoon in an accident on Route 9W one and a half miles south of Port Ewen, according to a state police report.

Troopers of the Highland station said Vauthier suffered lacerations of the scalp and face and possible internal injuries after the Jeep he was driving skidded on "slippery roads" and swung into the rear wheels of a large milk tanker driven by Herbert Curtiss, 44, of Munnsville. There was no arrest.

Licorice is dark brown, not black.

NEW YEAR'S DAY AT HOME

A reader writes: "I am planning on having Open House New Year's Day and would like you to answer several questions in connection with this: How are the invitations worded for such a party and what refreshments are usually served? Also, is it necessary to serve eggnog or could a punch be served instead?

Nothing could be more informal or less exacting of rule than the sending out of invitations for a New Year's Day at home. The invitations could be written on your Mr. and Mrs. visiting cards:

"At Home New Year's Day
5 to 7 o'clock."

"Mr. and Mrs. John Jones
At Home New Year's Day
5 to 7 o'clock."

Eggnog is the traditional New Year's Day beverage, but a punch would be entirely proper. With it fruit cake is always served and very often small thin sandwiches in addition.

Invitations to Distant Relatives

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning on being married shortly. Inasmuch as my future husband is from a distant city, would it be proper for me to send invitations to our wedding and reception to his relatives and friends even though we are reasonably sure they will not be able to come?

Answer: It is always proper to send wedding invitations to friends and relatives living at a distance even though it is impossible for them to be present. It means that you would like them to be at your wedding if it were possible.

Signing Family Christmas Card

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to sign Christmas cards when the family consists of mother, father and three children?

Answer: You could sign it, "From all the Joneses," or "From the Joneses—all five."

COTTEKILL

Cottekill, Dec. 4—Through the combined efforts of the Binnewater and Cottekill Ladies' Auxiliaries a complete set of the Junior Edition of Encyclopedia Britanica, dictionaries, various books to be used by the students and some phonograph records have been presented to the Cottekill School library. The school faculty expressed its appreciation to the auxiliaries for the gift.

Local Support Asked For Young Artists. At Sorosis Meeting

Placing considerable emphasis on the need to support young, promising artists, Mrs. Howard A. Lewis in a talk at Sorosis, Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Theron Culver, intimated a fear of "poor judgment" was responsible for the lack of sponsorship given locally. This thought was interwoven in a discussion of the trials and tribulations encountered by Agnes DeMille in her determined efforts to achieve success in the ballet field.

"We are afraid to push a young artist in case he or she doesn't make good," said Mrs. Lewis. Continuing, she asked, "what does it matter if but one in ten, or even one in 100 is proven worthy?" "For instance," citing as an example, "there's young Robert Craft, fast becoming a famous orchestra leader and a Town Hall performer. He is the son of a former Sorosis member, Mrs. Raymond Craft, but have we ever arranged a concert for him?"

The speaker commended Mrs. Raymond Gross for the part she has played in the recognition given the Coach House Players. "Mrs. Gross is doing that all by herself, and the Players are now a recognized small theatre group. Our theatre management, too," said Mrs. Lewis, "is striving to give us better plays and better pictures. Let's all help by saying a good word, remembering that statues are not put up to critics."

Returning to her subject of Dance to the Piper, a book by Agnes De Mille, dedicated to the memory of her mother, and to her husband, Walter Foy Prude, Mrs. Lewis gave a detailed account of the artist's childhood and college days. Selecting the major events, the speaker then described the numerous recitals presented by Miss DeMille in this and other countries, the many disappointments and the grim determination which eventually spelled success.

Before concluding, Mrs. Lewis noted that Agnes DeMille's partner in her first success was Frederic Franklin whose company performed at the Broadway Theatre Oct. 29.

A report was given by Mrs. Clarence L. Dumm on work done by Vassar students for which they received credit in a house to house convass for information on the topic, Your City Wants to Know.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. William Ochs, president, who announced that the next meeting will take place at 2 p. m. instead of the usual 2:30, Monday, Jan. 5, in the home of Mrs. A. Noble Graham.

Olive Nursing Group Will Meet on Dec. 8

The Town of Olive Public Health Nursing Committee will meet at the American Legion building at Ashokan at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Dec. 8. Mrs. H. Zimmerman, RN, will present a program of first aid instruction. The public is invited.

May Get Turkey Often

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Turkey may be a once-or-twice-a-year dish to most Americans but the 10 million children benefitting under the government-sponsored school lunch program may get it a dozen times this school season. The Agriculture Department has bought about 46 million pounds of frozen, ready-to-cook turkey since late August to help support producer prices and is turning the fowl over to the school lunch program.

Officials estimated turkey will be on school lunch menus at least 12 times this school season.

New Camp Established

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 4 (AP)—The UN command today told the Reds a new prisoner of war camp has been established for Communist POWs. The camp is Branch Camp 4A, located near Taegu in southeast Korea. Its location was outlined on a map given the Reds.

Man, 64, Found Dead; Had $200,000

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—A 64-year-old man, found dead last night in a Queens rooming house, left a suitcase stuffed with more than $200,000 in cash—including a $10,000 bill.

The man, identified by his landlady and attorney as Roger Stewart, apparently died of natural causes. He was termed a virtual recluse whom his neighbors thought was practically penniless.

The money, cached in a Gladstone bag, included 137 $1,000 bills. Also found in the room were stocks and jewelry the value of which was not immediately determined.

Stewart was found dead in a chair in his $25-a-month, second-floor rear room. He was wearing an old suit and hat, and police said no other clothing was found in the room.

The landlady, Mrs. Alice Flannery, said Stewart received no mail, had no visitors and seldom left the house during his three-year residence.

The man's attorney, Lawrence Gesser, Jr., said Stewart told him several years ago he had no near relatives and wanted to make a will leaving his money to St. John's University in Brooklyn.

Apparently, Gesser said, Stewart had been living on income from Singer Sewing Machine Co. stock.

The attorney quoted Stewart as telling him his wife, who died many years ago, had been wealthy, and that he once ran a sporting goods store.

50,000 Boy Scouts To Form Largest Youth Gathering

The Third National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America will be held July 17-23 at the Irvine Ranch, Santa Ana, California, one of the last Spanish land grants in the United States. Approximately 50,000 Scouts and Explorers from all over the United States plus an international group of 500 will participate in this largest youth gathering the world has ever seen. The Rip Van Winkle Council has a quota of 66 Scouts, two full Troops, plus six troop leaders and three sectional leaders.

The first reservations received at the council office were from Scout Floyd Sherman of Troop 22, sponsored by the VFW of Kerhonkson and Scout Robert Gorman of Troop 28, sponsored by the Methodist Church of Ellenville. The first patrol to register came from Troop 12, sponsored by the first Dutch Church in Kingston and includes Robert Bareika, John Bonestell, Fred Burnett, Henry Cherrick, Paul Celuch, Raymond Gardeski, Peter Kelderhouse, Dennis A. Stewart, Scott Comstock and Leslie Comstock.

Boys attending the jamboree must be at least Second Class Scouts or Explorer Apprentice, and at least 12 years of age on January 1.

Full Itinerary

The Scout councils with headquarters in Albany, Troy and Schenectady will join with the Rip Van Winkle Council to travel and camp together. The itinerary, which has been approved by the National Association of Railroads, calls for departure from Albany on or about July 10, a 10 hour stop-over in Chicago for sightseeing, then on to the National Glacier Park in Montana for an all day tour; thence to Seattle, Washington for a steamer trip around Van Couver Island; traveling south along the Pacific coast with stop-overs at San Francisco and Los Angeles for sightseeing. On the return trip only one stop-over will be made, Grand Canyon, where there will be 12 hours of sightseeing.

The Jamboree will be a "Tent City" of 30,000 tents with its own electricity, water supply, sanitation, telephone system, food supply, doctors, fire protection; in fact all essentials found in any city of 50,000 people. There are only 27 cities in the United States with a population of 50 to 55 thousand. The patrol system will be used throughout the jamboree organization. Each patrol will cook over charcoal fires, camp, sleep, hike and together as a group will live the jamboree.

Applications for leadership are being accepted and reviewed by the local jambouree committee with William Sherrill Keyser serving as chairman. Appointments of leadership will be announced at an early date.

Eddie Heins' 287 Solo Highest Rolled This Year in KBA Area

Blasts 10 Strikes, Gets 'Baby' in 11th

Unloading 10 strikes in a row before coming up with the 3-10 "Baby Split" in the 11th frame, Eddie Heins vaulted into the No. 1 position of high single scorer in the Kingston Bowling Association area Wednesday night when he blasted a tremendous 287 singleton in his third game in the Central Rec Major League.

Heins, one of Kingston's youthful tenpin veterans, won last year's American Bowling Congress award for his high single of 297 in the KBA-sanctioned area, and last night's feat places him very much in the running to grab the award again.

The powerful 287 eclipsed the former city high score of 279 rolled by Harry Wilber on Oct. 23 in the Ferraro Major wheel.

Heins' new hefty score also eclipsed the former league high of 277 held by Dick Howard and George "Curly" Flemings.

Rolling on alleys 5 and 6 at the mid-town drives last night, Heins opened his big night's spree with a modest 168 in the first game, came back with 177 and then unleashed his strike spree for the 287 in the finale to wind up with a gaudy 632 series, second best of the night in that loop.

Spaulding Raps 639

Following Heins in the runner-up positions were Jim Moss with 235-212 for 619; Ken Williams, with the hat trick of 214-201-204-619; and Larry Petersen, Jr., 224-601 completing the 600 parade.

Bill Murray topped the 500 bowlers with 247 and 598. Chris Robinson shot 234-596; Elwood Robinson 204-590; Tommy Welch 224-585; Bill Lawrence 582; George Shufeldt 219-582; Mitzie Arlensky 577; Bill Lawrence 200-575; G. Frank Grimaldi 215-573; Lew Hymes 570; Larry Weishaupt 203-568; George Flemings 210-567; Herb Sleight 225-566; Cliff Quick 209-564 and Fred Ferraro 553.

Team results:

Jack's Rest 2, Hymes Shoes 1; Quality Block 2, Alpine 1; Pontiac Garage 2, Mickeys 1; Old Capitals 2, Welchs 1.

Bruck Sparks CYO—557

Nick Bruck's string of 199-145-213 for 557 led the activity in the CYO Holy Name wheel at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night.

The elite class also featured Johnny Zeeh with 543; Joe Maurer 201-537; Henry Houska 533; Dom Tomczyk 529; Jack Raible 523; John Auer 523; Joe Mannello 516; Joe Fautz 515; Tony Guerrera 202-512; Norm Scherer 509; Pete Tatarzewski 507 and Jim Noble 506.

Team results:

Immaculate Conception 2, St. Mary's 1; Presentations 2, St. Joseph's 1; St. Peter's, Rosendale, No. 2, (2), St. Peter's No. 1, (1); St. Peter's No. 2, (2), St. Peter's No. 1, Rosendale (1).

Paltz College Cagers Launch Season Friday Night

Campbell Is High On Team's Chances; Juhl Is on Squad

New Paltz, Dec. 4—Hopes for a successful basketball season are running high at New Paltz State Teachers College as the squad prepares for the opening game Friday night. Danbury Teachers will meet the Orange and Blue on the local court at 8:45 p. m. The intramural prelim is scheduled for 7:15.

Three lettermen return to the team this year—Willie Donoghue, Yonkers; Jack Wulff, Flushing; and Chet Hutton, Bardonia.

Juhl to Start

Ronnie Foster, 6 feet 1 in guard who played only one semester last year due to a knee injury, is expected to bolster the squad at the background. Andy Juhl, Kingston, at center, should add plenty of points to the score if bad ankles don't interfere.

Marty Kennedy, Salisbury Mills, a sub last year who has been coming up fast, is temporarily handicapped with a shoulder injury. Bob Schaumann, Pine Bush, is a clever, smart ball-handler, fast, and an excellent play-maker.

Several promising freshmen are hustling for berths on the 15-man squad. Dick King, Art Major from Herkimer, a good rebound man and hard driver, has a good chance of starting. Another Art major, Marty Greenhill, Northville, has shown himself the best ball-hawk of the outfit. Buddy Siegel, Brooklyn, has a nice hook shot, and John Tizio, New Paltz, is strong on set-shots. Torry Sacco, Rye, has a good shooting eye and is particularly effective working on close plays around the basket.

Coach Optimistic

Coach Loren D. Campbell, in his 21st year at New Paltz, is optimistic about team prospects. "We have the possibilities for fielding the best team we've had in recent years," he commented as the squad neared the close of its pre-schedule practice.

To add to Friday night's excitement, the team will take to the boards under the banner of a new mascot. Selected by student vote this week, the mascot will be "adopted" in spirited pre-game festivities.

Accord, Village Rest, Devils Capture YMCA 'B' Cage Openers

McClusky High With 29-Point Total

Close-scoring ball games appear to be the menu for the YMCA "B" Division Basketball League, at least in the infant part of the campaign.

Two more frays were decided by a one-point margin Wednesday night when the Accord Chevies and Village Rest quintets posted the slim decisions over the Newkirk Aces and Woodstock Lumber Company.

The Chevies outpoined the Aces by 48-47 and the Villagers eked out a 34 to 33 win over the Lumber Company cagers.

In the other contest, the Blue Devils turned back the Kingston Patrolmen five by 58 to 52.

Lou Schafer, physical director at the Y, said today that after looking at all eight teams in action, "the 'B' Division looks like a toss-up. All of the clubs appear evenly matched and a fine year is in the making."

McClusky Hits 29

Phil McClusky, forward of the Newkirk Aces, emerged as the high individual scorer of the night with 14 fields and a free conversion for 29 markers. Bruce Hinkley of the Blue Devils was runnerup with 11 deuces and six fouls for 28 points.

Accord maintained a slim lead throughout its duel with the Aces, leading by 13-10 at the first bell and 25-23 at halftime. The Chevies upped their edge to four points with a 13-point third quarter and led by 38-34 at the end of the third quarter. The Aces, failing to act as patsies, outscored the Chevies by 13-10 in the final round but fell short in their big try.

Topping the scoring efforts for the Chevies were John Sheeley with 15 and George Schoonmaker with 14. McClusky's 29 points spearheaded the Aces' big try for the victory.

The Village Rest came from behind to pull out the 34-33 squeaker victory over the Woodstock Lumbermen. Woodstock led by 18-12 at the first half aand 29-22 at the third session.

A poor fourth period, netting only four points, spelled gloom for the Lumbermen, however, as the Villagers pulled away to the slim victory by scoring 12 points.

Ken Van Bramer paced the winners with 13 points while George Waterous ripped the cords for 14.

Despite a 28-20 edge at halftime, the Kingston Patrolmen quintet couldn't go the route and dropped the 58-52 decision to the Blue Devils.

Devils Pull Through

With four minutes remaining in the fourth period, Art Pinkham, the 6 foot, 4 inch center of the KPA, left the game on personals. Earl Schoonmaker, Pinkham's replacement, quickly hit for a deuce to knot the score at 52-all with less than three minutes to go.

But Schoonmaker's two-pointer ended the KPA's scoring activities for the night as the Blue Devils intercepted a couple of heaves and went on to convert three field goals and the ball game.

Bruce Hinkley and Hy Van Wagenen were the big guns for the winners with 28 and 23 points respectively. Johnny Letus and Tony Altamore sparked the losers with 20 and 15 points.

Eddie Heins' 287 Solo Highest Rolled This Year in KBA Area

Blasts 10 Strikes, Gets 'Baby' in 11th

Unloading 10 strikes in a row before coming up with the 3-10 "Baby Split" in the 11th frame, Eddie Heins vaulted into the No. 1 position of high single scorer in the Kingston Bowling Association area Wednesday night when he blasted a tremendous 287 singleton in his third game in the Central Rec Major League.

Heins, one of Kingston's youthful tenpin veterans, won last year's American Bowling Congress award for his high single of 297 in the KBA-sanctioned area, and last night's feat places him very much in the running to grab the award again.

The powerful 287 eclipsed the former city high score of 279 rolled by Harry Wilber on Oct. 23 in the Ferraro Major wheel.

Heins' new hefty score also eclipsed the former league high of 277 held by Dick Howard and George "Curly" Flemings.

Rolling on alleys 5 and 6 at the mid-town drives last night, Heins opened his big night's spree with a modest 168 in the first game, came back with 177 and then unleashed his strike spree for the 287 in the finale to wind up with a gaudy 632 series, second best of the night in that loop.

Spaulding Raps 639

Five big 600s featured the heavy pin-busting at the Central planks, led by Hod Spaulding's 639 on sticks of 218-258-163.

Following Heins in the runner-up positions were Jim Moss with 235-212 for 619; Ken Williams, with the hat trick of 214-201-204-619; and Larry Petersen, Jr., 224-601 completing the 600 parade.

Bill Murray topped the 500 bowlers with 247 and 598. Chris Robinson shot 234-596; Elwood Robinson 204-590; Tommy Welch 224-585; Bill Lawrence 582; George Shufeldt 219-582; Mitzie Arlensky 577; Bill Lawrence 200-575; G. Frank Grimaldi 215-573; Lew Hymes 570; Larry Weishaupt 203-568; George Flemings 210-567; Herb Sleight 225-566; Cliff Quick 209-564 and Fred Ferraro 553.

Team results:

Jack's Rest 2, Hymes Shoes 1; Quality Block 2, Alpine 1; Pontiac Garage 2, Mickeys 1; Old Capitals 2, Welchs 1.

Bruck Sparks CYO—557

Nick Bruck's string of 199-145-213 for 557 led the activity in the CYO Holy Name wheel at the Bowlodrome Wednesday night.

The elite class also featured Johnny Zeeh with 543; Joe Maurer 201-537; Henry Houska 533; Dom Tomczyk 529; Jack Raible 523; John Auer 523; Joe Mannello 516; Joe Fautz 515; Tony Guerrera 202-512; Norm Scherer 509; Pete Tatarzewski 507 and Jim Noble 506.

Team results:

Immaculate Conception 2, St. Mary's 1; Presentations 2, St. Joseph's 1; St. Peter's, Rosendale, No. 2, (2), St. Peter's No. 1, (1); St. Peter's No. 2, (2), St. Peter's No. 1, Rosendale (1).

Sam Hayes toppled 178-161-191 for 530 to head the Federation American trundlers at the Y Wednesday night. Second best was posted by veteran Arthur Carr who fired 522. Ted Young had 200-514; Doug Kennedy 502; Chet Weeks, 501; Jim Raymond 483; Harold Pine 582; Art Crist 482; J. Wolfersteig and R. Post 481.

Tigers, Browns Complete 6-Man Swap; Veeckmen Get Trucks, White and Groth

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 4 (AP)—In the fourth major Detroit-St. Louis deal in a year, the Tigers today traded pitchers Virgil (double no hit) Trucks and Hal White and centerfielder Johnny Groth to the Browns for left fielder Bob Nieman, second baseman Owen Friend and catcher-outfielder, J. W. Porter.

The swap, involving some $250,000 in player talent, did not include any cash according to Rudy Schaffer, Browns general manager.

Trucks, a 33-year-old right-hander, pitched two no-hitters in 1952—against Washington in May and the New York Yankees in August—but wound up with a 5-19 record.

Groth, 26, a Detroit regular since 1949, hit .284 in 141 games and White, a 33-year-old relief pitcher, had a 1-8 record in 41 games.

Nieman May Help Tigers

The most important St. Louis player involved was Nieman, 25, a rookie sensation with a .289 batting average, 18 homers and 74 runs batted in. The right handed hitter belted two straight homers against Boston in his major league debut, Sept. 14, 1951.

Porter, used both as a catcher and outfielder, received a $65,000 bonus from the Chicago White Sox as a free agent when he entered pro ball. Last season the 19-year-old prospect hit .250 for the Browns after spending most of the season at Memphis and Colorado Springs, White Sox farms.

The Tigers will have to wait a week or so for Friend, 25, to be discharged from military service. He was the Browns regular second baseman in 1950, hitting .237 in 119 games.

Of the pitchers who were with the Tigers a full season, White had the best earned run average—3.70. But at 33 the right handed relief pitcher obviously didn't figure in the Tigers movement to rebuild with youth.

In his 10th season with the Tigers last year, he appeared in 41 games and gave up 53 hits and 29 runs in 63 1/3 innings. He won only one game and lost eight.

President Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals said today in Phoenix he believed the National League should ban television from all parks for 1953 and reiterated his threat to refuse clubs the right to telecast their home games with St. Louis unless the Cards received a share of the TV receipts.

"There is no question in my mind that elevision is hurting the attendance," declared the Redbird boss 24 hours before the start of the major league meetings. "However, to satisfy the skeptics, I suggest we ban video for one year to determine once and for all whether it hurts or helps baseball.

"Right now," Saigh added, "there are no agreements between clubs regarding television. The Cardinals are going to adopt a listening policy at the major league meetings starting Friday, hoping a proper solution will be proposed. But if there is going to be television at our parks, the Cardinals will insist on a pro rata share of the TV receipts."

Said He Warned Clubs

Informed that the Giants and Dodgers, for example, have contracts that run through 1956 and are committed to televise 77 games per season, Saigh remained unshaken in his beliefs.

"We warned them three years ago of our intentions," he said, "and if they stuck their necks out with commitments, that's their fault. Television contracts are an assignable right and cannot be governed by baseball rules. We signed an agreement permitting the Giants and Dodgers to televise our games at the Polo Grounds and Ebbets' Field last year. We will not sign this year unless we get a fair division of the receipts."

Industrial Transformation

San Francisco (AP) — The Communist Peiping radio claims the Manchurian rail center of Harbin, once a refuge for White Russians across the Soviet frontier, has been transformed into an industrial center in three years. The Red broadcast said that before "liberation" by the Communists in 1948, Harbin had only one large factory, a railway workshop. Now, the Reds say, industrial output is five times above the 1949 level. Mentioned specifically were a modern flax mill, a machine tool plant and a tractor parts plant.

Princeton Places Four Gridders on All-East Eleven

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Charles (Chuck) Maloy of Holy Cross, a record-setting quarterback, headed a versatile backfield named today on the Associated Press' All-East football team.

Completing the offensive striking unit with Maloy, who set six eastern records this year, were Richard Clasby, Harvard's triple-threat halfback; Villanova's Gene Filipski, one of the nation's leading ball-carriers, and Homer Smith, Princeton's plunging fullback.

The team was picked after consultation with Ivy League and other eastern coaches.

Princeton placed four men on the two-platoon, 22-man squad, more than any other institution. Twelve schools in all were represented.

There were three repeaters. In addition to Maloy, making their second appearance on the team were two double-service ends, Frank McPhee of Princeton and Ed Bell of Pennsylvania.

Offensive Leader

Maloy, a 185-pound T-tactician from Rochester, led the region in total offense for the year with 1,589 yards, followed by Clasby, with 1,474.

Yale's Ed Woodsum, who caught 11 touchdown passes for another eastern record, was bracketed with Columbia's Al Ward on the flanks of the offensive line. At tackles were Villanova's Bill Hegarty and Pittsburgh's Eldred Kraemer, while the guard spots went to Holy Cross' Chester Millett and Syracuse's William Skyinskus. The offensive center was James Dooley of Penn State.

McPhee and Bell flanked a defensive line that had Syracuse's 256-pound Bob Fleck and Penn's 205-pound John Shanafelt at tackles, Navy's Gene Eisenhauer and Princeton's veteran Bradley Glass at guards.

Linebacking duties went to Pete Schoderbek of Penn State and Joe Schmidt of Pittsburgh, who were aided in the defensive secondary by Joe Fortunato of Yale, Al Simmons of Colgate and Ed Jannotta of Princeton.

Maines Cagers Defeat Shaw's

John Woolsey and Bob Maines bucketed 16 points apiece to lead Maines Sport Shop to a 46-32 triumph over Shaw's Grocery in a Recreation League contest at the MJM gym.

The Maines cagers piled up an early lead and were in front at the half, 28-11.

Neil Keyser was top Shaw scorer with 9 points.

Tigers, Browns Complete 6-Man Swap; Veeckmen Get Trucks, White and Groth

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 4 (AP)—In the fourth major Detroit-St. Louis deal in a year, the Tigers today traded pitchers Virgil (double no hit) Trucks and Hal White and centerfielder Johnny Groth to the Browns for left fielder Bob Nieman, second baseman Owen Friend and catcher-outfielder, J. W. Porter.

The swap, involving some $250,000 in player talent, did not include any cash according to Rudy Schaffer, Browns general manager.

Trucks, a 33-year-old right-hander, pitched two no-hitters in 1952—against Washington in May and the New York Yankees in August—but wound up with a 5-19 record.

Groth, 26, a Detroit regular since 1949, hit .284 in 141 games and White, a 33-year-old relief pitcher, had a 1-8 record in 41 games.

Nieman May Help Tigers

The most important St. Louis player involved was Nieman, 25, a rookie sensation with a .289 batting average, 18 homers and 74 runs batted in. The right handed hitter belted two straight homers against Boston in his major league debut, Sept. 14, 1951.

Porter, used both as a catcher and outfielder, received a $65,000 bonus from the Chicago White Sox as a free agent when he entered pro ball. Last season the 19-year-old prospect hit .250 for the Browns after spending most of the season at Memphis and Colorado Springs, White Sox farms.

The Tigers will have to wait a week or so for Friend, 25, to be discharged from military service. He was the Browns regular second baseman in 1950, hitting .237 in 119 games.

Of the pitchers who were with the Tigers a full season, White had the best earned run average—3.70. But at 33 the right handed relief pitcher obviously didn't figure in the Tigers movement to rebuild with youth.

In his 10th season with the Tigers last year, he appeared in 41 games and gave up 53 hits and 29 runs in 63 1/3 innings. He won only one game and lost eight.

President Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals said today in Phoenix he believed the National League should ban television from all parks for 1953 and reiterated his threat to refuse clubs the right to telecast their home games with St. Louis unless the Cards received a share of the TV receipts.

"There is no question in my mind that elevision is hurting the attendance," declared the Redbird boss 24 hours before the start of the major league meetings. "However, to satisfy the skeptics, I suggest we ban video for one year to determine once and for all whether it hurts or helps baseball.

"Right now," Saigh added, "there are no agreements between clubs regarding television. The Cardinals are going to adopt a listening policy at the major league meetings starting Friday, hoping a proper solution will be proposed. But if there is going to be television at our parks, the Cardinals will insist on a pro rata share of the TV receipts."

Said He Warned Clubs

Informed that the Giants and Dodgers, for example, have contracts that run through 1956 and are committed to televise 77 games per season, Saigh remained unshaken in his beliefs.

"We warned them three years ago of our intentions," he said, "and if they stuck their necks out with commitments, that's their fault. Television contracts are an assignable right and cannot be governed by baseball rules. We signed an agreement permitting the Giants and Dodgers to televise our games at the Polo Grounds and Ebbets' Field last year. We will not sign this year unless we get a fair division of the receipts."

Industrial Transformation

San Francisco (AP) — The Communist Peiping radio claims the Manchurian rail center of Harbin, once a refuge for White Russians across the Soviet frontier, has been transformed into an industrial center in three years. The Red broadcast said that before "liberation" by the Communists in 1948, Harbin had only one large factory, a railway workshop. Now, the Reds say, industrial output is five times above the 1949 level. Mentioned specifically were a modern flax mill, a machine tool plant and a tractor parts plant.

The composition of salt found in salt lakes and that of the oceans is different.

Princeton Places Four Gridders on All-East Eleven

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Charles (Chuck) Maloy of Holy Cross, a record-setting quarterback, headed a versatile backfield named today on the Associated Press' All-East football team.

Completing the offensive striking unit with Maloy, who set six eastern records this year, were Richard Clasby, Harvard's triple-threat halfback; Villanova's Gene Filipski, one of the nation's leading ball-carriers, and Homer Smith, Princeton's plunging fullback.

The team was picked after consultation with Ivy League and other eastern coaches.

Princeton placed four men on the two-platoon, 22-man squad, more than any other institution. Twelve schools in all were represented.

There were three repeaters. In addition to Maloy, making their second appearance on the team were two double-service ends, Frank McPhee of Princeton and Ed Bell of Pennsylvania.

Offensive Leader

Maloy, a 185-pound T-tactician from Rochester, led the region in total offense for the year with 1,589 yards, followed by Clasby, with 1,474.

Yale's Ed Woodsum, who caught 11 touchdown passes for another eastern record, was bracketed with Columbia's Al Ward on the flanks of the offensive line. At tackles were Villanova's Bill Hegarty and Pittsburgh's Eldred Kraemer, while the guard spots went to Holy Cross' Chester Millett and Syracuse's William Skyinskus. The offensive center was James Dooley of Penn State.

McPhee and Bell flanked a defensive line that had Syracuse's 256-pound Bob Fleck and Penn's 205-pound John Shanafelt at tackles, Navy's Gene Eisenhauer and Princeton's veteran Bradley Glass at guards.

Linebacking duties went to Pete Schoderbek of Penn State and Joe Schmidt of Pittsburgh, who were aided in the defensive secondary by Joe Fortunato of Yale, Al Simmons of Colgate and Ed Jannotta of Princeton.

Maines Cagers Defeat Shaw's

John Woolsey and Bob Maines bucketed 16 points apiece to lead Maines Sport Shop to a 46-32 triumph over Shaw's Grocery in a Recreation League contest at the MJM gym.

The Maines cagers piled up an early lead and were in front at the half, 28-11.

Neil Keyser was top Shaw scorer with 9 points.

Blakely, Poughkeepsie; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth DuBois, New Paltz and Mrs. Thompson, matron. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gertrude Coulter, assisted by Mrs. Transeau and Mrs. Schmalkuche.

Will Retire After Two

Los Angeles, Dec. 4 (AP)—A letter from grandma says she plans to rob a couple more banks. The gun toting old gal figures that will set her soldier son, now in Korea, up in business when he gets home. During the past seven weeks, grandma has held up three banks and escaped with about $4,000. An agent of the FBI reported receipt of a letter yesterday and expressed a view that it's authentic. He declined to release the text, but said grandma announced plans to rob two more banks—she didn't say when or where—and then retire from banditry.

Cut to Protect Solvency

London, Dec. 4 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill announced today Britain will cut back her defense effort to protect her financial solvency. He stressed, however, that this "decision in no way implied any weakening in Her Majesty's government's determination * * * to take its full part in the effort of the North Atlantic Alliance." He said that last year defense cost Britain 1,462,000,000 pounds ($4,093,600,000). The same amount of defensive equipment this year will cost 1,650,000,000 pounds and next year 1,800,000,000 pounds. Inflationary factors account for the rise.

THE LITTLE PEOPLE'S CHRISTMAS — SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT — By WALT SCOTT

Advise Careful Planning of Study

Warning that a change of course is allowed only once under the Korean GI Bill, two officials at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency today urged ex-servicemen to be especially careful in considering choice of a training program.

The two, State Veteran Counselor Donald Moore and Director Howard Shurter, added that the educational benefits of the new GI bill are designed to help veterans into a normal program where they can make their own way and to reach a definite, identified goal. Before a post-Korean veteran even applies for training under the new GI bill, he should have clearly in mind just what his goal in life might be.

Moore and Shurter advised veterans who are uncertain about their objective, or about the type of training needed to reach their goal, would do well to talk over their problems with a competent veteran adviser by visiting the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main street. They pointed out that the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and its network of counseling services is designed to insure that every veteran know what helps are available and to what extent they may be utilized.

The deadline for starting—for a veteran discharged from service before August 20, 1952—is August 20, 1954. Other veterans, discharged later, will have two years after their release from active duty in which to begin.

Training under the Korean GI Bill is available to veterans who served, any place in the world, after the outbreak of fighting in Korea on June 27, 1950. They must have a discharge or release under conditions other than dishonorable, as well as at least 90 days total service, unless discharged sooner because of a service-connected disability.

Seek Israel Re-Entry

Bombay (AP)—Fifty-eight of the 128 Indian Jews who returned from Israel last August charging racial discrimination have petitioned Prime Minister Ben Gurion for permission to resettle in Israel. The dark-skinned emigrants to Israel made news when they started a hunger-strike to compel Israeli authorities to send them back to India. Now they have called for financial assistance for a second attempt at integration in the Jewish homeland.

War-Casualty Ship

Singapore, (AP)—A salvage company has raised the barnacle and mud-covered hulk of the Japanese ship, Zenya Maru, off Singapore. The wreck has a large hole in its side big enough to hold three three-ton trucks, Capt. W. A. Doust, general manager of the salvage firm, said. No records exist as to how it was destroyed during the war. The ship will be broken up here and its steel used for building construction.

Weise, Anner Hurt As Their Car Skids

August Weise of 19 Main street was reported to be in "fair" condition at the Benedictine Hospital today.

Weise, a tailoring instructor at Wallkill State Prison, and James E. Anner of Hurley, welding instructor, were injured Wednesday morning when the automobile in which they were riding skidded off the road a short distance from the prison entrance from Route 209, prison authorities reported today. Both men were thrown from the vehicle after it struck several guard posts and went into a ditch, according to the report.

Anner was released after treatment at the hospital. He suffered a dislocated shoulder and chipped bone, according to a report made to the prison warden. Weise, the report stated, suffered possible skull fracture and other injuries.

Are in Agreement

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said today he and President Truman are in complete agreement not to wage war on Dwight Eisenhower's program simply for party advantage. And, he told reporters at a White House news conference, the Democratic party's two major problems are: (1) to wipe out a deficit of more than half a million dollars and (2) to "serve the public interest."

It was voted to purchase tables for the dining room from proceeds of the merchandise club with the following committee in charge: Mr. and Mrs. John C. Blakely, Poughkeepsie; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth DuBois, New Paltz and Mrs. Thompson, matron. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gertrude Coulter, assisted by Mrs. Transeau and Mrs. Schmalkuche.

Will Retire After Two

Los Angeles, Dec. 4 (AP)—A letter from grandma says she plans to rob a couple more banks. The gun toting old gal figures that will set her soldier son, now in Korea, up in business when he gets home. During the past seven weeks, grandma has held up three banks and escaped with about $4,000. An agent of the FBI reported receipt of a letter yesterday and expressed a view that it's authentic. He declined to release the text, but said grandma announced plans to rob two more banks—she didn't say when or where—and then retire from banditry.

Cut to Protect Solvency

London, Dec. 4 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill announced today Britain will cut back her defense effort to protect her financial solvency. He stressed, however, that this "decision in no way implied any weakening in Her Majesty's government's determination * * * to take its full part in the effort of the North Atlantic Alliance." He said that last year defense cost Britain 1,462,000,000 pounds ($4,093,600,000). The same amount of defensive equipment this year will cost 1,650,000,000 pounds and next year 1,800,000,000 pounds. Inflationary factors account for the rise.

THE LITTLE PEOPLE'S CHRISTMAS — SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT — By WALT SCOTT

Advise Careful Planning of Study

Warning that a change of course is allowed only once under the Korean GI Bill, two officials at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency today urged ex-servicemen to be especially careful in considering choice of a training program.

The two, State Veteran Counselor Donald Moore and Director Howard Shurter, added that the educational benefits of the new GI bill are designed to help veterans into a normal program where they can make their own way and to reach a definite, identified goal. Before a post-Korean veteran even applies for training under the new GI bill, he should have clearly in mind just what his goal in life might be.

Moore and Shurter advised veterans who are uncertain about their objective, or about the type of training needed to reach their goal, would do well to talk over their problems with a competent veteran adviser by visiting the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main street. They pointed out that the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and its network of counseling services is designed to insure that every veteran know what helps are available and to what extent they may be utilized.

The deadline for starting—for a veteran discharged from service before August 20, 1952—is August 20, 1954. Other veterans, discharged later, will have two years after their release from active duty in which to begin.

Training under the Korean GI Bill is available to veterans who served, any place in the world, after the outbreak of fighting in Korea on June 27, 1950. They must have a discharge or release under conditions other than dishonorable, as well as at least 90 days total service, unless discharged sooner because of a service-connected disability.

Seek Israel Re-Entry

Bombay (AP)—Fifty-eight of the 128 Indian Jews who returned from Israel last August charging racial discrimination have petitioned Prime Minister Ben Gurion for permission to resettle in Israel. The dark-skinned emigrants to Israel made news when they started a hunger-strike to compel Israeli authorities to send them back to India. Now they have called for financial assistance for a second attempt at integration in the Jewish homeland.

War-Casualty Ship

Singapore, (AP)—A salvage company has raised the barnacle and mud-covered hulk of the Japanese ship, Zenya Maru, off Singapore. The wreck has a large hole in its side big enough to hold three three-ton trucks, Capt. W. A. Doust, general manager of the salvage firm, said. No records exist as to how it was destroyed during the war. The ship will be broken up here and its steel used for building construction.

Owls are not closely related to hawks and eagles.

Weise, Anner Hurt As Their Car Skids

August Weise of 19 Main street was reported to be in "fair" condition at the Benedictine Hospital today.

Weise, a tailoring instructor at Wallkill State Prison, and James E. Anner of Hurley, welding instructor, were injured Wednesday morning when the automobile in which they were riding skidded off the road a short distance from the prison entrance from Route 209, prison authorities reported today. Both men were thrown from the vehicle after it struck several guard posts and went into a ditch, according to the report.

Anner was released after treatment at the hospital. He suffered a dislocated shoulder and chipped bone, according to a report made to the prison warden. Weise, the report stated, suffered possible skull fracture and other injuries.

Are in Agreement

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said today he and President Truman are in complete agreement not to wage war on Dwight Eisenhower's program simply for party advantage. And, he told reporters at a White House news conference, the Democratic party's two major problems are: (1) to wipe out a deficit of more than half a million dollars and (2) to "serve the public interest."

The Weather

THURSDAY, DEC. 4, 1952

Sun rises at 6:56 a. m.; sun sets at 4:13 p. m., E.S.T.
Weather, clear.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 19 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 37 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—Fair this morning, increasing cloudiness later today, high in low 40's. Cloudy tonight, followed by rain in city and rain or snow changing to rain in northern suburbs. Low, upper 30's city, 32 to 35 northern suburbs. Friday rain, high in mid- to upper 40's.

Eastern New York—Increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight, with low 20 to 25; Friday, cloudy with some sleet or snow likely, possibly mixed with rain by night.

The city engineer's weather records today showed a temperature of 28 degrees at 10 a. m., a barometric pressure of 30.10 inches, a humidity of 92 per cent, and a north wind with a velocity of five miles an hour. The high temperature yesterday was 39 at 3 p. m., and the low was 25 at 8 a. m. The mean temperature was 32 and the normal is 33. The humidity was 97 at 4 a. m., and 70 at 2 p. m. The barometric pressure was 30 at 10 p. m., and 29.85 at 2 a. m. The velocity of a northeast wind was 16 miles an hour.

Rain, Snow, Cloudy Weather Forecast

(By The Associated Press)

More rain, snow and overcast skies was the weather picture over wide areas of the nation today.

The chief area of precipitation extended from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border between the Mississippi river and the central plains. It was drizzle and rain as far north as Iowa and thunderstorms in Arkansas and eastern Texas, freezing drizzle in southern Wisconsin, most of Iowa and southern Minnesota and snow in the Dakotas. Nearly three inches of rain fell in Little Rock, Ark.

Another surge of Pacific moisture brought showers and rain along the Oregon and Washington coasts, while light snow fell in parts of Wyoming and Colorado.

There were no cold spots. Some warming was reported along the Gulf coast west of the Mississippi and it also was a little warmer from the Mississippi eastward to the Atlantic coast except over Georgia and along the coast from northern Florida to North Carolina. Yesterday's top reading was 81 in Brownsville, Tex.

Business Is Sold

Albert J. Gibson, who has operated Gibson's Restaurant in the Crown Street Bus Terminal for several years, has sold the business to Emil Braun of Glenford. Braun, who formerly conducted a store at West Hurley, will take possession on Monday. Gibson, who has been engaged in the restaurant business in Kingston for many years, said he anticipated "taking rest" for a time before again engaging in any business.

Warning Is Given On Holiday Fires

The National Board of Fire Underwriters, he said cautions that this is the time for special fire safety measures, because stores are filled to capacity with customers and valuable merchandise.

Should Be Cautious

Cartons and waste materials accumulated from unpacking, he said, should be disposed of several times a day, back rooms and cellars should be cleared, and smoking should be allowed only under controlled conditions.

Aisles and exits should be kept clear, and clerks should be drilled in the use of extinguishers.

Decorations should be nonflammable and all should be kept away from light bulbs. Qualified electricians should be employed to wire extensions, and fuses should be checked to determine if they are of the proper size for the circuits they protect.

Rain, Snow, Cloudy Weather Forecast

(By The Associated Press)

More rain, snow and overcast skies was the weather picture over wide areas of the nation today.

The chief area of precipitation extended from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border between the Mississippi river and the central plains. It was drizzle and rain as far north as Iowa and thunderstorms in Arkansas and eastern Texas, freezing drizzle in southern Wisconsin, most of Iowa and southern Minnesota and snow in the Dakotas. Nearly three inches of rain fell in Little Rock, Ark.

Another surge of Pacific moisture brought showers and rain along the Oregon and Washington coasts, while light snow fell in parts of Wyoming and Colorado.

There were no cold spots. Some warming was reported along the Gulf coast west of the Mississippi and it also was a little warmer from the Mississippi eastward to the Atlantic coast except over Georgia and along the coast from northern Florida to North Carolina. Yesterday's top reading was 81 in Brownsville, Tex.

Business Is Sold

Albert J. Gibson, who has operated Gibson's Restaurant in the Crown Street Bus Terminal for several years, has sold the business to Emil Braun of Glenford. Braun, who formerly conducted a store at West Hurley, will take possession on Monday. Gibson, who has been engaged in the restaurant business in Kingston for many years, said he anticipated "taking rest" for a time before again engaging in any business.
